TO

HIS MAJESTY:

EXTRACTED FROM THE VOTES,

Veneris, 11° die Julii, Anno 40° Georgii 3tii Regis, 1800.

Most Gracious Sovereign,

WE, YOUR MAJESTY'S moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Commons of Great Britain in Parliament aſſembled, having taken into our Conſideration the State of the Public Records of this Kingdom, and the Neceſſity of providing for the better Arrangement, Preſervation, and more convenient Uſe of the ſame, humbly beg leave to lay before Your Majeſty the Report of our Proceedings thereon; and to repreſent to Your Majeſty, that in ſeveral of the Principal Offices we have found the Public Records preſerved with great Order and Regularity, and in ſome few, with a Method and Care which are exemplary; but that, in many of the moſt important Offices, they are wholly unarranged, undeſcribed, and unaſcertained; that ſome of them are expoſed to Eraſure, Alteration, and Embezzlement, and others are lodged in Places where they are daily periſhing by Damp, or incurring a continual Riſk of Deſtruction by Fire.

A Period of nearly Seventy Years has elapſed ſince the laſt General Parliamentary Inquiry upon this Subject; and, during this Interval of Time, the Change which has taken place in the Language and written Character of Judicial Proceedings, as well as the large Accumulation of Materials which has been progreſſively ſuperadded in every Department, have increaſed the Difficulties of methodizing the ſeveral Repoſitories, or applying their Contents to Purpoſes of practical Uſe.

In the Courſe of our Inquiry we have found that many of the Public Buildings allotted to theſe Uſes, and eſpecially thoſe Buildings which belong to Your Majeſty's Exchequer in all its Branches, comprehending the ancient Records and Muniments of the Rights and Poſſeſſions of the Crown, and the Vouchers and Accounts of the Public Revenues and Expenditure, are in a State ſo incommodious and inſecure, as to require immediate Attention.

It has alſo appeared to us, that the ſalutary Meaſures heretofore adopted by Your Majeſty's Authority, for methodizing the Contents of ſome of the principal Repoſitories of Your Majeſty's Records and Papers of State, might alſo be extended to many other Repoſitories, with Conſequences highly beneficial to the Public Service.

And the ſame Motives which encouraged our Predeceſſors to intreat Your Majeſty's Directions for printing the ancient Records of Domeſday, and the Rolls of Parliament, have alſo induced us to ſubmit to Your Majeſty's Wiſdom, our Deſire of extending the ſame Meaſure to other ancient and valuable Monuments of our Hiſtory, Laws, and Government.

Your faithful Commons do therefore moſt humbly beſeech Your Majeſty, that You will be graciouſly pleaſed to give ſuch Directions as Your Majeſty, in Your great Wiſdom, ſhall think fit, for the better Preſervation, Arrangement, and more convenient Uſe of the Public Records of this Kingdom.

And we beg leave further to aſſure Your Majeſty, that whatever extraordinary Expenſes may be incurred by the Directions which Your Majeſty, in Your great Wiſdom, ſhall think fit to give on this Occaſion, ſhall be chearfully provided for and made good by Your faithful Commons.

Mr. Chancellor of the Exchequer reported to the Houſe, That their Addreſs of Friday laſt (that His Majeſty would be graciouſly pleaſed to give ſuch Directions as He ſhall think fit, for the better Preſervation, Arrangement, and more convenient Uſe of the Public Records of this Kingdom; and to aſſure His Majeſty, that whatever extraordinary Expenſes may be incurred by the Directions which His Majeſty ſhall think fit to give on this Occaſion, ſhall be made good by His faithful Commons) had been preſented to His Majeſty; and that His Majeſty had commanded him to acquaint this Houſe, that He will give Directions as deſired by the ſaid Addreſs.

COMMISSION

For executing the Meaſures recommended by the House of Commons respecting the PUBLIC RECORDS OF THE KINGDOM.

GEORGE R.

GEORGE THE THIRD by the Grace of God King of Great Britain, France, and Ireland, Defender of the Faith, &c.

To Our right truſty and right entirely beloved Couſin and Councillor William Henry Cavendiſh Duke of Portland, Knight of the moſt noble Order of the Garter; Our right truſty and well beloved Councillors William Wyndham Baron Grenville, and Henry Dundas, Eſquire, Our Three Principal Secretaries of State; Our right truſty and well beloved Councillors Henry Addington, Eſquire, Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, William Pitt, Eſquire, Chancellor and Under Treaſurer of Our Exchequer, and Firſt Commiſſioner of Our Treaſury, Sir Richard Pepper Arden, Knight, Maſter of the Rolls; Frederick Campbell, Eſquire, commonly called Lord Frederick Campbell, Our Clerk Regiſter of Scotland, Sylveſter Douglas, Eſquire, one of the Commiſſioners of Our Treaſury, Our truſty and well beloved Sir John Mitford, Knight, Our Attorney General, Sir William Grant, Knight, Our Solicitor General, Robert Dundas, Eſquire, Our Advocate for Scotland, and Charles Abbot, Eſquire; Greeting.

WHEREAS the Knights, Citizens, and Burgeſſes and Commiſſioners of Shires and Boroughs, in Our Parliament of Great Britain aſſembled, having taken into their Conſideration the State of the Public Records of this Kingdom, and the Neceſſity of providing for the better

Arrangement,

Arrangement, Preſervation, and more convenient Uſe of the ſame; have humbly laid before Us a Report of their Proceedings thereon; and have alſo humbly repreſented unto Us, that the Public Records of the Kingdom are in many Offices unarranged, undeſcribed, and unaſcertained; that many of them are expoſed to Eraſure, Alteration, and Embezzlement, and are lodged in Buildings incommodious and inſecure; and that it would be beneficial for the Public Service, that the Records and Papers contained in many of the principal Offices and Repoſitories, ſhould be methodized, and that certain of the more ancient and valuable amongſt them ſhould be printed; and have humbly beſought Us that We would be graciouſly pleaſed to give ſuch Directions thereupon as We in Our Wiſdom ſhall think fit.

Now know ye, That We, conſidering the Premiſes, and earneſtly deſiring more effectually to provide for the better Arrangement, Preſervation, and more convenient Uſe of the ſaid Records and Papers, and repoſing great Truſt and Confidence in your Fidelity, Diſcretion, and Integrity:

Have authorized and appointed, and by theſe Preſents Do authorize and appoint you the ſaid William Henry Cavendiſh Duke of Portland, William Wyndham Baron Grenville, Henry Dundas, Henry Addington, William Pitt, Sir Richard Pepper Arden, Frederick Campbell (commonly called Lord Frederick Campbell), Sylveſter Douglas, Sir John Mitford, Sir William Grant, Robert Dundas, and Charles Abbot, and any Three or more of you, to make a diligent and particular Inquiry into the ſeveral Matters which Our faithful Commons have, in the abovementioned Report of their Proceedings, repreſented as fitting to be provided for by Our Royal Authority.

And furthermore, We do by theſe Preſents, give and grant to you Our ſaid Commiſſioners, and any Three or more of you, full Power and Authority to cauſe all and ſingular the Officers, Clerks, and Miniſters of the ſaid Offices and Repoſitories reſpectively, to bring and produce upon Oath before you, or any Three or more of you, all and ſingular Rolls, Records, Books, and Papers, or other Writings belonging to the ſaid Offices or Repoſitories, or any of them, or any Officers within the ſame, and which ſhall be in the Cuſtody of them or any of them reſpectively.

And Our further Will and Pleaſure is, That ye, or any Three or more of you, upon due Examination of the Premiſes, ſhall cauſe ſuch Matters to be duly and ſpeedily executed as ye ſhall judge fitting and proper to be done, for the more effectual Execution of the ſeveral Meaſures recommended by Our faithful Commons in the ſaid Report of their Proceedings relative thereto.

And to the end that Our Royal Will and Pleaſure in the Premiſes may be executed with the greater Regularity and Expedition, We farther by theſe Preſents will and command, and do hereby give full Power and Authority to you, or any Three or more of you, to nominate and appoint from Time to Time ſuch Perſon of Ability, Care, and Diligence, as ye ſhall think fit, to be and act as your Clerk or Secretary, for the Purpoſe of aiding you in the Execution of theſe Preſents; and alſo to nominate and appoint in like Manner ſuch ſeveral Perſons of Ability, Care, and Diligence, as ye may think fit, to be Sub-Commiſſioners, to be employed under your Direction and Controul in the Premiſes, and more eſpecially to methodize, regulate, and digeſt the Records, Rolls, Inſtruments, Books, and Papers, in any of Our Public Offices and Repoſitories, and to cauſe ſuch of the ſaid Records, Rolls, Inſtruments, Books, and Papers as are decayed, and in Danger of being deſtroyed, to be bound and ſecured; and to make exact Calendars and Indexes thereof; and to ſuperintend the printing of ſuch Calendars and Indexes, and original Records and Papers, as ye ſhall cauſe to be printed: Which ſaid Clerk or Secretary, and Sub-Commiſſioners, and every of them, ſhall and may be removed by you, or any Three of you, from Time to Time, at your Will and Pleaſure, full Power and Authority being hereby given to you to appoint others in their Places reſpectively.

And We further will and command, and by theſe Preſents ordain, That ye, or any Three or more of you, ſhall from Time to Time certify, under your Hands and Seals, unto Our Lord High Treaſurer, or unto the Commiſſioners of Our Treaſury for the Time being, what ſhall be a fit and ſuitable Recompence to the above-mentioned Clerk or Secretary, and Sub-Commiſſioners reſpectively, for their Pains and Services in the Execution of the Duties hereby required to be by them performed; which ſaid Recompence it is Our Will and Pleaſure ſhall thereupon be paid to them reſpectively and accordingly.

And

And Our further Will and Pleaſure is, That ye, or any Three or more of you, do and ſhall, on or before the 25th Day of March in the Year of our Lord 1801, and ſo from Year to Year, on or before the 25th Day of March in each Year reſpectively, ſo long as this Commiſſion ſhall continue in force, certify unto Us in Our Privy Council, under your Hands and Seals reſpectively, all and every of the ſeveral Proceedings of yourſelves and of the ſaid Sub-Commiſſioners had by virtue of theſe Preſents, together with ſuch other Matters (if any), as may be deſerving of Our Royal Conſideration touching or concerning the Premiſes, and what further Meaſures (if any) ye ſhall think fit to propoſe thereupon.

And laſtly, We do by theſe Preſents ordain that this Our Commiſſion ſhall continue in full Force and Virtue; and that ye Our ſaid Commiſſioners, or any Three or more of you, ſhall and may from Time to Time, and at any Place or Places, proceed in the Execution thereof and of every Matter and Thing therein contained, although the ſame be not continued from Time to Time by Adjournment.

Given at Our Court, &c. the 19th Day of July, in the Year of Our Lord 1800.

ORDER.

At a Board of the Commiſſioners appointed by His Majeſty for carrying into Execution the Meaſures recommended by the Houſe of Commons reſpecting the Public Records of the Kingdom, &c.

Holden at the Houſe of the Right Honourable The Speaker of the Houſe of Commons, the 22d Day of July 1800:

PRESENT,

The Right Honourable The Speaker of the House of Commons,
The Right Honourable Sylvester Douglas,
Sir John Mitford, Knight, His Majeſty's Attorney General,
Sir William Grant, Knight, His Majeſty's Solicitor General,
Charles Abbot, Eſquire:

It was Ordered, That the Secretary do write to the Truſtees of the Britiſh Muſeum, to expreſs the Deſire of this Board, that the Catalogue of the Harleian MSS. be reviſed, corrected, and printed, with proper Indexes of Perſons, Places, and Matters, and to acquaint them that the Commiſſioners will provide for the due Execution of the Work.

John Topham, Secretary.

THE

PREFACE,

GIVING

A GENERAL ACCOUNT

The HARLEIAN COLLECTION of MANUSCRIPTS.

THE great Repute in which the HARLEIAN COLLECTION of MANUSCRIPTS has for several Years past been held, not only in England but throughout Europe, the many useful Materials already drawn from its Stores, as well by Foreigners as our own Countrymen, and the Rank it justly claims amongst the most celebrated Libraries at present subsisting, have induced the learned World to express an Impatience for a more intimate Knowledge of its Contents. In order therefore to give the requisite Satisfaction, and that every Student may, with as little Inconvenience to himself as possible, be informed with what Helps this Treasury of Erudition will furnish him in promoting his Researches, the Catalogue, together with a copious Index, is now submitted to the Public: later perhaps than might have been expected; but as soon as the Nature of such an Undertaking, the Execution of the more pressing Trusts reposed in the Trustees of the BRITISH MUSEUM, and the Discharge of the several indispensable Duties incumbent on their Officers, would permit. The work must be left to speak for itself, as it would be improper in this Place to prejudice the Reader any further in its Favour, than by assuring him, that no Endeavours have been wanting to render it truly useful and instructive. But however requisite it may be to remain silent on that Head, it would be a gross and unpardonable Injustice to those who have been great Benefactors to the Public, to omit the present Opportunity of acknowledging, that the HARLEIAN MANUSCRIPTS, being placed in the British Museum, as an Addition to the COTTONIAN Library, to be consulted by the Curious, and for public Use to all Posterity [1], confer an Obligation on the Learned, for which they stand indebted to the generous and public spirited Offer made by the late Duke of Portland, and his Dutchess, only Daughter and Heiress of Edward Earl of Oxford, and to the Favour and Munificence of Parliament. An Event which hath not only united two very valuable Collections of ancient Manuscripts, but happily secured to this Country the most complete and extensive Fund of national Antiquities, that any Kingdom can boast.

THIS COLLECTION OF MANUSCRIPTS was begun towards the latter end of the last Century, by Robert Harley of Brampton Bryan, in the County of Hereford, Esq; who on the 11th of February 1700-1, was chosen Speaker of the House of Commons; on the 24th of May, 1711, was created Earl of Oxford and Mortimer; and five Days afterwards promoted to the important Station of Lord High Treasurer of Great Britain.

[1] See Act Anno 29 Geo. II. for establishing the British Museum.

An innate Love of Science, the exemplary Attachment of several of his Ancestors to Literature[1], and a strong Propensity to search into the Transactions of former Ages, had determined him, in the early Part of his Life, to purchase whatsoever curious Manuscripts he could meet with, more especially such as in anywise tend to explain and illustrate the History, Laws, Customs, and Antiquities of his native Country. Mr. Harley, in this Respect, adopting the Plan of the great Sir Robert Cotton, whose Name must always be mentioned with Honour, and whose Memory cannot fail of exciting the warmest Sentiments of Gratitude, while the smallest Regard for Learning subsists amongst us.

A Design so truly noble and commendable, was worthy of a Person of that Rank and Fortune, to which Mr. Harley arrived. His extensive Learning, and the Correspondence which he had cultivated, and constantly carried on with the Literati, both at Home and Abroad, were happily adapted to his executing it with Success.

But amongst the several Difficulties which occurred to his obtaining any considerable Number of rare Manuscripts, a very material, and seemingly insurmountable Obstacle, offered. The Reapers had already been in the Field, and gathered in a plentiful Harvest, so that little, if any Thing, seemed to be left to reward his Researches, except a few Gleanings accidentally scattered in obscure Corners.

That such a Presumption was not altogether ill founded, will appear by a short Review of the principal Manuscript Libraries now extant, and of the Labours of preceding Collectors of Manuscripts, as also by the Manner in which they respectively disposed of their literary Acquisitions.

It is well known, that until the Reign of King Henry VIII. Learning had been several Ages at a low Ebb, especially among the Laity in England; where the tumultuary State of the Nation, and the long Wars between the Houses of York and Lancaster, had found them Employment widely different from the Pursuit of Letters. Hence in this Kingdom, the two Universities, the Cathedral Churches, the Abbeys, and other Religious Houses, became the only Repositories of Books of Erudition. Even they were but scantily supplied: And it is probable that the greatest Part of such Books, as their Libraries were then furnished with, had been picked up with Difficulty, and by slow Degrees only, by Ecclesiastics, in their occasional Journies to Rome, and divers Parts of Europe. We have no Account transmitted to us of any considerable Number of valuable Books being, at any one Time, preceding the Reformation, introduced into England; except the Collections made by Order of Humphrey Duke of Gloucester, for his Library at Oxford, and the curious Greek Books brought hither by the Prelates, and other Dignitaries of that Church, after the taking of Constantinople; which Archbishop Warham soon after purchased and presented to New College.

Royal Library. King Henry VIII. soon after the general Dissolution of religious Houses founded the Royal Library for the Use of the Princes of the Blood, placing therein many choice MSS. collected by John Leland and others, out of the Spoils of the Monasteries[2].

Bodleian Library. Towards the End of Queen Elizabeth's Reign, Sir Thomas Bodley turned his Thoughts to the reinstating the public Library at Oxford, then in a ruinous Condition, and to the adorning it not only with printed Books, but with whatever Manuscripts could at that

[1] Many of the Family had shewn a remarkable Fondness for Books. His Grandfather, Sir Robert Harley, Knt. of the Bath, had at his Seat at Brampton Bryan Castle, a Library of Manuscripts and printed Books, collected from one Descent to another, and valued at 1,000l.—This, together with the Castle and Church of Brampton, &c. was, during the Troubles of King Charles the First, destroyed by the Parliament Army, and renewed by his Son Sir Edward Harley, Knight of the Bath.

[2] This Library was afterwards considerably augmented by his Successors, and is now preserved in the British Museum, by Order of his late Majesty K. George II.

Time

Time be procured. To this End he quitted the Court, and dedicated the Remainder of his Life, to the searching after and purchasing Books and Manuscripts at Home, while his Agents Abroad ransacked almost every Part of Europe for the like literary Supplies. By these Means he had the Satisfaction of furnishing that Library with One thousand two hundred and ninety-four rare MSS. which by the subsequent Liberality of William Earl of Pembroke, Sir Kenelm Digby, Archbishop Laud, Mr. Selden, Sir Thomas Roe, Lord Fairfax, Bishop Barlow, Franciscus Junius, Dr. Huntingdon, Sir Henry Savill, Dr. Pocock, Mr. Dodsworth, and others, were increased to Six thousand eight hundred and eighteen Volumes, exclusive of Eighteen hundred and ninety-eight deposited in the Ashmolean Museum.

Cottonian Library.

Bodley's great Cotemporary, Sir Robert Cotton, had been equally diligent in collecting ancient MSS. The Study of Antiquities, particularly those of this Kingdom, had engaged his Attention, though he always shewed a high Regard for every Part of philological Learning, in all which he was extremely conversant. He had observed with Regret, that the History, Laws, and Constitution of Britain, were in general very insufficiently understood; and being fully convinced, that the Preservation of such Monuments of Antiquity, and other Documents, as were conducive to render the Knowledge of them, and their Deductions from their primary State, more accurate and universal, would necessarily redound to the Advantage of the Public, he had, in an expensive and indefatigable Labour of upwards of Forty Years, accumulated those numerous and inestimable Treasures which compose the Cottonian Library, and now remain an indisputable Testimony of his benevolent Disposition towards his native Country.

But happily, these Patrons of Literature lived in an Age peculiarly favourable to the Completion of their respective Purposes, and more especially to those of the latter. The late general Dissolution of Religious Houses had dispersed an infinite Number of curious MSS. many of these were secured by the Nobility and Gentry[1]; but no inconsiderable Number falling into the Hands of Peasants, Mechanics, and other Persons ignorant of their Importance, and totally inattentive to their Preservation, were easily to be purchased. From this Source Sir Robert Cotton had supplied his Library with a Multitude of rare MSS. and to them Mr. Camden, Mr. Lambert, Dr. Dee, and Sir Christopher Hatton, had kindly contributed their Stores.

Libraries in the Two Universities; at Lambeth; and in the Heralds Office.

Matthew Parker, Archbishop of Canterbury, had before taken the same Opportunity of repositing a good Number of excellent MSS. both in the Public Library, and in that of Corpus Christi College in Cambridge: and many considerable Augmentations of the like Kind had been made to the Libraries of the several Colleges in the two Universities, as also to those of our Cathedral Churches, the Palace at Lambeth, and the College of Arms.

Arundelian Library.

Thomas Earl of Arundel had made large Collections of MSS. which afterwards were presented to the Royal Society, by his Grandson Henry Duke of Norfolk.

Libraries belonging to the Inns of Court.

Hengwrt.

The Inns of Court had procured, for their respective Libraries, divers excellent ancient Manuscripts, relating to the municipal Laws of this and the neighbouring Kingdoms; and Mr. Vaughan of Hengwrt had hoarded up, and perpetuated to his Family, most of the valuable Manuscripts relating to the Principality of Wales, and the History of the ancient Britons.

The Possessors of Lands heretofore belonging to Abbeys, Priories, &c. being apprized that the ancient Chartularies, Registers, Ledger-Books, and other Muniments of those Religious Houses, might be of infinite Use in discovering and evincing the various

various Rights, Privileges, and Immunities annexed to those Estates, had been industrious in collecting them, in order to their being religiously preserved amongst their other Family Evidences: And as a Taste for Letters increased, many curious Persons were vying with each other, in the Curiosities and other literary Furniture of their respective Libraries.

Vatican Library.

A similar Passion for collecting MSS. and forming as well private as public Libraries, had long displayed itself in many other Parts of Europe. Pope Sixtus the V. on his re-building the Vatican Library, in the Year 1588, had used his utmost Efforts to improve it, by the Addition of the most valuable MSS. His Influence had procured it large Supplies, and most of the succeeding Pontiffs, particularly Pope Clement XI[1]. having in that Respect followed his Example, their Agents and Dependents had, from Time to Time, interested themselves, and that with great Success, for its further Augmentation.

Other Libraries in Italy.

Large Collections of MSS. had been placed in the Archives of the Church of St. Peter, and in the following Libraries; viz. of the Fathers of St. Basil, the Dominicans of Sancta Maria Sopra Minerva, and the Palaces of Ottoboni, Chigi, Barberini and Altieri, at Rome; the Convents of St. Severini, Monte Cassini, Monte Oliveto[2], and St. John de Carbonara, at Naples; the Royal Palace, and the University of Turin; the Ducal Palace at Modena; the Ambrosian College at Milan; the Laurentian[3], Benedictine, and Dominican Convents at Florence; the Ducal Palace at Parma; St. Mark at Venice; the Canons Regular at Bologna; and in other Libraries in Italy.

Vienna Library.

Most of the Manuscript Collections made by the German Literati had been swallowed up by the Imperial Library at Vienna[4], which, after all the Monasteries in Austria, by the special Order of the Emperor Maximilian I. had been, as it were, pillaged of their Manuscripts, for its Enrichment, was further increased by the Acquisition of a great Part of the once celebrated Buda Library[5].

Other Libraries in Germany and the Netherlands.

Plentiful Supplies of the like Kind had been thrown into the Clementine College at Prague, the Ducal Library at Gotha, the Magistrates Library at Leipsic, and the Libraries of the Universities of Jena, Leipsic, and Leyden.

The Heidelberg Library, very famous on Account of the many fine MSS. wherewith it was replete, had been further greatly enriched a little before the Disturbance in Germany occasioned its being removed into the Vatican.

Royal Library at Dresden; and Library of Christina II. of Sweden.

No small Number of Manuscripts had been purchased for the Increase of the royal Library at Dresden. Queen Christina had not only possessed herself of the rich MS. Library of Petavius, and many choice Manuscripts taken by her Father, the great Gustavus Adolphus, from the Library of the royal Palace at Prague, and many Towns in Germany; but had even drained Sweden and the North of those numerous Manuscripts,

[1] Pope Clement XI. purchased and added to the Vatican moſt of the Oriental MSS. which were to be found in Egypt, when the Coptic Patriarch made an Overture for an Union between the Romish and Eastern Churches. See Father Asseman's Bibliotheca Orientalis Clementina Vaticana. Romæ 1719, &c. Folio.

[2] This Library was founded by Alphonso II.

[3] Founded Anno 1570 by Cosmo de Medicis, first great Duke of Tuscany, and dedicated to public Use by Pope Clement VII.

[4] Vide Lambecii Bibliotheca Vindobonensis.

[5] This Library was collected by Matthew Corvinus, King of Hungary, who died in the Year 1490, but was afterwards partly destroyed, and partly dispersed, by the Turks, when, under the Command of Solyman, they sacked Buda in the Year 1526.

that she carried with her to Rome, and which, after her Death, were divided between the Vatican and Ottoboni Libraries [1].

The French King's Library, from its first Institution by Francis I. had been continually and wonderfully increasing, and afterwards received an Augmentation of no less than Ten Thousand MSS. by the Procurement of Cardinal de Fleury, who incessantly exerted his utmost Endeavours for its further Supply. French King's Library.

The Religious Houses in Europe had always shewn a particular Zeal for the Possession of Manuscripts, and continued indefatigable in soliciting and encouraging their Patrons and Benefactors to search out the like valuable Treasures, and present them to their Libraries.

Such rare Books as were found in the several famous Seminaries of Literature in Africa, and brought into Spain, had, together with a great Number of Eastern Manuscripts, been collected, and lodged in the Escurial. Constantinople and Greece had been nearly exhausted of their Manuscripts by the European Travellers in those Parts; particularly by John Lascaris [2], for the Laurentian Medicean at Florence; by Cardinal Bessarion, for those numerous MSS. which he left by his Will to the public Library at Venice [3], by Leo Allatius, for the Barberini Library, and by the Abbé St. Sevin and others, for the Royal Library at Paris [4]. Escurial Library.

After so many Manuscripts had been thus secured in public Libraries, and such a Variety of Industry used for the Supply of those sacred Magazines of Learning, the Prospect of furnishing a new Library with any considerable Number of choice MSS. was very unpromising. But whatever Discouragements it might suggest to Mr. Harley, they were far from checking his Attempts. He resolved to persevere, and steadily pursue his Plan. He soon had the Satisfaction of finding his Endeavours attended with remarkable Success; for although the first considerable Collection which he purchased was in August 1705, we are assured by a learned Prelate of our Church [5] (who well knew) that in less than ten Years he had got together near 2500 curious and rare MSS. in different Branches of Literature; amongst which were those of Sir Simon D'Ewes the Suffolk Antiquary, Mr. John Stow, Author of the Survey of London, Mr. Charles, Lancaster Herald, and John Fox, the Martyrologist.

These unexpected and pleasing Acquisitions would alone have sufficiently encouraged a Person less devoted to the Love of Antiquity, than Mr. Harley, to continue the Pursuit with Vigour; but he met with still further and irresistable Inducements. Dr. George Hicks, the great Restorer of Northern Learning, Mr. Anstis, Garter King at Arms, Bishop Nicholson, Col. Worsley, Sir Gilbert Dolben, Mr. Prior, Dr. Stratford, Canon of Christ Church, Sir Thomas Hoby, Peter Le Neve Esq; and other eminent Antiquaries, not only offered him their Assistance in procuring MSS. but presented him with several which were extremely valuable. Thus excited, he determined to lose no Time in bringing to Maturity a Design which he had so successfully begun; and

[1] The Library of Queen Christina came, after her Death, to the Family of Ottoboni, of which Pope Alexander VIII. was the Head. He, in the Year 1691, placed nineteen Hundred of her MSS. in one of the Galleries of the Vatican Library, and gave it the Appellation of Bibliotheca Alexandrina, in Honour to the Memory of Christina, who had the additional Name of Alexandrina given her by Pope Alexander VII. when she abjured, before him, the Lutheran Religion.

[2] He was sent by Lorenzo de Medicis twice into Greece in search of ancient MSS.

[3] They consist of 980 Volumes, whereof 625 are Greek, and were for the most Part collected in Greece and Constantinople. We are told by Ciacconius, Jovius, and Fabricius, that the Cardinal was better skilled in ancient MSS. than any other Person of his Time. And the Cardinal himself, in one of his Letters, mentions that he spent all his Time and Fortune in collecting and transcribing the most scarce MSS. See the Preface to Græca S. Marci Bibliotheca Codicum Manuscriptorum—Venetiis 1740, Folio.

[4] He travelled into the East, by Order of Cardinal Fleury, to buy MSS. for the French King's Library.

therefore whilst engaged in the Service of the State, he was constantly attentive to the enlarging his Collection; and after his Retirement from public Business, spent the Remainder of his Days in an unwearied Application to the gaining further Accessions to his Library, not sparing any Costs necessary for that Purpose. He likewise kept many Persons employed in purchasing Manuscripts for him Abroad, giving them such written Instructions for their Conduct in that Respect, as sufficiently manifest the exact Knowledge he had acquired as well of every curious Manuscript, as of the Person, Circumstances, and Residence of its Possessor[1]. By these Means the Manuscript Library

[1] The Reader, perhaps, will not be displeased with the Perusal of one of these Instructions; the Original of which, now in the Possession of James West, Esq.; is as follows, viz.

" Mr. Andrew Hay,

" You being upon your Departure towards France and Italy, by my noble Lord's Order, I give you this Commission; not " now expecting that you can execute every Part of it in this Journey, but yet hoping that you will dispatch those Articles " which are of the greatest Importance, and put the others into a proper Posture, against the Time of your next Return " thither.

" In Paris, Father Bernard Montfaucon has some Coptic, Syriac, and other Manuscripts, worth the buying. Among them " is an old Leaf of the Greek Septuagint, written in Uncial or Capital Letters. Buy these, and the leaden Book he gave to " Cardinal Bouillon, if he can procure it for you, or direct you to it.

" In the Archives of the Cistertian Monastery of Clervaulx (or Clara-valle), I am told there are some original Letters, " or Epistles, written by the Hand of St. Hieromé upon Phylira, or Bark. One or more of these will be acceptable, if not " too outrageously valued.

" The Duke of Savoy has many Greek MSS. as also the Egyptian Board, or Table of Isis, adorned with Hieroglyphics; " being that which have been explained by Pignorius, Kircherus, &c.——Let me have some Account of these.

" At Venice, buy a Sett of the Greek Liturgical Books printed there; I mean a Sett all of the First Edition, if they may " be had: if not, let us have the other. Buy also Thomassini Bibliothecæ Venetæ, in Quarto. Get a Catalogue of Mr. Smith's " MSS. there, and enquire how Matters go about Giustiniani's Greek MSS.——In the Booksellers Shops, &c. you may " frequently pick up Greek MSS. which the Greeks bring from the Morea, and other Parts of the Levant.

" Remember to get the Fragments of Greek MSS. you left with the Bookseller, who bought Maffeo's Library.

" The Family of Moscardi at Verona, have many valuable Antiquities; and among the Rest, four Instruments of the " Emperor Theodosius junior, (now imperfect) written upon Phylira. These must be bought, and especial Care taken of " them. The First begins,——dem relectis——The Second——ius vir in Ast——The Third ius vir in——The Fourth " ni Siciliensis.

" At Florence, the Dominicans, or Franciscans, have a large Collection of Greek MSS.—You may see them, and get a " Catalogue of them, if you can. Buy Ernstius, or some other Catalogue of the Grand Duke's MSS.

" At Milan, in the Ambrosian Library, is a very ancient Catullus; Part of Josephus in Latin, written upon Bark. A " Samaritan Pentateuch in Octavo, Part of the Syriac Bible, in the Ancient, or Estrangele Characters; divers Greek MSS. in " Capital Letters, being Parts of the Bible; with other Books of great Antiquity, both Greek and Latin. You may look " upon them, and send me some Account.

" At Monza, (about ten Miles from Milan) is an imperfect Antiphonarium Gregorii I. Papæ—It is all written upon purple " coloured Parchment, with Capital Letters of Gold.—Buy this if you can.

" The Family of Septata, at Milan, have a Latin Writing upon Bark.—Buy this, if it will be parted with.

" In the Archives of the Church of Ravenna, are divers Instruments written upon Bark.—You may see them.

" At Rome, the Greek Monks of St. Basil have very many old Greek MSS. written in Capitals, particularly a Book of the " IV Gospels, and some Pieces of St. Gregory Nazianzen upon St. Paul's Epistles. Buy as many as you can, for I hear they " are poor, and therefore they may sell the cheaper. They have likewise a Greek Charter of Roger, King of Sicily, in five " Pieces, together with some other Instruments in Greek, written upon Bark, or Vellum. Buy these also, if you can.

" The Fathers of the Oratory at Rome (Monasterium Vallicellanum) have many very ancient MSS. both Greek and Latin. " See them at least, even supposing that they will not sell.

" In the Cathedral Library at Pisa, are many ancient MSS. Let me have some Account of these also.

" The Monks of Bovio (in Monasterio Bobiensi, near, if not in Pavia) have many very ancient MSS, and among the Rest " a Book of the Gospels in Latin, wherein St. Luke is written LUCANUS.—They have many old Deeds in their Archives. " —Buy what you can.

" At Cava (about a Day's Journey from Naples) is a Benedictine Monastery. In the Archives, or Treasury, is a Greek " Deed of Roger, King of Sicily, with his Golden Seal appendant. Buy this, if you can. In the Library are some old MSS. " See them at least, if you cannot buy.

" At Naples, in the Library of the Augustin Friars of St. John de Carbonara, is a Greek MS. of the Gospels (or of Homilies " upon the Gospels) all written in Capitals with Letters of Gold, upon purple Parchment. This must be bought. There is " also a Dioscorides in Greek Capitals; being a large Book with Figures of the Plants, &c. This must also be bought. There " is also a good Number of other ancient MSS. both Greek and Latin, among the latter is an Hieronimus de Scriptoribus " Ecclesiasticis in Saxon Letters; and the Gospels in Latin, where St. Luke is called LUCANUS. Buy of these what you can.

" If the Greek Manuscripts of the Monastery of St. Savior, near Messina in Sicily, or any of them, do remain there yet, or " in that Neighbourhood, as it is probable they may, notwithstanding the late Wars, they will doubtless come exceeding " cheap. You will enquire however how this Matter stands.

" Pray

Library was, in the Year 1721, increased to near six thousand Books; fourteen thousand Original Charters; and five hundred Rolls [1].

This great Encourager of Literature, died on the 21st of May 1724. [2]

His Son Edward, LORD HARLEY, the Inheritor of his Honours and Fortune, with equal Firmness and Perseverance, pursued the Plan; and with incessant Assiduity, and at an immense Expence, inlarged the Collection, so that at his Decease, which happened on Tuesday the sixteenth of June, 1741, the Manuscript Library consisted of near eight thousand Volumes. But many of them being composed of several distinct and independent Treatises, the Number of Books, separately considered, may be reckoned to amount to upwards of ten thousand; exclusive of several curious loose Papers, which have been since sorted and bound up in Volumes; and above Forty thousand original Rolls, Charters with their Confirmations, Letters Patent, Signs Manual, Privy Seals, Grants, Feoffments, final Concords, Exchanges, Warrants, and other Deeds and Instruments of great Antiquity, for the most Part relating to Great Britain and Ireland.

That the principal Point, which the noble Founders of this Treasury of Learning had in View, was the Establishment of a MS. English Historical Library, and the rescuing from Oblivion and Destruction, such valuable Records of our National Antiquities, as had escaped the Diligence of former Collectors, is indubitable. But it cannot be inferred that they confined their Views to that Object alone, or were in the least Respect inattentive to others. The contrary is evident. The great Number of Biblical, Theological, and Philological Books wherewith the Collection abounds, are Instances of their Lordships' Plan being more extensive. An Inspection of the Catalogue will afford other unquestionable Proofs of the laudable Efforts which were exerted, in order to furnish the HARLEIAN LIBRARY with Manuscripts in every useful Science.

To give a critical Account of the rare and curious MSS. preserved in this admirable Repository; to point out their respective Excellencies; to select their most remarkable Passages; and to enter into a circumstantial Detail of their several Histories; would not only exceed the proper Bounds of a Preface, but prove a Task infinitely too difficult for any one Person who should presume to attempt it. Here therefore it must suffice; to give the Reader a general Idea of the Contents of the Collection, briefly and occasionally only, particularizing some Books of the most approved Value and Curiosity

I. BIBLES AND BIBLICAL BOOKS, of which the Library furnishes upwards of Three Hundred Copies in the Hebrew, Chaldee, Greek, Arabic, and Latin, many of them of good Note for their great Antiquity, and in other Respects extremely valuable. Bibles and Biblical Books.

" Pray Sir, all along in your Journey, endeavour to secure what Greek MSS. and Latin Classical MSS. you can, provided " they come at reasonable Prices: and let me be favoured with an Account of your Proceedings as often as may be convenient.

" Mr. Hay,

" In executing this Commission, my noble Lord cannot give you positive Direction how to bid upon every Occasion, by " Reason of this his great Distance from those Parts; and must therefore rely upon your Fidelity, your Prudence, your usual " Dexterity in Business, and your personal Affection to him. You will be sure always to buy as cheap as you can, for I " foresee that some of the Things his Lordship chiefly wants, or is desirous of, will not come for a small Matter. In most " of the Monasteries you will be able to buy for Ready Money; but it may be at a cheaper Rate with the Greek Monks of " St. Basil's Monastery at Rome, whose MSS. are good, and themselves in want.

" I beseech God to bless and prosper you all along in this so long a Journey, and to bring you back again with Safety " and good Success; and you may be sure that you will be more welcome to but very few, than to

" Good Sir,

" Your very hearty Well-wisher,

" And most humble Servant,

" 26th April, 1720. " HUMPHREY WANLEY."

[1] Father Montfaucon's Letter to Mr. Wanley, dated the Nones of July, 1721. See Harleian Library, No. 3777.

[2] On a spare Leaf of one of the Manuscripts in this Library, Mr. Wanley hath made the following remarkable Entry. " 21st of May, 1724. To-day about Ten of the Clock, it pleased Almighty God, to call to his Mercy from this trou- " blesome World, the Right Honourable ROBERT EARL OF OXFORD, the Founder of this Library; who long had been " to me a munificent Patron, and my most kind and gracious Lord and Master."

Amongst

Amongst these are;

A Hebrew Bible several Hundred Years old; to which are prefixed the various Readings of the Eastern and Western Copies, a Syllabus of the Parashoths and Haphtaroths for the whole Year, and two remarkable Drawings in Gold highly embossed, of the sacred Vessels and Utensils of the ancient Jews [1528.][1]

A Hebrew Bible, with the small Masoretic Notes, illuminated and adorned with Miniature Paintings; written in the 14th Century [5710, 5711.]

Another Copy of the Hebrew Bible, coeval with the former; most elegantly written in three Quarto Volumes [5773, 5774, 5775.]

A Latin Bible, with St. Paul's Epistle to the Laodiceans, finely illuminated; written in the 11th Century, and formerly belonging to the Cathedral Church of Anjou [2833, 2834.]

Two pompous Volumes, containing a Latin Bible, with St. Jerom's Epistle to Paulinus, de omnibus divinæ Historiæ Libris, his Prologues, and Prefaces, and the Canons of Eusebius; written in the 12th Century, and formerly kept in the Church of Saint Mary and Saint Nicholas at Arinstein [2798, 2799.]

The Old and New Testament of the Vulgate Edition, elegantly written in the 13th Century, with the Psalter of the Gallican Version; Rabanus Maurus's Prefaces to his Commentaries on the Books of the Maccabees, and an Interpretation of the Hebrew Names; ornamented with most beautiful Miniatures, executed in a Taste far superior to what is usually found in Manuscripts of that Age [1297]. The Reading of the 8th Verse of the 5th Chapter of St. John's first Epistle, in this MS. is, Et tres sunt qui Testimonium dant in Terra, Spiritus, Aqua, & Sanguis; et hii tres unum sunt.

A Transcript of the Books of the Old and New Testament, written in the same Century, and contained in two pompous and illumined Volumes, formerly belonging to the Capuchin Convent at Montpelier. In this MS. the 7th Verse of the 5th Chapter of St. John's first Epistle is wanting; and the Legend of the 8th Verse is, Quoniam Tres sunt qui Testimonium dant in Terra, Spiritus, Aqua, et Sanguis, et Tres unum sunt [4772, 4773.]

A Copy of the Old and New Testament, with St. Jerom's Prologue to the Book of Job, written in Capitals, and of the 13th Century [2822.]

Another Copy, which heretofore belonged to the Church of St. Mary at Worms; finely illuminated and augmented with the Canons of Eusebius, St. Jerom's Epistle to Paulinus, and the usual Prologues, &c. written in the 13th Century [2803, 2804.]

The most complete Copy now extant of Peter de Riga's Versification of the Latin Bible, written in the 14th Century [747.]

Pentateuchs, &c.

A double Roll, containing the Hebrew Pentateuch; written with great Care in a very large Character, and without Points, or any Horns or Flourishes on the Tops of the Letters, on forty brown African Skins of different Sizes, some containing more Columns than others, and having a Space of about four Lines left between every two Books [7619.]

The Hebrew Pentateuch, with a Chaldee Paraphrase; and the Books of Canticles, Ruth, Lamentations, Ecclesiastes, and Esther; with the Commentaries of R. S. Jarchi, and Part of the Chaldee Interpretation of the Canticles, elegantly written in the 14th Century [5709.]

[1] N. B. This, and the following Numbers, refer to the MSS. as they are entered in the Catalogue.

A small

A small Roll, containing the Book of Esther in Hebrew, finely written in a very small Character, and by a Spanish Hand. [This Roll is not mentioned in the Catalogue.]

Part of the Book of Psalms, and the entire Books of Proverbs, Job, Daniel, Esdras, Nehemiah, Chronicles, Ruth, Ecclesiastes, Esther, and Lamentations, in Hebrew, written in the 12th Century [5715.]

Part of Exodus, and the whole Books of Leviticus, Numbers, Deuteronomy, Esther, Canticles, Ruth, Lamentations, and Ecclesiastes, in Hebrew, with the Haphtaroths; of the 14th Century [5706.]

A most pompous Copy of the first Part of the Latin Bible, as far as the Psalms; of the 9th Century [2805.]

The Books of Leviticus, Joshua, and Judges, in Latin, of the 10th Century [3806]. Two Copies of the Book of Job in Latin, one written in the 11th Century [2817], the other, with a Gloss, in the 12th Century [5233.]

A very fine Copy of the Books of Tobit, Judith, Ruth, and Wisdom, in Latin, with a Gloss, written in the 13th Century [4985.]

Two very noble Biblical Books, upwards of five hundred years old; being Part of a most richly illuminated Manuscript, the first Volume whereof, beginning at Genesis, and ending with Job, is preserved in the Bodleian Library (Arch. A. 154). They consist of Texts according to the vulgar Latin, selected from the Books of the Maccabees and New Testament, with the Subject of each Text, represented in an illuminated Picture, included in a pretty large Circle placed opposite thereto. Underneath each Text is likewise set down, in Latin, the Meaning of the same, according to the Opinion of the Author, who generally applies such Text to demonstrate the Benefits of a good Life, and the Punishments attending a bad one. These Explications are also represented in historical Paintings placed under the other; all columnatim, and the whole adorned with illuminated Ornaments [1526, 1527.]

New Testaments.

Three very fair Copies of the New Testament, of Wickliff's Translation, all written in his Time, and one of them, as is supposed, by his own Hand. To one of these Copies is prefixed a Calendar of the Lessons and Gospels, of all the Zeere. At the End thereof are the Epistles of St. Paul to the Laodiceans, and the Lessons and Epistles of the old Lawe, that ben red in the Chirche all the Zeer after the Use of Salisbury [4027, 2309, 327, 6333.]

Gospels in Greek.

The four Gospels in Greek, with the Canons of Eusebius, said in a Note, at the End of the MS. and in a Hand nearly coeval with it, to be the proper Hand-writing of King Theodosius the Great [5567.]

A most august Copy of the Greek Gospels, in Capitals, written in the 11th Century [5684.]

An ancient Transcript of the Greek Gospels, ornamented with great Variety of historical Paintings, and accompanied with an explanatory Treatise on the Evangelists and Evangelical Lessons, a Menology, the Canons of Eusebius written in illuminated blue and gold Letters, his Epistle to Carpian, the Preface of Irenæus, and another Preface taken from Cosma the Egyptian's Christianorum Opinio de Mundo, sive Topographia Christiana; allowed to be at least as old as the twelfth Century [1810], and still more remarkable, in regard, that neither this MS. nor Cosma's Book, had ever been seen by Dr. Mill, before he published his Edition of the Greek Testament[1]. It is said in a Note written on a spare Leaf, at the End of this MS. that it formerly belonged to a Monastery, which took its Appellation from the Prophet Elias.

A fair Copy of the Greek Gospels, written in the 11th Century, with the Pictures of the Evangelists painted on gold Grounds, and their Names written on the Margins in Arabic Characters [5647.]

Two other Copies of the Greek Gospels, written in the 12th Century [5777, 5776]; and another of the same Age, adorned with the Pictures of the Holy Virgin, and of the Evangelists [5731.]

An elegant Transcript of the IV Gospels in Greek, written in the 13th Century; illuminated and adorned with Paintings [5790.] and two others of the same Century [5559 and 5784.]

Latin Gospels.

A most venerable Exemplar of the four Gospels of St. Jerom's Version, with the Prefaces and Canons of Eusebius; the whole written in Capitals, and allowed to be twelve hundred Years old [1775]. In this MS. it is observable, that the Genealogy of our blessed Saviour appears to be distinct, and separated from St. Matthew's Gospel. The following Words in two Independent Lines, occurring after the 17th Verse of that Chapter:

Genealogia Hucusque,
Incip. evangl. secd. MATTH̄.

So that the Gospel begins at the 18th Verse of the first Chapter, in the same Manner as we likewise find it distinguished, in the famous Copy of the Evangelists written in Ireland, and in another MS. of the same Kind, and of the twelfth Century; which MSS. are both preserved in this Library [1802, 2795.][2] It is also observable, that the like Distinction or Separation of the Genealogy of our blessed Saviour, from the other Part of St. Matthew's Gospel, is made in the famous Copy of the four Gospels, formerly belonging to King Æthelstan, and now preserved in the Cottonian Library (Tiberius, A. II.) which Book was by him appointed to be used by the succeeding Kings of England, at the Time of their taking the Coronation Oath.

Latin Gospels in gold Letters.

A noble Exemplar of the four Gospels, in capital Letters of Gold, which in Point of Antiquity (being written in the eighth Century) as well as Elegance, greatly surpasess the Codex Aureus of the Escurial Library.[3] This Manuscript, for which Edward Earl of Oxford paid five hundred Pounds, may be said to vie in many Respects with any MS. of its Kind in the World. Every Page of the sacred Text of this inestimable Manuscript, consisting of two separate Columns, is enclosed within a Broad and beautifully illuminated Border. The Pictures of the Evangelists, with their symbolic Animals, are curiously painted in the Front of their respective Gospels; the initial Letter of each Gospel is richly illuminated, and so large as to fill an entire Page. To the whole are prefixed the Prologues, Arguments, and Breviaries; two Letters of St. Jerome to Damasus, the Canons of Eusebius, his Letters to Carpian, and a Capitular of the Gospels for the Course of the Year, all of them written in small golden Character [2788.]

[1] Since the printing Dr. Mill's Edition of the Greek Testament, the entire Works of Cosma have been published, together with some Pieces of St. Athanasius and Eusebius, by Father Montfaucon at Paris, in the Year 1706. Mr. Wanley hath given a very particular Account of this curious MS. in the Catalogue; which see.

[2] See the Catalogue, where Mr. Wanley treats largely on this MS. gives Specimens of the Writing, and compares the Reading with that of the Vulgate.

[3] The Spaniards hold the Codex Aureus in great Veneration, and look upon it as the finest Copy of the Gospels now extant; it is never shewn but with lighted Flambeaux and other Ceremonies. It appears to have been written in the Reigns of the Emperors Conrad and Henry II. his Son. Fran. de los Santos Hist. Escurial.

A Transcript

A Transcript of the Latin Gospels, with their usual Accompaniments; of the same Age with the last mentioned Manuscript, written in Letters of Gold, but of a small Alphabet; and remarkable for the singular Manner in which the Genealogy of our Saviour is placed [2797.]

An Exemplar of the Holy Gospels, likewise written in the 8th Century, and formerly belonging to the Church of St. Ciricius at Soissons. To this Manuscript are prefixed the Epistle to Damasus, and the usual Arguments, Prologues, &c. together with an Interpretation of Hebrew Names, a Catalogue of the Books and Vestments belonging to that Church, and a List of its Saints [2790.]

Other Gospels in Latin.

Two other Copies of the four Latin Gospels, also written in the 8th Century [2823 and 2826.] In the latter of these the reading of the 23d Verse of the last Chapter of St. John's Gospel is, Si sic eum volo manere donec veniam; and that of the 24th Verse is, Si eum volo manere.

Other Gospels.

The four Gospels of St. Jerome's Version, together with his Prologues, Arguments, &c. the Canons of Eusebius, and the parallel Passages, written in Letters of Gold in the tenth Century. This MS. is most gloriously illuminated and adorned with Pictures of the following Subjects painted on purple Grounds, viz. before the Gospel of St. Matthew, in a Circle, are, first, the Representation of our Saviour, sitting as enthron'd; holding in his right Hand the Book of the new Law, that of the old Law lying in his Lap; with the Four Evangelists in the Angles, kneeling. Secondly, our Saviour standing with St. John resting his Head on his Bosom. Thirdly, the Portrait of St. Matthew. And Fourthly, the Salutation of the Virgin. Before St. Mark's Gospel are the Portrait of that Evangelist and the Dormition of the Virgin Mary. At the Beginning of St. Luke's Gospel are his Portrait, and the Crucifixion of our Saviour. Before the Gospel of St. John, are the Picture of that Evangelist, and the Ascension of our Lord [2821.]

Two other Copies written in the same Century; one of them finely decorated with the Pictures of the Evangelists and St. Jerom; and having the Rubricks written in silver Letters [2820, 2830.]

A very fair and valuable Exemplar of the Latin Gospels of the Vulgate Edition, once belonging to the Abbey Church of St. Edmund's Bury; elegantly written in the 10th Century, but unhappily despoiled of the initial Leaves of the Gospels of St. Matthew, St. Luke, and St. John, by some flagitious Hand, probably for the Sake of the Illuminations with which they were embellished, as may be supposed from the Enrichments of the initial Words of St. Mark's Gospel still remaining. At the Beginning of this Volume is a Syllabus of the Evangelical Lessons, according to the Usage of the Roman Church: and at the End are inserted the memorable Contest between Gundulphus, Bishop of Rochester, and Picote, Sheriff of Grandebruge. William the Conqueror's grand Charter to the Abbey of St. Edmund's. A Bull of Pope Alexander; and various other Charters granted by King Canute, and William the Conqueror, to that Abbey [76.]

The Latin Gospels written with red Ink about the Beginning of the 11th Century, and in the Anglo Normanic Character. In this MS. the Genealogy of our Saviour is also detached from the other Part of St. Matthew's Gospel; as is likewise the first Part of the eighteenth Verse of the first Chapter, Christi autum Generatio sic erat. All the Rubricks are written in gold Capital Letters; and the initial Letter of each Gospel is also of gold, and fills an entire Page [2795.]

The Four Evangelists, written in the Irish Character, by Brigidianus, or Maol Brighte, for the Use of Gilla, Coarb, or Vicar of the Church of St. Patrick, supposed by Father Simon to be Eight hundred Years old; though Mr. Wanley will not allow it an earlier Date than the Twelfth Century. But whatever Difficulties may have arisen in ascertaining the exact Date of this curious MS. it is on all Hands acknowledged to be one of the most authentic Copies of the Latin Gospels, which the Irish have ever sent out of their Island. To this Exemplar are added, St. Jerome's Prologue of the Canons of the Four Gospels, an Explanation of such Hebrew and Syriac Names as occur in the Gospels, a Hebrew, Latin, and Irish Vocabulary, and the usual Prefaces, an interlineary Gloss, and a Catena Patrum [1802]. The Singularity of this MS. has induced Mr. Wanley to favour us, in the Catalogue, with a very accurate Account of it; and in a laborious and judicious Criticism to fix its true Age, and explode the Opinion of Father Simon, as well in regard thereto, as to the Characters in which it is written [a].

A Transcript of the Four Evangelists of the Latin Vulgate, with various Readings, is likewise written in Irish Characters, but not quite so old as the preceding, and wanting the Prefaces and Beginning of St. Matthew's Gospel, as far as the 25th Verse of the 23d Chapter [1023.]

Epistles.

The Epistles of St. Paul, the Catholic Epistles, and the Apocalypse, in Latin, with the Arguments, &c. above One thousand Years old; and from its Version differing in many Places from the modern Vulgate and St. Jerome's Translation. This MS. is supposed to be one of the old Latin Copies before the Corrections of St. Jerome were introduced. It is further observable, that the reading of the 8th Verse of the 5th Chapter of the first Epistle to St. John is in the Manuscript, Et tres sunt qui Testimonium dant in Terra, Spiritus, Aqua, et Sanguis, et Tres unum sunt [1772].[b]

The Book of Canticles, the Gospels of St. Matthew and St. Luke, St. Paul's Epistle to the Romans, the Epistles of St. James and St. John, and the Apocalypse of the Latin Bible; written for the most Part in the 9th Century [7551.]

A fine Copy of St. Paul's Epistles in Latin [2829], and another Transcript of the same, with the Acts and Catholic Epistles, both of the 11th Century [5557.]

St. Paul's Epistles in Arabic [5474.] The Canonical Epistles of St. Paul in Latin, with a Gloss, his Epistle to the Laodiceans, and an Exposition of the Gospel of St. John, written in the 12th Century [3131]; and another Copy of the Epistles of St. Paul of the same Age [5140.]

Psalters.

A Roman Psalter of St. Jerome, written about the Time of our King Edgar, illuminated; and each Psalm elegantly Embellished with a most curious historical Drawing illustrating the Text [603.] A Psalter, with the Litany, Calendar, &c. elegantly written; illuminated and decorated with beautiful Miniature Paintings, of the 11th Century [2895.] A most curious and finely preserved Psalter, in Greek, Latin, and Arabic, written in the 12th Century, as appears by the following Inscription on the Back of the Leaf. DMI. MCLIII. Ind. vij. Ianuarij die Octavo die Mercurij [5786.] King Henry III.'s Psalter, curiously illuminated; and written for his Use by Thomas de Langley [745.] A Greek Psalter, with sacred Hymns, of the 11th Century [5570.] An extreamly fine Greek Psalter of the 12th Century [5582]; and another of the same Age, one belonging to the Monks of Monte Oliveto [5571.] A Latin Psalter, with sacred Hymns, written in the 13th Century [5563.] Two Arabic Psalters, to One whereof are subjoined a Psalm composed on the slaying Goliah; and ten sacred Canticles extracted from the Scriptures [5469, 5476.] A Greek and Russian Psalter [5723.] A Sclavonic Psalter [3389.] An Exposition of the Psalter in Latin, illuminated, and most accurately written in a Hand of the 10th Century [4860]; and a great Variety of other valuable Transcripts of the different Biblical Books, written in the 10th, 11th, and 12th Centuries.

[b] See a full Account and Extract of this MS. by Mr. Wanley in the Catalogue.

II. CABBALAS, TALMUDS, AND TALMUDICAL BOOKS, TARGUMS, EXPOSITIONS, GLOSSES, AND COMMENTARIES on the Pentateuch, and other Books of the Old Testament, in Hebrew, Chaldee, &c. compiled by the most celebrated ancient, as well as later Rabbins. Amongst these are, a very fine Copy of Maimonides de Lege, in Hebrew, and without Points, written in the Year of our Lord 1472, by Salomon Ben Alzuk, [5698 and 5699;] and the Sepher a Misvot of Rabbi Moses Ben Jacob de Cosi; written in the beginning of the 15th Century [5700.] A very beautiful Transcript of Maimonides's Moreh Nebuchin, in Hebrew, without Points, written in small Characters by a Spanish Hand, and finely illuminated [5525.] An Exemplar of Three Tracts of Maimonides's, viz. de Fœminis, de Sanctitate, and de Votis et Juramentis, written by a German Hand in the 13th Century [5702.] A Transcript of R. Moses Maimonides's Sepher Moreh Nevochim, with R. Aben Tibonis Exposition of several Words therein; Sepher Messaret Moseh, Aben Ezrae Sepher, Arujat Amesima we Pardesa Hochma: and Sepher Aathalot le Abunatsar Alparachy; or Abunatsar Alparachy Principia; the Four last of which have not hitherto been printed: all elegantly written in small Hebrew Characters [5507.] R. Levi's Hebrew Commentary on Job, written in the 14th Century [5526.] An Exemplar of R. Moses Nachmanides, on the Pentateuch, in Hebrew, of the 13th Century [5702.] Sundry very elegant and Ancient Copies of the Liturgies of the German and other Jews; particularly a Liturgy, &c. of the German Jews, written in the 13th Century [5701.] The Machazor, or Office of Prayers, composed for their greater Feasts, differing from the common printed Liturgy, and written in the 14th Century [5714.] The Order of Prayer, in which the Rubricks are more ample than in the printed Books. Two pompous Volumes in Hebrew, the One containing penitential Prayers for the 40 Days before; and the other consisting of Prayers to be repeated on the Day of Expiation [7618, 7197.] With these are likewise most noble Transcripts of R. Jacob Ben Asher, and R. Ben Ezra's four Orders; containing all the Rites, Customs and Ceremonies as used by the Jews in their present Dispersion [5716, 7198.]

Cabbalas, Talmuds, Targums, Liturgies, &c. of the Jews.

III. Near 200 Volumes of the WRITINGS OF THE FATHERS OF THE CHURCH: particularly a Copy of Part of the Works of St. Hilary, written in the 9th Century, and formerly belonging to the Church of St. Mary and St. Nicholas of Arinstein [3115] A fine Transcript of St. Augustine's Sermons on the Gospel and first Epistle of St. John, written in the 12th Century, likewise belonging to the same Monastery [3114.] A beautiful Exemplar of the same Father's Discourses on the Book of Genesis, written in the 12th Century [3113;] and another, containing his Books De civitate Dei, & de Trinitate, written in the 13th Century [3111.] St. Chrysostom's Greek Homilies on the Epistle to Timothy, written in the 13th Century [5689.] The Works of St. Athanasius in Greek, of the 14th Century [5579.] The Homilies of St. Basil, Ephraim Syrus, and John Chrysostom, in Greek, written in the 14th Century [5639]; and another Copy of the same, with St. Gregory's Encomium on Sts. George and Marina, likewise of the same Age [5576.] As also ancient Councils, Canons and Constitutions Ecclesiastical, great variety of Annotations, Commentaries, Expositions, Harmonies of the four Gospels, Paraphrases, Histories of the Old and New Testament, &c. with a Multitude of Theological Treatises, many of which, notwithstanding the pious Labours of modern Divines, are highly worthy to be consulted.

Fathers, Councils, and Theological Treatises.

IV. LITURGIES AND LITURGICAL BOOKS, as the Liturgies of SS. Chrysostom, Basil, and Nazianzen, of which there are in this Collection two very fair Copies in Greek; one with the Prayers and Evangelical and Epistolical Lessons, written in the 11th Century [5561], and the other written in the 14th Century [5669.] The Liturgy of the Church of Syria [5460.] Two fair Volumes, containing the Samaritan Liturgy [5481, 5495.] The Russian Liturgy [5462.] The Liturgies of the Roman [2431, 2432,] and Greek Churches; particularly a most valuable Exemplar of that of the latter; wherein the several Offices, Chants, Hymns, and Antiphones, are marked with Greek musical Notes, according to the present usage of that Church [1613.] This truly valuable MS. was presented to Colonel Worsley by Notara, who was at that Time Metropolitan of Cæsarea, and afterwards Patriarch of Jerusalem.[1] A curious Liturgy, adorned with beautiful Paintings and Illuminations; which, from the Calendar of German Saints inserted in it, is supposed to have formerly belonged to some Church in Germany [1211.] The several Liturgies of the Church of England, &c.

Missals, Breviaries, &c.

V. MISSALS, BREVIARIES, and HOURS of the Holy Virgin, according to the Use of the Roman [2972], English [2846], and Gallican Churches [2929], Rituals, Ordinals, Books of Offices, Processionals and Graduals; many of them curiously illuminated, and richly adorned with fine historical Paintings. The most remarkable of these are, a Missal of the Church of Soissons, in Two Volumes, written in the 9th Century [2991, 2992.] The Missale Augustinae Ecclesiae finely painted and illuminated, of the 10th Century [2908.] A very ancient Missal written in large Capitals, with the Chants, Antiphones, and Responses prick'd with musical Notes; and containing special Masses for sundry Saints Days, and other particular Occasions, not to be met with in any other Book of that kind [1229.] A Roman Missal in Latin, but written in Syrian Characters; with the Rubrics in those of the Arabic [5512.] The Missal of the Church of Toul, in Lorrain, which, besides the exquisite Paintings with which it is ornamented, is remarkable for having in the Litany of Saints, after the three holy Archangels, one to the Angel Uriel; notwithstanding several Councils had strictly forbid the Invocation of more than the three first [2999.] A fine Copy of the Missale Moissiacense [2893]; and Missals according to the Use of sundry other Churches, as Salisbury [2785, 1797], St. Paul's London [2787], Durham [5289], Paris, &c. A Missal adorn'd with exquisite Paintings, wherein the Figures are represented of a larger Size than usual; and to which is added a Calendar, ornamented with several curious Miniatures, wherein the several Labours of the Farm and Vineyard throughout the Year are curiously delineated [2936.] A fine Transcript of the Ordo Romanus, written in the 11th Century [2906.] The Office of the Holy Virgin, with a Calendar finely illuminated, and decorated with Pictures, particularly those of Saints Michael, John Baptist, Christopher, Sebastian, Jerome Martin of Tours, Agnes, Barbara, and Margaret [2948.] Two Breviaries painted in a most exquisite Manner; to each of which is prefixed a Calendar finely decorated with Miniatures, of Saints, Country Sports, and Employments, &c. [2950, 5049.] As also many others. See [2787, 2989, 3000, 2974, 2835, 2975, 2985, 928, 5780, 2971, 2969, 6563, &c.]

Evangelistaria & Lectionaries.

VI. Ancient EVANGELISTARIA & LECTIONARIES, amongst which are an Evangelistarium, written in Greek Capitals in the 9th Century [5787.] An Evangelistarium, in Greek Capitals, written in the Year 995, by Constantine, Presbyter. The first Page thereof, and the References to the Chapters, are in Letters of Gold [5598.] Another Evangelistarium, adorned with Pictures of the four Evangelists finely painted, and the Rubrick written in Letters of Gold. At the End is a Certificate signed on the Tenth of March 1699, by Laurence Alexandar Zacagnius, principal Librarian of the Vatican to testify that this MS. was then upwards of 700 Years old [5785.] Three Evangelistaria, written in the 11th Century [2994, 2970, 5650]; one whereof belonged to the Canons of St. Simon at Treves, and hath inserted on the Back of the 16th Page thereof the Oaths usually taken by the Canons, Dean and Provost of that Church; and another of them is remarkable for being written on Parchment, from whence the Words of some other Book have been erased. A Lectionarium of the 10th Century, with Hymns, Collects, &c. in which the Responses are pricked to musical Notes [2961.] A very fair Examplar of the Lectionarium Moissacense, with the Responses set to Music, and finely written in the 11th Century [2914.] Another Lectionarium of the same Age, enriched with the Pictures of SS. Peter, Paul, James, and John; as also with the Figure of Jesse lying in his Tomb, with the seven Spirits issuing from his Body [5787.] As also an elegant illuminated Transcript of "Wickliff's Gospelis and Epistolis of all þe Festis in þe Zeer "by Ordre as þei ben red in the Messe Book' after þe Use of Salisbery [1710.]"

[1] Mr. Wanley has in the Catalogue of the Harleian MSS. given a very curious Account and Extract of this Liturgy.

VII. Store

VII. Store of MENOLOGIES, MARTYROLOGIES, and LIVES OF SAINTS; which, though they are to be read with great Caution; yet when divested of their fabulous and miraculous Parts, furnish genuine Matter of good Note, and not readily to be met with elsewhere. The Assistance which the Collections of this Sort, made by Bollandus, Papebroch, Tinmouth, Surius, Mabillon, and others, have afforded, is frequently acknowledged by the gravest and best writers on Church Affairs. Amongst these are a Greek Menology, written in the 11th Century [5557.] and another in the 12th [5581.] A most noble Passionale in three very pompous Folio Volumes, written in the 13th Century, and once belonging to the Church of St. Mary, and St. Nicholas, of Arinsteyn; containing, exclusive of the Life of Lewis Count of Arinsteyn, Founder of that Abbey, the Lives and Actions of no less than three hundred and thirteen Saints [2800.] Two Exemplars of the celebrated Martyrology of Usuardus the Monk [1], compiled by the express Command of the Emperor Charlemagne [2]. One of them is a very pompous Volume, with a Calendar prefixed, written in the 13th Century [3047;] the other, though of much meaner Appearance, yet is of more venerable Antiquity, being written in the 9th Century [3062:] This last mentioned Copy differs in several Respects from the former, and is probably the oldest Transcript of Usuardus now extant. In it the Martyrology begins on the VIIIth of the Calends of January, with the Festival of the Holy Virgins of Antioch; whereas the other [3047] sets out with the Festival of St. Almachius on the Calends of January. It likewise contains a Prologue prefixed to the Dedication of the Work to Charlemagne, wanting in the other, is throughout the whole much more correct than the former, and appears to be the genuine Work of Usuardus [3], before the Introduction of those Interpolations, which, soon after its being published, became frequent.

Menologies, Martyrologies, &c.

VIII. A Variety of other Books of RELIGION AND DEVOTION; particularly a very fine Copy of the Passio Christi secundum Evangelistas, with Prayers to God and several Saints, neatly written in Saxon Characters, and in the 8th Century [2965.] A Book of Prayers, Benedictions, and Exorcisms, in Latin, written in the 10th Century [2892]. Wickliff's Summary of the Books of the Old and New Testament, with their Authority and Use to Christian Men [1666.] His Postils [1730]; and his Notes on the Pater Noster, with sundry other Discourses [2385.] A miscellaneous Collection of distinct Pieces bound together; containing a Horology and Calendar, the Rules of St. Benet, ancient Statutes promulgated at Rome in the Year 917, and a Directory for conversing in Monasteries, all written in the 10th Century; and some other Tracts in a Hand of the 13th Century [5431.] A miscellaneous Volume of Prayers, Hymns, Litanies, &c. written in the 11th Century, and ornamented with curious Paintings [2928.] A Book in the Armenian Tongue, containing the Apostles Creed, a History of the Bible, and a Form of proper Confession to be used before taking the Holy Sacrament [5459.] A Translation into Persic of the History of our Saviour; written originally in the Portuguese Tongue, by Father Jerome Xaver [5455.] Prayers, and Manuals in the Hebrew, Latin, English, French, German, and Low Dutch. Ethiopic Prayers [5471.] Several Transcripts of the Alcoran, in Arabic, Persic, &c. and Commentaries thereon. A Collection of Mohammedan Prayers, written in the Persic and

Other Books of Religion and Devotion,

[1] He is sometimes called Usuardus. Trithemius and other German Writers call him Isuardus.

[2] The Emperor Charlemagne, being displeased that Jerome and Bede had, in compiling their Martyrologies, studied too much Brevity, and left several Days in the Calendar unnoticed, ordered Usuardus to supply those Defects; and he accordingly noting down the Festivals of Saints for every Day in the Calendar, compiled an entire new Martyrology, which he dedicated to that Emperor. In this Work, he in great Measure followed Florus; but was at the same Time extremely careful in correcting his Mistakes, and supplying his Omissions; as well as those of Jerome, Bede, and other Martyrologists.

Sigebertus Gemblacensis de Viris illustribus, Cap. 85. Usuardus in his Preface. Trithemius in his Catalogue.

[3] Usuardus's Martyrology being more generally used in the Churches than those of Jerome and Bede, every Church added something thereto; especially concerning the Saints and Festivals more particularly belonging to them. This gave Rise to what was afterwards called Jerome's fuller Martyrology; in the obtaining a Copy whereof, the Cronicon Casinense informs us, that Theobald, Abbot of Mont-Cassini, in the Eleventh Century, thought himself happy. Yet his Copy was no more than Usuardus, augmented. It was from some of these augmented Copies, that the Editions of Usuardus, printed at Lubeck in 1475, and at Cologn in 1521, were published: But the Edition of Molanus, printed at Antwerp in 1533, wherein he hath endeavoured to separate the genuine Work of Usuardus from the Interpolations, is the most correct. Had he seen the Harleian Copy, his Edition would have been more exact.

Turkish

Turkish Tongues. The Nadham, or Connection of Sentences contained in the Alcoran; with the Apoththegms of Mahommed [5511.] Three Books of Prayers in Arabic, two of them written in the African Character [5464, 5470, 5479.] Together with other Tracts on the Mohammedan Religion.

Topographical Description and Antiquities of England.

IX. So amazing a Number of curious and authentic Manuscripts, relative as well to the TOPOGRAPHICAL DESCRIPTION AND ANTIQUITIES of BRITAIN, AS TO THE CIVIL AND ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY OF THE KINGDOM, its Laws, Constitution and Government, that the Mine appears truly inexhaustible, and every Vein fully replete with the richest Stores.

First, For the Topographical Part; Histories and Surveys of several Counties, and the Customs of their Inhabitants; Memorials of the Founding and Incorporation of Cities, Towns, Boroughs, and Villages, with the most remarkable Events that have happened to each; their Antiquities and other Curiosities. Law Writers. &c.

Historical Accounts of, and Memoranda relating to, Baronies, Serjeancies, Knights-fees, and other Tenures. Copies of Escheat Rolls, Inquisitions post Mortem, Pleas of the Crown, &c. together with other Law Books in great Abundance.

Tenures.

Plenty of Treatises on the Institution, Establishment, and Jurisdiction of the Exchequer, Curia Regis, Common Bench, Courts of Wards and Liveries, Star Chamber, and Chancery, as also of the Courts Leet, Baron, Pye Powder, and other inferior Courts; the Forms and Methods of Proceedings in them respectively, and Accounts of their several Officers, Registers, and Records.

Courts and their Jurisdictions.

Discourses on the Antiquity, Jurisdiction and Authority of the ancient great Officers of the Kingdom; to wit, the Marshal, Steward, Constable, and Admiral. The Forms, Ceremonies, and Proceedings used in their Courts; and extraordinary Trials had before them.

Great Officers.

Original Charters of our ancient Kings, as Edward the Elder, Edgar, Hardicanute, and Edward the Confessor. The famous Charter of King Edgar, wherein he is stiled MARIUM BRIT. DOMINUS [7513], on which great Stress has been laid, by several Writers, in Support of England's Superiority over the four Seas; but which Charter Dr. Hicks[1] hath evidently demonstrated to be spurious; and to have been, (as many others in the same Language likewise were) forged after the Norman Conquest. A most noble and curious Book, covered with crimson Velvet, and richly adorned with Bosses and Hasps of Silver gilt and enamelled; the Cover and all the Leaves indented at the Top; containing Four original Indentures of Covenant, illuminated and embellished with historical Miniatures, dated the 16th of July, in the 19th Year of King Henry VII. and made between that King and the Abbot and Convent of St. Peter's Westminster, for certain Masses, Collects, &c. to be for ever after said in the Chapel of the Virgin Mary; then determined to be built at the East End of that Church as a Place of Reception of the Bodies of the King, Queen, and Royal Family, after their respective Deceases; for providing Chantry Monks there; for founding Anniversaries in that and other Chapels and Churches; for Converses and Scholars in the University; for maintaining Almsmen; for the Livelihood amortiz'd to the Abbey of Westminster for those Foundations; and for various other Purposes. To this Indenture Book, Five broad Seals of King Henry VII. preserved in Silver Boxes, Parcel gilt, and ornamented with his Badges of the Portcullis and Rose Springs, are appendant by Strings of Silk, and Gold and Silver Thread [1498.][2]

Original Charters.

Another Book, with its Cover of blue Velvet, and the Tops of all the Leaves indented; containing an illuminated Quadrupartite Indenture, dated the Twentieth of November, in the 20th Year of the Reign of K. Henry VII, made between the King, the Abbot and Convent of Westminster, the Abbot and Convent of St. Alban's, and the Mayor and Commonalty of London; whereby the Abbot and Convent of St. Alban's oblige themselves to hold a solemn Anniversary in their Church for ever; and to pray there for the King, the Royal Family, and the Realm.[3] Likewise numerous Transcripts of Letters Patent,

[1] Thesaurus Lit. Septentrion. fol. 85. & Dissertatio Epistolaris 152.

[2] See in the Catalogue a very minute and accurate Account of this elegant and curious Book of Indentures. The Counterpart of which Indentures, under Five Seals of the Abbot and Convent of Westminster, bound and decorated in all Respects as the Original, is preserved amongst the Records in the Chapter House at Westminster.

[3] On the Top of each Leaf of this Book are Part of Three Letters of the Alphabet, the other Parts of them being in the Counterparts of the Indenture. To this Book was formerly appendant a Seal, which is now lost, but Part of the Silken String remains: Two of the Counterparts of this Indenture, bound and ornamented in the same Manner as the Original, and with a Seal to each, are still remaining; one in the Archives of the Church of St. Peter at Westminster; the other amongst the Public Records in the Chapter House there.

Signs Manual, Privy Seals, Charters, and sundry historical Law Tracts, and Treatises on the Antiquities, Excellence, and Usefulness of the Municipal Laws of the Kingdom.

X. HERALDICAL AND ARMORIAL BOOKS, as Forms of appointing and crowning Kings at Arms, and of the Establishment of their subordinate Officers, Grants, Alphabets, Ordinaries, and Tricks of Arms and Ensigns Armorial. Multitudes of Visitations of Kings at Arms throughout all the Counties of England, partly Originals, and partly fair Transcripts. Tracts on the Order of the Garter. Laboured and other Pedigrees of most of the Nobility and Gentry of England, in which frequently occur Notes, monumental and fenestral Inscriptions, Copies of ancient Charters, Grants, and other Deeds, illustrating their Family Histories. Heraldry.

XI. REGISTER BOOKS, CHARTULARIES, and other Evidences of the Estates of our ancient Nobility; as, the famous Liber Niger de Wigmore [1240], which contains Transcripts of almost all the Family Deeds and Evidences of Edmund Mortimer, Earl of March, temp. Rich. II. and his Ancestors. The Evidence Book of John Nevil, Lord Latimer, [4781.] The Chartulary of the Honour of Segrave [4748], and those of other great Families. Ancient Nobility.

XII. CEREMONIALS, POMPS, AND SOLEMNITIES; as the Coronations of most of our Kings and Queens from the Time of the Anglo-Saxons, to that of King George II. Several Transcripts of the Liber Regalis, and other Books of Claims of Office to be performed by sundry Persons at those Solemnities [41, 561, 2091.] Royal and Princely Births, Christenings, and Marriages.—Public Entries, Introductions, Receptions, and Feastings of Royal and Princely Visitors, Foreign Ambassadors, &c. with the Forms of their Departures, and Accounts of the Presents made to them on those Occasions. Tilts, Tourneys, Justs, Royal Masks, and other Public Entertainments, Public Processions and Cavalcades. Creations of Princes, Nobility, and Knights of several Orders, &c. Funerals of Kings, Queens, Princes, and great Personages allied to the Royal Family, and also of Persons of Quality and Distinction. And lastly, an infinite Number of Adversaria, collected by various eminent Antiquaries out of old Histories, Records, Chartularies, Register Books, &c. The Utility of all which is acknowledged by every Student. Coronations, &c.

The Principality of WALES, and the Kingdoms of SCOTLAND and IRELAND, make no inconsiderable Figure in the Harleian Collection.

XII. In Regard to WALES, here are TOPOGRAPHIES, DESCRIPTIONS, AND GENERAL HISTORIES of the Principality. Wales.

Natural and Civil Histories of several of its Counties; Surveys of Commotes, and Extents of Lands. History.

Transcripts of the Laws of Howel Dha; Collections of particular Laws and Customs prevailing in different Parts of the Principality; Accounts of the Revenue arising from the Principality; Lists of Fee-Farm Rents; and Pleas of Quo Warranto upon Liberties claimed. Laws, &c.

Transcripts of the Acts, Statutes and Constitutions of the Bishops of St. David's; Taxations and Extents of Lands belonging to the Bishoprick of Bangor; and Catalogues of the Parishes, Chapels, &c. within the same. Taxations of the Lands annexed to the See of St. Asaph, and the Judgment given in Parliament on the Claim made by John de Warren, Earl of Surry, of the Custody of that Bishoprick when vacant. State, Value and Taxations of the Bishoprick of Landaff. Episcopal and other Charters,

Letters Patent, and Confirmation thereof. Conventions, Popes Bulls, and other Instruments, from the Year 1224, to the 32d Year of the Reign of K. Henry VIII. [1249.]

The Histories of Welch Heroes, by Threes, and a plentiful Supply of Pedigrees and Genealogies of Families; together with three Volumes of useful Materials, extracted by Mr. Hugh Thomas, from a Multitude of Public Records, and Private Evidences, in order to his compiling a Genealogical History of the Nobility and Gentry of Wales, and the several Families descended from them, now living in England [6870.]

Scotland.

XIV. The Materials relative to the CIVIL AND ECCLESIASTICAL HISTORY OF SCOTLAND are still more numerous and important; amongst them are:

Descriptions, Histories, Chronicles, and State of the Kingdom.

A remarkable Transcript of John Fordun's Scotochronicon, with the Alterations, Interpolations, and Continuation, made by Patrick Russel, Monk of Scone, at the Request of Sir David Stuart, of Rossith; and Baston's Verses on the Battle of Bannocks Bourne, written in the Year 1484, and not in 1482, as Dempster[1], and from him Bishop Nicholson[2], have asserted, for the Use of William Schevez, Archbishop of St. Andrews, by his domestick Chaplain Nagnus Maculloch, a Priest of the Diocese of Ross; supposed to be either the famous Black Book of Scone, or the St. Andrews Copy, or perhaps is the Original from which both of them were taken [712.]

Another Copy of the same, but written in a Hand somewhat more modern [4764.] The Chronicle of Andrew Wyntone, in Verse. Ker's, Lindsey's, and other Chronicles.

A fine Copy of the Chronicle of Mailros.

The Life of K. David I. written by Alred, Abbot of Rievaulx [3846.]

Inventories of the Rolls or Records of Charters granted by the Scottish Kings. Extracts from the Register of the Exchequer and Acts of the Privy Council.

Authentic Copies of Treaties between the Scottish and French Kings, and Accounts of the several Privileges granted by the latter, to the Subjects of the former.

Fair Transcripts of sundry public Instruments concerning the Vassalage of Scotland and the Sovereignty of England over it, which are omitted by Mr. Rymer, in his Foedera, and have escaped the diligent Eye of John Harding [1294.]

Ancient Copies of the Regiam Majestatem; and Transcripts of Acts of Parliament and other Laws of Scotland.

Atchievements, Arms, Pedigrees, &c. of the Nobility and principal Gentry of Scotland.

The Journal of the Treaty of Union; and a vast Multitude of truly valuable and interesting Papers of State, partly Originals, and partly Transcripts.

Particularly, a Transcript of divers public Instruments concerning the Marriage of Mary Queen of Scots, to the Dauphin of France[3] [1244.] Letters on sundry Occasions from Mary Queen of Scots, Lord Burleigh, Sir Francis Walsingham, Sir Thomas Smith, the Earl of Murray, Queen Elizabeth, &c. [260, 290, 291,] &c. And other authentic Pieces, most of them unnoticed by the Writers of those Times, but extremely useful in settling many controversial Points of the History of that unfortunate Princess, and conducive to the disclosing and clearing up the mysterious Intrigues carried on during her Troubles in France, Scotland, and England, in a better and more true Manner than hath hitherto been done either by the Oppugners of her Conduct, or by her late Advocate Mr. Goodall, or any other of her Apologists.

[1] Append. to Hist. Scot. Lib. I. b. 2.

[2] Scottish Historical Library, p. 32.

[3] Two of these Instruments (viz.) Don fait par Marie Reyne d'Escosse du dit Royaume d'Escosse au Roy de France, advenant le Cas qu'elle decidde san Hoirs procrez de son Corps. Dat 4 Jour d' Avril, 1557, and Traitte du Marriage de Francois de France fils du Roy Henry II. avec Marie Reyne d'Escosse du 19 Jour d'Avril, 1558, are printed (tho' very faultily) in the 6th Volume of a Collection published at Paris, in the Year 1693, under the Title of Recueil des Traitées de Paix, &c.

Historical

Historical Accounts of the State of the Church of Scotland. Exact Transcripts of the Bulls of Popes Innocent II. Alex. III. Calixtus III. and Adrian IV. enjoining the Scots Bishops to pay Obedience to the Archbishop of York as their Metropolitan; and of the Kings of Scotland's Recognitions of that Archbishop's Right [1]. Rentals of all the great Benefices in Scotland; Tax Rolls of the Abbey Lands; and Copies of the ancient Book of Taxations of all the Ecclesiastical Benefices in the Kingdom called Bagimont's Roll, compiled about the same Time with that Taxation which was made of the Lands of England, by K. Edward I.

Ireland.

XV. The Assistances that may be had from this Library for illustrating the HISTORY AND ANTIQUITIES OF IRELAND, are likewise equally valuable. As, Chorographies of the Kingdom, and Topographical Descriptions of its Provinces.

Ancient and other Histories, Chronicles and Annals as well ecclesiastical as civil, more particularly,

A venerable Copy of the History and Prophecies of that Country, written in the 10th Century and in the Old Irish Language [5280.]

A vast Number of original Charters and Grants of Lands, given to the several Monasteries and Religious Houses in Ireland, and which F. Stafford, the Publisher of Carew's Pacata Hibernia, had taken infinite Pains in collecting [2].

Many curious Pedigrees, with the Arms and Histories of the principal Nobility.

A very ancient Transcript of two remarkable Pieces of the old Municipal Laws of Ireland, with Commentaries and Glosses thereon. The Text in this Manuscript is so very ancient as to be coeval with the Times the Pieces relate to. The one being seemingly Part of the Bretanime, or Judicia Cælestia, with the Trial of Euna, Brother to Legarius, chief King of Ireland, for the Murder of Orane, Chariot-driver to St. Patrick, before Dubhthac, the Chief Filadha, or King's Bard; who, on that solemn Occasion, acted as sole Brehon, or Judge: With the Sentence passed thereon in the Year 430. The other, the great Sanction or Constitution of Nine; made in favour of Christianity in Ireland, Anno 439, by Three Kings, Three Bishops, and Three Sages [432.]

Classics.

XVI. Many ancient Copies of the GREEK AND LATIN CLASSICS AND HISTORIANS. Amongst these are,

Two Copies of Terence, written in the 10th Century [2670, 2750.] Another written in the 11th Century [5443.] A Third written in the 12th Century [2656.] Another of the 13th Century [2475.]

Tully's Paradoxa Stoicorum, and his first Book De Natura Deorum, written in the 8th Century [2622.] His Orations against Catiline, written in the 9th Century [2716]; and a fine Copy of his Books De Oratore, written in the same Century [2716.] A Copy of his Books De Inventione Rhetorica, et Rhetoricorum ad Hereunium, of the 10th Century [2623.] Another of the same Books written in the 11th Century [2624.]

A Transcript of his Epistles, and of several other of his Works, written in the 10th Century [2682]; and a Copy of his Epistles, written in the 11th Century [2591.]

A Fragment of Virgil's Æneid, written in the 9th Century [2772.] His Bucolics, Georgics, and Part of the Æneid, of the 12th Century [2668.] The Bucolics and Georgics, of the 13th Century [2533]; and a Transcript of the intire Æneid, written in the 12th Century [2770.]

Two Copies of Livy, one of the 10th Century [2672]; and the other of the 13th Century [2492.]

An Exemplar of L. Florus, of the 10th Century [2620.]

[1] Another Copy of these Bulls is in the Cottonian Library [Cleopatra C. IV.] from whence they are incorrectly printed in the 3d Volume of Dugdale's Monasticon, and again in Bishop Nicholson's Appendix to his Scottish Historical Library, p. 137.

[2] Athenæ Oxon. Vol. I. Col. 452. and Preface to Nicholson's Irish historical Library, p. vi.

Ovidii

Ovidii Metamorphoseων, Libri 12. et Fastorum, Libri 6. written in the 10th Century [2737.] Epistolae of the 12th Century [2709.] Fastorum Libri of the 12th Century [2655]; and a Copy of the same Book, written in the 13th Century [2654.]

A Copy of Quintillian, of the 9th Century [2664.]

A Transcript of Lucan's Pharsalia, written in the 11th Century [2728.]

An Exemplar of all the Works of Horace, except the Odes, written in the 10th Century [2725.] A Copy written in the 12th Century [3534]: and two others, written in the 13th Century [2609, 2724.]

A Transcript of Sallust, in the 11th Century [5412]; and another of the 12th Century [2643.]

A Copy of Statius, of the 12th Century [2720]; and three others of the 13th Century [2608, 2636, 2665.]

A Copy of Macrobius, written in the 11th Century [5204]; and another of the 12th Century [2633].

A beautiful Transcript of Pindar, made in 1724, by Thomassen, in Imitation of the Oxford Edition of the Works of that great Poet [6611.]

Lexicons, &c. XVII. LEXICONS, GLOSSARIES AND DICTIONARIES of the Hebrew, Greek, Latin, Welch, Chinese, Persic, Arabic, German, Courlandic, Saxon, English, Spanish, and Turkish Languages; particularly, a beautiful Copy of a Lexicon, Greek and Latin, and Latin and Greek; written in Capital Letters in the 7th Century [5792]; and a most grand Copy of a Greek Lexicon, written in the 14th Century [5572.] A Latin and Saxon Glossary, written in the 10th Century [3376.] The Arabic Dictionary, of Abu Nasr Ismael, filius Hemâd al Farabi, Al-Turki, with the Supplement of Sherfo'ddin Al-Hasan filius Mohammedis, surnamed Al-Sagani, written in the Beginning of the 13th Century [3446.] A Greek and a Latin Nomenclature, of the 9th Century [5642.]

XVIII. CHOROGRAPHIES, ANTIQUITIES, HISTORIES, CHRONICLES, &c. of France, and other Countries. Elaborate Genealogies of their Kings, Princes, and illustrious Houses; and a Multitude of Tracts and authentic Papers, explanatory of their Laws, Customs, Revenues, Polity, and Government. Amongst which are,

Gesta Francorum in Bello Sacro, written in the 11th Century [3904.] A Chronicle from Adam, of the 9th Century [5251.]

Liudbrandi Ticiensis Chronicon, written in the 10th Century [3713.]

As also a beautiful Transcript of the fourth and last Part of Froissart's Chronicle, in two folio Volumes, elegantly illuminated, and having the Subject of each Chapter represented in an historical Miniature Painting, highly finished, and placed at the Head thereof [4379, 4380.] The other Volumes of this curious Work are preserved in the French King's Library, and are esteemed amongst its principal Ornaments.

XIX. HISTORIES OF POPES and the Transactions of the See of Rome. Accounts of Conclaves held, and Intrigues carried on for the Elections of Popes. Papal Decretals, Bulls, Absolutions and Indulgencies. Forms, Practices, and Registers of their several Courts; as also Three remarkable Volumes [1850, 1851, 1852]; being the original Registers of the Roman Chancery, secretly brought from thence, upon the Death of Pope Innocent XII. by Mons. Aymone, who was Apostolic Protkonotary of that Court. They contain, amongst other Things, the Rules to be observed by the Clerks, and Obedientiaries of the Roman Chancery, expediting Papal Bulls, Briefs, Mandates, Dispensations and Grants, in all Causes whatsoever; a List of Fines payable by Ecclesiastics to the Roman See, in all Countries under its Subjection, on their being admitted to Patriarchal, Metropolitan, Cathedral, or Conventual Churches; Fees and Fines payable to the same Chancery, for obtaining Indulgencies, Licences, and plenary Absolutions in all Cases, as well criminal as civil; and a Variety of other interesting Matters evidently demonstrating the Impositions practised in order to fill the Coffers of the Roman Pontiff[1].

Poems, &c.

XX. A great Number of POEMS, ESSAYS, DITTIES, ANCIENT BALLADS, PLAYS, and other poetical Pieces, in almost every modern Language; many of them hitherto unpublished, though truly worthy of the Press, and others extremely useful to such as shall undertake to give new and correct Editions of the Works of such Poets, particularly those of our own Country, as have been already printed. Amongst them are;

A very ancient and fair Transcript of Chaucer's Canterbury Tales [1758]; and a Copy of his History of Troilus and Cressida, the Knight's Tale, the Man of Law's Prologue and Tale, the Wife of Bath's Tale, and the Clerk of Oxenforde's Tale, neither of which MSS. seem to have been used by the Editors of Chaucer; the Text in both differing in many Places from all other MSS. of that Author, as well as from the printed Copies of his Poems.

A large Volume, being a Collection of ancient and valuable Poems on curious Subjects, by Chaucer, Lydgate; and other English Poets [2251]; amongst these is a Poem of Chaucer's addressed to his empty Purse, and consisting of Twenty Stanzas, though no more than the three first have been published; probably for want of the Editors of that Author's Works knowing of this Manuscript. This Poem is still the more curious, as it informs us of some Circumstances of Chaucer's Life little known; particularly in those Lines which contain an Account of his Imprisonment upon false Accusations, and of great Part of his other personal Sufferings.

A fair Transcript or Translation of Lydgate's Paraphrase, into English Verse, of Boccace's Treatise De Occasu Principum, illuminated and embellished with Historical Miniature Paintings; being the Author's Present-Book to Humphrey Duke of Gloucester, by whose Command he undertook the Work [1766.]

Lydgate's Lives of St. Edmund and St. Fræmund, together with divers of his other Poems, illustrated with 120 very elegant historical Pictures of different Sizes; besides other Embellishments of illuminated Letters, &c. so as to render it the finest Manuscript of the English Language, written in the Time of King Henry VI. whose Book this was, being presented to him by its Author [2278.]

A large and beautifully illuminated Copy of the Confessio Amantis of John Gower [7184.] A very pompous Volume, containing a Collection of the principal Pieces of Chaucer and Gower, finely written and ornamented [7333.]

An Historical, Political, and Moral Poem, consisting of 320 Stanzas; the Subject whereof is the unfortunate Reign of King Edward II. whose Ghost is introduced as relating his Transactions and Disasters. The Author, who is supposed to be Mr. Edmund Spenser [2395], addresses this Poem to Queen Elizabeth. Also the same Poem revised and corrected by many Alterations, and fitted up for the Perusal of King James I. [2393, and 588.]

A very fair and beautiful Transcript of the celebrated Poem, intitled, Le Roman de la Rose [4425], began in French Verse by William de Lorris, continued and finished by John Clopinel, alias John Moone, or de Mehun, of Meun, upon the River Loire[2]. This Manuscript is so richly ornamented with a Multitude of Miniature Paintings, executed in the most masterly Manner, (each Chapter of the Book having prefixed to it a Picture explanatory of the Subject) that it is not to be exceeded by any known Manuscript in this or any other Library, and is probably the Copy which was presented to King Henry IV. the

[1] See the Account given of these Registers by Mr. Wanley, in the Catalogue; as also Tableau de la Cour de Rome par M. Aymone, p. 176.

Blazon of his Arms being introduced in the Illuminations, with which the First Page of this Work is embellished[1].

Many Original Poems by John Lydgate, Gower, Trevisa, &c.

Music. XXI. A very large Collection both of ancient and modern MUSICAL COMPOSITIONS, with curious Anecdotes relating to their Authors; written for the most Part by Mr. Wanley, by whom they were amassed, he being not only a great Judge of Music, but a very able Composer.

Architecture, &c. XXII. Books of ARCHITECTURE, GEOMETRY, GUNNERY, FORTIFICATION, SHIP-BUILDING, AND MILITARY AFFAIRS. Amongst these are, a fine Transcript of Vitruvius, de Architectura; written in the 9th Century [2767.] A Copy of Vegetius, de re Militari; written at Paris, by Peter de Pass, in the Year 1297—[2475.]

As also a large Volume, written in High Dutch, soon after the Invention of Fire-Arms; being a Treatise on Military Affairs, illustrated with a great Number of fine Drawings, in Water Colours, representing the proper Forms of Marches, Encampcampments, and Dispositions of Armies; Orders of Battle, Attacks, Sieges, and Storms of Forts, Towns, Castles, Draughts of Ships of War, Fire-Ships, and Fleets; Bridges of Timber and Stone, Hydraulic Engines, Tools, Instruments, and warlike Machines of every Kind; the Form of the ancient British Chariot, &c. [1413.]

Natural History, &c. XXIII. NATURAL HISTORY, AGRICULTURE, VOYAGES, TRAVELS, &c. particularly,

An Herbarium, written in Saxon, and in the 10th Century [5066]; And,

A very valuable Volume of Geoponics in Greek, with Scholia, not hitherto published; written upon Silken Leaves, and near 500 Years old [1868].

Astronomy, &c. XXIV. Many rare MSS. in ASTRONOMY, COSMOGRAPHY, and GEOGRAPHY; more especially,

A Copy of HYGINUS's Astronomy, written in the 10th Century [2506.]

Two very large and beautiful Copies of Ptolemy's Cosmographia, [7182, 7195]; with the Maps accurately laid down and coloured. The initial Letter of Jacobus Angelo's Dedication of the Work to Pope Alexander V. (in one of these Copies) contains a fine Miniature Painting, representing Angelo on his Knees, presenting his Book to that Pontiff; and in the initial Letter of the Book itself, is the Portrait of Ptolemy in a graceful Attitude, surveying the Heavens.

Alchemy, Chymistry, &c. XXV. A vast Variety of ALCHYMICAL, CHYMICAL, CHIRURGICAL, PHARMACEUTICAL, and MEDICAL Tracts; one whereof [3469] being a Treatise in High Dutch, on the Process for finding the Philosopher's Stone, formerly belonged to the famous Mr. Cyprianus, from whose Niece, Mrs. Priemer, it was purchased, and presented to Edward Earl of Oxford[2]. This Book is divided into a great Number of Chapters; on the back of the last Leaf of each Chapter, the Subject thereof is represented in an emblematical Picture, in which the Beauty of its Colouring, the Disposition of the Figures, the Elegancy of their Attitudes, and the Propriety of Composition, is scarcely to be equalled.

[1] A Part only of this Poem is translated into English Metre by Chaucer. The Author exposes and inveighs so bitterly against the then reigning Hypocrisy of the Clergy, that he became odious to that Body, insomuch that Gerson, Chancellor of Paris, says, that if there was no more than One Copy of the Romaunt of the Rose in the World, and he was possessed of it, in Case he might have Five Hundred Pounds for it, he would rather burn it, than take the Money. And that he thought, that if the Author did not repent him of the Book before he died, he would vouchsafe to pray for him no more than he would for Judas Iscariot. Urry's Chaucer.

[2] See the Note written on the back of the last Miniature but Five in this MS.

XXVI. A

XXVI. A great Number of Volumes of original Letters, and authentic Transcripts of others, written as well by sundry Persons which have been eminent for their high Stations in the State, as by those who were remarkable for their literary Accomplishments. Of these, the following may be deemed invaluable, Letters.

The Letters of Foreign Kings and Princes [1716.]

The 18 Volumes of original Letters, from considerable Persons [6989, to 7006.]

The Collection of Letters to and from Archbishop Sandcroft, in Three Volumes [3783, 3784, and 3785.]

The Collection of Letters, written from learned Men to Mr. Humphrey Wanley, from the Year 1692, to the Year 1725 [3777.]

The two Volumes of Letters from the most learned Men of the Age, to I. G. Vossius, many of them being in the modern Greek, Armenian, and Dutch Tongues [7012, 7013.]

The Letters which passed between learned Men towards the End of the 16th and the Beginning of the 17th Centuries [7011.]

Three Volumes of original Letters from the Royal Family of England [6986, 6987, 6988.]

Four Volumes of original Letters, chiefly upon literary Subjects, to Robert and Edward, Earls of Oxford [7523 to 7526.]

LASTLY, a prodigious Variety of MSS. which, exclusive of their Importance in other Respects, are highly valuable on Account of the many beautiful Illuminations, and excellent Paintings wherewith they are embellished; those Pictures being not only useful for illustrating the Subject-matter of the Books in which they are respectively placed, but furnishing excellent Lessons and useful Hints to Painters, perpetuating the Representations of the principal Personages, Buildings, Utensils, Habits, Armour, and Manners of the Age in which they were painted; and very probably preserving some Pieces of eminent Painters, of whose Works no other Remains are extant. Some of these MSS. have already been occasionally mentioned, and to them must be added; Paintings and Illuminations.

A most noble Copy of Bishop Grosthead's Speculum Humanæ Salvationis, every Page whereof is decorated with admirable Pictures explanatory of its Contents [2838.]

A Translation of Valerius Maximus into French, by Simon de Hesdin, and Nicolas de Gonesse, comprised in Two large Volumes, with fine historical Paintings placed at the Head of each Book, representing the principal Subjects treated of therein [4372, 3.] [A more modern Copy of the same Work, no less beautifully painted, but in a different Style, 4374 & 5.*] Together with another Copy of the Four last Books of the same Work, embellished with Paintings in the like Manner, and by the same Hand as the former [4430.]

A most noble Volume, consisting of the Antiquities of the Greeks and Romans, represented in Paintings [4376.]

A Volume, intitled, Le Tresor de Maistre Jehan de Mehun, with Paintings [3999.]

The Four Elements and Four Seasons, painted by J. Bailly, and intended as Patterns of Tapestry for the French King [4377.]

The great and constant Accession of rare Manuscripts to the HARLEIAN LIBRARY, soon pointed out to its noble Possessor the Necessity of having a Catalogue of them drawn up; but the finding a Person properly qualified for such an Undertaking, was, as well as the Task itself, extremely difficult. Lord Oxford, however, proved happy in his Choice; the Person he pitched upon for that Employment, being Mr. Humphrey Wanley, whose extraordinary Genius first shewed itself when he was scarce

* These four Numbers were erroneously mentioned before as one Copy of the Work.

Twenty-three Years of Age[1], in his compiling the Coventry and Warwick Catalogue[2], and occasioned him to be recommended to Archbishop Tenison, by Dr. Charlet, then Master of University College in Oxford[3]. Mr. Wanley's Learning and Abilities were afterwards further made known to the World, by his incomparable Catalogue of the Saxon, Anglo-Danish, and Norman Manuscripts, preserved in all the public and private Libraries of England, and which accompanied Dr. Hicks's famous Thesaurus, under the suitable Title of Antiquæ Literaturæ Septentrionalis Liber alter[4].

As the Collection was in the Year 1708 (the Time when Mr. Wanley first entered upon his compiling the Catalogue) grown very numerous, it may have been expected that his primary Care would have been that of arranging the Manuscripts under proper Classes, according to the particular Species of Literature to which each is more immediately related; but the Pursuit of such a Method would have been attended with Inconveniences, and amongst others, have laid him under the disagreeable Necessity of unbinding many of the Volumes, which contain a Variety of Articles. For, though most of those Volumes are composed of Tracts on One and the same Subject, yet there are others, and those not a few, which consist of miscellaneous Pieces, entirely foreign to each other. The Method, therefore, which he seems to have followed in the first Instance, was that of entering the Books into his Catalogue in the same Order as he found them placed in the Library. However, it is highly probable that he would have been more methodical, as he is more copious, in his intended greater Catalogue[5] [which he began, and takes frequent Occasion to mention] had he lived to complete that and the present, called by him his smaller Catalogue. But Death deprived us of him on the 6th Day of July 1726, when he had proceeded no further than Number 2407 of the present printed Catalogue.

Although Mr. Wanley has, in his Part of the present printed Catalogue, made every Volume a separate Number, yet he has subdivided each into different Articles, according to the Number and Variety of Treatises contained therein. So that there is scarcely a Tract, however minute, comprised in any One Volume, which underwent his Inspection, that is not taken Notice of. In his Entry of some Articles, he contents himself with inserting the bare Title; in others, he mentions the Purport of the Piece. Of some again (particularly original Letters, and State Papers, of the greater Importance) he gives an abstract; and when any Book of extraordinary Value or Curiosity presents itself, he gives the Reader a full and critical Account of its Contents, endeavours to ascertain its Author, and sometimes extracts its most remarkable Passages. Throughout the whole of his Observations, he shews his extensive Learning, and the Solidity of his Judgment. His Strictures are so just, that we have great Reason to lament his not having lived to put the finishing Hand to a Work, for which he was in every respect so well qualified.

Some Time after the Death of Mr. Wanley, the Catalogue was resumed and continued from Number 2480, to Number 5797, inclusive, by Mr. David Casley, Keeper of the Cottonian Library, and well known to the learned World, by his Catalogue of the Manuscripts in the Royal Library, which he published in the Year 1734. Unfortunately Mr. Casley's other Engagements did not allow him sufficient Leisure to consider the MSS. so fully as his Predecessor had done; so that the Entries of such Volumes as fell under his Examination are extremely concise. But he hath made some Amends by assigning the Age of every Manuscript, adding in Capital Numbers at the End of the first Line of the Title of each Book, the Century after Christ's Nativity, in which he supposes such Book to have been written, in the same Manner as he has done in his Catalogue of the King's Manuscripts. An Omission in Mr. Wanley's Part of this Catalogue, which is the more to be lamented, as from his having been many Years conversant with ancient Manuscripts, he was perfectly able to distinguish and ascertain the Age of every Amanuensis [1].

[5] This greater Catalogue consists of two Volumes in Folio, and is now preserved in the Harleian Library, although not entered as an Article in the present printed Catalogue. It begins at Numb, 306, is continued on as far as Numb. 1146, and is of the proper Hand-writing of Mr. Wanley, as far as the Middle of Numb. 433.

In the Year 1741, the Trustees of Edward Earl of Oxford engaged Mr. Hocker, who was afterwards Deputy Keeper of the Records in the Tower, to complete the Catalogue; but his Leisure did not permit him to carry it on further than Number 7355.

After the Collection was brought to the British Museum, the Rev. Doctor Brown, Professor of Arabic at Oxford, and Doctor Kennicott, Fellow of Exeter College in that University, kindly assisted in drawing up Titles to such of the Arabic and Hebrew Manuscripts as wanted them; and Mr. Gomez, a professed Jew, was employed to give Titles to such as are Rabbinical; the Remainder was added by the Under Librarian of the British Museum, to whose Care the Department of Manuscripts is committed.

Mr. Hocker, in his Part of the Catalogue, differs both from Mr. Wanley and Mr. Casley. In his Entries of Articles, he follows Mr. Wanley's Method, by giving a full and explanatory Title to every separate Tract contained in each Volume; but he avoids all Criticism and Dissertation, and likewise never attempts to ascertain the Century in which any of the Manuscripts were written.

[1] Of this we are likewise assured by Mr. E. Llhwyd, an excellent Judge in these Matters, in whose Letter to Mr. Wanley, dated 6th January 1702-3, is the following Passage:

"I find by your Censure of Kolam Kil's Gospel, that you have acquir'd a more critical Skill in distinguishing the Date of "our oldest MSS. than I thought attainable." See Numb. 3777, in the Harleian Library.

SECOND PREFACE.

THIS Catalogue was begun, in the Year 1708, by the learned Mr. Wanley, who was Librarian to Robert and Edward successively Earls of Oxford; and he appears, from several Entries in various Parts of his Manuscript Work, to have been employed herein till his Death, July 6th, 1726. From that Time the Work seems to have been laid aside, till about the Year 1733; when it was resumed, where Mr. Wanley had left off, at Number 2408, by the late Mr. Casley, Keeper of the Cottonian Library, and well known to the learned World by his Catalogue of the Royal Manuscripts. In about the Space of three Years Mr. Casley continued the Catalogue to Number 5709.

In June 1741, died Edward Earl of Oxford, the great Enlarger of this Collection of Manuscripts, and soon after his Lordship's Trustees ordered the Catalogue thereof to be taken up a third Time by Mr. Hocker, the Deputy Keeper of the Records in the Tower, who in less than two Years completed it as far as Number 7355; and what remained has been lately added by the Librarians belonging to this particular Department of the British Museum.

It is proper to observe, in Justice to Mr. Casley and Mr. Hocker, that the Circumstances under which they drew up their respective Parts did not allow them the Time necessary to complete the Catalogue upon so extensive a Plan as that of Mr. Wanley; whose Part of the Work contains an Abstract of most of the historical Manuscripts, and a critical Account of many of the rest.

In this State the Catalogue remained till the Year 1800, when, at the Suggestion of His Majesty's Commissioners for the Arrangement and Preservation of the Public Records of the Kingdom,* the Trustees of the British Museum engaged the Under Librarian of the Manuscript Department to revise and correct the latter Part of the Catalogue, beginning from Number 3100. It was not at first supposed that any great Length of Time would be required for the Purpose of Revision; but, as the Work proceeded, it soon became manifest that, to obtain the necessary Degree of Correctness, and to make that latter Part of the Catalogue bear any Kind of Proportion to the former, would be a Matter of much Labour, and must occupy more Time than could be easily defined by Anticipation. It might indeed have been calculated, that, as Mr. Wanley, by the above Account, had employed eighteen Years in describing 2408 Numbers; Mr. Casley and Mr. Hocker, three and two Years respectively, in making their Additions, in the very brief and inadequate Way in which they were executed; the complete Revision, and considerable Augmentation of near 5000 Numbers could not be performed in a very short Space. It employed, in Fact, all the Time and Diligence that could be given to it by the Librarian, till May 1806, when the Beginning of Volume the Third was sent to Press.

Nor could even this Progress have been made without the following Assistance. In the Beginning of 1801, the Rev. Stebbing Shaw, then engaged in writing the History of Staffordshire, offered his Services in examining the Topographical, Genealogical, and Heraldical Manuscripts, and the Librarian, by Permission of the Trustees, engaged him, at his own Expence, for that Purpose. This Aid, however, was not of long Duration, on account of the Illness of Mr. Shaw in the Summer of 1802, and his lamented Death, on the 28th of October, that same Year; but his Diligence had performed as much as could be expected while he was employed. Mr. Shaw was fond of the Part for which he engaged, it was coincident with his other Pursuits, and auxiliary to them; and if there was a Fault in what he did, it was on the side of Redundance rather than Deficiency.

Heraldical

After the Printing of the Third Volume was begun, it was discovered by the Librarian that the Numbers from 2408 to 3100 also wanted Revision, and required many Additions, to make them at all Uniform with either the first or the last Part of the Work. This Task was therefore voluntarily taken up, and continued till the Summer of 1807, when other Views induced him to resign the Office of Librarian, and retire to a Country Residence. At this Period he had not advanced beyond 2700, having been much impeded by Attention to the Part which was then printing.

The chief Part of what remained was afterwards taken in hand and revised by Mr. Douce, the Successor to the former Librarian; whose Skill in executing the small Part which he undertook will probably occasion a just Regret that he had not had a larger Share in the Work. It should not, however, be omitted, that some Additions to this Part, which now forms the latter End of the Second Volume, had been made by Mr. Planta, while he was the Librarian of that Department.

The very extensive Additions which it was found necessary to make, without at all approaching to the Degree of Minuteness observed by Mr. Wanley, will be estimated at once, by comparing the Bulk of the present Third Volume with that Part of the original Second Volume, which was occupied by the Description of the same Numbers. But it will be more important to point out, following the Divisions of the former Preface, some valuable MSS. which have been brought into Notice by this Second Research.

I. Bibles, and Biblical Books. Also, VI. Evangelistaria, &c. Under these Heads, no notice was taken in the former Preface, nor any sufficient Description given in the Catalogue, of the Five Codices called by Dr. Mill Covelliani, being then in the Possession of Dr. Covell, Master of Christ's College Cambridge, from whom they were purchased by the Earl of Oxford. 1. Codex Covellianus primus [5776.] This valuable Copy of the Four Gospels in Greek was not known to Griesbach, who has described most of the rest, probably from its not being properly noticed in the Catalogue. It appears not to be less ancient than the Thirteenth Century, and was given to Dr. Covell, when Chaplain to the Embassy at Constantinople in 1764, by Daniel, Archbishop of Proconnesus, as is inscribed in the Book itself. It is described at § 1481, in Dr. Mill's Prolegomena. 2. Codex Covellianus secundus [5537.] This Volume, which was written in the Eleventh Century, contains the Acts of the Apostles, the Epistles, and the Apocalypse. Dr. Covell purchased it at Constantinople in 1679. It has been described by Mill in his Prolegomena, § 1482; and by Griesbach, in his Symbolæ Criticæ, vol. 2. p. 148 and 184. He has also collated it. 3. Codex Covellianus tertius [5557.] This also contains the Acts and Epistles, but has not the Apocalypse. Dr. Mill describes it in § 1485. Griesbach does not seem to have known it. By some unaccountable Mistake, this Book appears to be mentioned in the former Preface as a Transcript of 2829, which is in Latin *. An ancient Menology, prefixed to it, is properly introduced in § VII. † The Manuscript in general seems to be of the Eleventh Century; the Menology, probably, a little later. 4. Codex Covellianus quartus [5620]. Its Age is uncertain; a Greek has inserted a Note as if he wrote it in 1663, but the Hand is very different, and it is possibly somewhat older. Mill and Wetstein have supposed it a Transcript of Wetstein's 35. It is described by Mill. Prol. 1487; and by Griesbach, Symb. Crit.

tom. 2. p. 151. It contains the Acts of the Apostles, and all the Epistles. 5. Codex Covellianus quintus [5778.] vel Sinaiticus. This MS. originally contained the Acts of the Apostles, all the Epistles, and the Apocalypse, but has been much injured by damp, and much of it lost. Mill has described it in § 1488. Griesbach does not seem to have known it. But the Parts that remain are valuable, being probably of the 12th Century. An ancient Volume containing the Four Gospels and a Meriology [5777] was considered by Dr. Covell as a Transcript of his Codex 1. [5776.] A few other Manuscripts belonging to this Class deserve further Notice. Among these is a more modern Hebrew Roll, similar to 5619, but very finely written. A Manuscript containing the Acts and Epistles in Greek, written on Silk Paper, probably in the 13th Century. It has been collated and described by Griesbach [5588.] A Copy of the Four Gospels, probably as old as the Eleventh Century, written in Greek, on Vellum, with Scholia somewhat more modern than the Text, but still ancient [5540.] A Paper Manuscript of the Acts and Epistles in Greek, but containing Four Vellum Leaves as old as the 10th or 11th Century, which, as well as the Volume itself, have been carefully described by Griesbach. That Critic considers the Four ancient Leaves as having belonged to a MS. of particular Excellence [5613.] A memorable Copy of the Four Gospels in Greek, a large Quarto written in Uncial or Capital Letters, probably as old, at least, as the Middle of the Tenth Century, and highly esteemed both by Woide and Griesbach [5684.]

As it appeared desirable to mention the principal Codices Covelliani together, the first and Sixth Classes of the former Preface have here been united. It may properly be mentioned that an engraved Specimen of the valuable Evangelistarium, 5598, will now be found in the Plate prefixed to Woide's Edition of the Alexandrine MS. of the New Testament.

IV. Liturgies, and Liturgical Books. Among these may be mentioned a curious Psalter, with Grotesque or Arabesque Illuminations. The Book contains also some Offices and Prayers [5764.] A Psalter in Greek, Latin, and Arabic, disposed in parallel Columns, and dated in the Middle of the 12th Century [5786.]

VII. Martyrologies, &c. A magnificent Copy of the Golden Legend in English, belongs properly to this Head. It is written on 264 Leaves of Vellum, of the largest Size, and is of the 15th Century [4775.] Extraneous to the Book and its Contents, is inserted a modern Print of the Fair on the Thames in 1716. The Gesta Romanorum, being undoubtedly composed with religious Views, may also be here introduced, and of this there is a fine Copy on Vellum [5259.] Seventy Stories of an English Imitation of this Work appear in another MS. with various other Matter [7333.] On these Works and MSS. several valuable Remarks appear in Mr. Douce's Illustrations of Shakespeare, vol. 2. p. 363, &c.

IX. English Topography, Antiquities, and History, &c. Six curious Volumes, containing very copious historical Collections, from the Year 1662 to 1672, had by some means been separated and overlooked in this Library. They will now be found at Numbers 4060, 4061, 4062, 4728, 4729, 4730. An imperfect, yet remarkable Copy of Bishop Burnett's History of his own Times, differing in many Respects from the printed Editions; and occasionally well illustrated by the Remarks of Dr. Gifford [6584.] A Description of England, written by Mich. Suriano, an Italian, probably a Venetian, in 1556. [3473. 3.] Some historical Notes written in an interleaved Ephemeris, chiefly remarkable for being the private Observations of a Man so much the Object of Notice as Partridge the Almanac-maker [6200.] On the Subject of English Law, under this Head, very large Additions might be made, and particularly under the Title of Readings on the several Statutes, a very considerable Class might be formed. It shall suffice, however, to mention the single Manuscript of Lord Coke, containing his original

Notes on Littleton's Tenures, formerly one very large Volume, but now, for the sake of Preservation, bound in four. It contains, besides the legal Notes, many private Memorandums concerning the Author, his various Promotions, and his Family [6687.]

X. Heraldical, &c. The most remarkable Genealogies of the Shirley Family, written in Latin and English by Thomas Shirley, who translates his own Names whimsically into Greek, Thomastos Caloleimon * [4023, 4028, 4928.] Also a splendid Book of the Arms of Knights of the Garter, from the Foundation of the Order, blazoned in Colours, but not continued so far as intended [5831.]

XIV. History of Scotland. The Continuation of Hector Boethius's History, from 1437 to 1586, written by Robert Lindsay, of Pitscotties; assisted by other respectable Men of his own Country [4687.]

XVI. Greek and Latin Classics. Under this Head much remains to be remarked, in Addition to the former Notices. Among these the first that deserves Notice is the valuable Copy of Homer's Odyssey, collated by the late Professor Porson, with great Diligence, for the Grenville Edition [5674.] Several other Copies of Homer might be mentioned, but this is the most important; they will be found distinctly described in the Catalogue. Another most remarkable Volume is the Lucian, a beautiful Manuscript of the tenth Century, which, as well as the preceding, once formed a Part of the Library of Cardinal Antonio Seripandi, a celebrated Collector of classical Manuscripts. It is the very Volume which was presented by the famous John de Witt, to Jensius; whose Collation of its Readings may be found in the Edition of Hemsterhusius. Though it is imperfect, and contains only a Part of the Works of the Author, it is, from its Age and Beauty, of the highest Value [5694.] A Volume containing a Part of the Morals, or smaller Works of Plutarch, remarkable for containing two Tracts, numbered 17 and 18 in the Book, which had never been printed, till they were copied for that Purpose by Mr. Tyrwhitt [5612.] Several Copies, more or less perfect, of the Orations of Demosthenes, some known to Dr. Taylor, and some not. [5670, 5724, &c.] The Organon, or logical Works of Aristotle, fairly written on Paper, with the Isagoge of Porphyry [5599.] A noble Copy of the Bibliotheca of Photius, which was formerly the Property of Henry Stephens, and contains many Annotations by him. It is now bound in two Volumes [5591—3.]

Besides these, are many Copies of various Parts of the Works of Cicero, Virgil, Horace, Ovid, and all the Latin Classics. There are also many important Volumes of modern Critics, illustrative of the Classics; particularly two, which appear to have been the Collections of Jo. Michael Dilherr [3521 and 3837.] Lectures, or dictata on Petronius Arbiter, by J. F. Gronovius [5739.]; Lectures of John Meursius on the Works of Theophrastus, whether lost or extant [5384.] Notes on Cicero's Epistles, on Petronius, Tacitus, &c. [5379, 5385.] A complete and very laborious Commentary on the Alexandra of Lycophron, by Ambrose Fisher, [4067.] and, by an anonymous Writer, most laborious and extensive Collections, to illustrate the History of Dion Cassius [6351.]

To these we may add some early Translations of the Greek Classics, written in the most splendid and beautiful Manner: such as a large Part of Plato's Works by Ficinus, [3481.] followed by a Digest of the Platonic Theology, as understood by that Commentator, in eighteen Books [3482.] Few Manuscripts are more splendid than the two here mentioned. They are rivalled, however, if not surpassed, by a Collection of 26 Lives from Plutarch, translated into Latin by L. Aretino, Guarini, Francis Philelphus, and other Literati of that Period [3485.] Of equal if not superior Splendor are the four Volumes containing a Translation of the Works of Josephus [4960, 61, 62, & 63.]

* Printed by mistake Cololeimon, at No. 4023.

Several

Several early French Translations of Classics also appear, in the most magnificent Form, in this Collection. Of these the most remarkable, the two Copies of Valerius Maximus; [4372—4375.] have been mentioned in the former Preface; on account of their Illuminations, which are, in their respective Styles, as beautiful as any that can be named. But it was not observed that each contains the complete Version of Simon de Hesdin and Nicolas de Gonesse, with Notes and supplemental Histories by those Translators. In these there may be also Variations. The Translation of Boethius de Consolatione, by John de Meun, the Continuer of the Roman de la Rose, in five elegant Volumes, with Illuminations, must not be omitted [4335, 6, 7, 8, & 9.] There is also a Spanish Translation of some Works of Cicero, very elegantly written [4796.]

Not to extend this Article too far, there shall only be noticed, in addition, the laborious Index Latinitatis, or Index Verborum, to Pliny's Natural History, by A. de Grau, which amounts to 1501 Pages of Writing [4837.] The same laborious Person also compiled Indexes to Seneca and Rutilius [4823.]

XVII. Lexicons, Vocabularies, &c. Among these the most remarkable is a Greek Lexicon, mentioned indeed in the former Preface; but it may be useful to add, that it seems exactly to agree with one in the French Royal Library; and contains the initial Inscription, more correctly written [5572.] It is of the thirteenth Century. A very ancient Greek and Latin Vocabulary, conjectured by Dr. Morton to be as old as the seventh Century, but certainly of venerable antiquity [5792.] An Etymologicon Linguæ Latinæ, compiled from the Notes of Donatus on Terence [4738.] An Abridgment of Somner's Saxon Dictionary, which appears to have been the Work of Mr. Humphrey Wanley [3317.]

XVIII. French History and Antiquities. The great Stores of this Kind which the Harleian Collection comprises have been hitherto overlooked, but they are very extensive. They consist of many Volumes, containing a vast Number of Papers, collected by the Chancellor Seguier, which extend from Number 4435 to 4472; in Quarto and Folio; and again commence in 4489, and many subsequent Numbers, as far as 4530. These are followed by the Collection of the Count de Brienne, who appears also to have possessed the former. It extends to 4551, and appears again in subsequent Parts of the Catalogue. These Collections which consist of State Papers, and Letters from Persons in the highest Situations, cannot fail to contain very important Materials towards the History of the Times to which they belong. In addition to these, Mention should be made of the splendid Volume on the Ordinances and the Knights of the Golden Fleece [6199.]

XX. Poems, &c. Of Poetical Works in various Languages, a great Number will now be found to be described, which were either not ascertained before, or noticed in a very slight Manner. Among these, some of the most remarkable are the following. The Life of the Virgin Mary, by John Lydgate, of which there are Two Copies [3862, 3952.] Some fine and ornamented Copies of the Poetical Works of Petrarch, either entire or in Parts [3410, 3411.] Also a Volume of his Works, professedly transcribed from a very ancient Copy [3264.] Of ancient Poems in the French Language, not to mention the transcendent Copy of the Roman de la Rose, with its beautiful Illuminations [4425] as it was noticed in the former Preface, the most remarkable is the large and splendid Volume of the Works of Christine de Pisan; containing, in some of the Illuminations, the Portrait of the Author [4431.] This magnificent and curious Volume was only marked before, as "Une Volume des Balades, Virelaiz, &c." A beautiful Copy of a Prose Tract by the same Author appears at No. 4605; also her Corps de Policie, No. 4410. Some of the Poems of Mary, the Norman Poetess, which have been the Subject of Dissertations in the Archæologia, are preserved in this Collection; particularly her Translation of the Fables of Æsop [4333.] The Verses of Sanson de Nanteuil, are also curious [4388.] Likewise several other French Poems or Romances [4390, 4399, 4401, 4404.]

XXI. Music. The most remarkable treasure of this Kind is contained in six folio Volumes [7337—7342.] It is a Collection of Anthems, Services, &c. used in the Church of England, from the Reformation to the Year 1720. Dr. Tudway, Organist and Composer to Queen Anne, collected these Productions, with great Care, for the Earl of Oxford; and appears to have transcribed them himself into the Books. The Work was gradually continued for several Years, and contains Introductory Dissertations, in the Form of Dedications to the several Volumes, by the Collector.

XXII. Architecture, &c. Under this Head may be noticed a singularly curious Tract, of a Mechanical Nature, in which the first Discovery of the Principles and Practice of the Steam Engine seems to be fully announced, by Sir Samuel Morland, who styles himself Master in Mechanics to his Majesty the King of Great Britain, Charles II. The Book contains not only the Plan and the Diagrams, but the Calculations for the Work, and was presented to the French King; possibly because it did not meet with sufficient attention at Home [5771.]

XXIII. Natural Philosophy. Here we should not pass over an unpublished Tract on Optics by Hobbes, fairly written, as for the Press [3360.]

XXVI. Letters, &c. Too distinct a notice cannot be taken of Four inestimable Volumes of original Letters, which passed between the most celebrated Scholars and Critics of the Sixteenth and Seventeenth Centuries. They are not Transcripts but the very Letters, in the Hand-writing of their respective Authors, whose Names will at once explain their Value. Among the Writers are these. I. Fred. Gronovius, N. Heinsius, I. I. Chifletius, Js. Vossius, I. Geo. Grævius, Hadr. Valesius, M. Meibomius, Petrus Victorius, Joach. Camerarius, Obertus Gifanius, Justus Lipsius, Cl. Salmasius, Elias Putschius, Erasmus, Js. Casaubon, Jan. Gruterus, and very many more; insomuch that hardly any celebrated Man of that Class can be named, whose autograph is not in those Four Volumes [4993, 4, 5, 6.]

It is evident that an Enumeration of this Kind might be carried to a much larger Extent. But it shall now be closed, with the Hope that the Public may derive, from this fresh Examination of so large a Part of the Harleian Collection of Manuscripts, all the Advantage which the Care and Labour bestowed upon it were intended to secure. That many Things are still imperfectly described is certain, and that they must have been so, unless twice or three Times the Length of Examination had been bestowed upon them. Some Errors also will doubtless appear, in a Work of such Extent and Variety; but it is hoped that, with the Aid of the ample Indexes of Persons, Places, and Matters, now subjoined to this Catalogue, such a Key to this inestimable Repository will at length be put into the Hands of the Learned, that nothing of great Value or Importance can long escape the Researches of the diligent Enquirer.

A Book in fol. wherein is contained a Collection of Letters, relating to the Negotiations & other Affairs of State, between England and France, from February A. D. 1570. to March, 1573. in the following order,

1. Mr. Frauncis Walſingham, to the Right Honble Sir William Cecill Her Majeſties Principal Secretarye; touching the Lord Buckhurſt's coming over into France to congratulate the Kings Marriage. Dated from Paris, 1 Febr. 1571. 1.

2. The Copie of Secretarye Pynartes Letter to Mr. Walſingham, mentioned in the former. 2. b.

3. Sir William Cecill to the Right Honble Sir Henry Norrice & Mr. Frauncis Walſingham Ambaſſadors for the Queenes Majeſtie in Fraunce, touching certain violences committed by the French in Ireland. Dated from Weſtminſter, 29 January, A. D. 1570. 3.

4. Mr. Walſingham to Sr. Will. Cecill, owning the Receipt of the laſt Letter, and that he will know of the French King whether the ſaid Diſorders committed in Ireland, were done with his Conſent. Dat. from Paris, 3 Febr. 1570. 4.

5. . . . Robert Cecill to Mr. Walſingham, thanking him for his Letters written at Bulloigne, and hinting at Overtures to be made from France, for a Match with the Queen. Dat. 27 January, 1570. 5.

6. Mr. Walſingham to the Right Honorable, his verye good Lord, the Earle of Leiceſter; concerning the ſame Affair. Dated from Paris, 5 Febr. 1570. 6.

7. Mr. Walſingham to Sir William Cecill, giving an account of his Audience had of the King of France, & of the Queen-Mother, upon the ſubject of the late Outrages committed in Ireland; as alſo that he was informed that the Guiſes & the Pope were concerned therein; as perhaps the King of Spain, & the Scotts. Dated from Paris, 8 Febr 1570. 6. b.

8. Mr. Walſingham's private Letter to Sir William Cecill, acquainting him with the private Talk he (as a private Perſon) had with the Queen-Mother; for a ſtricter League to be had between France & England; and with the Reaſons which induced him thereunto. Dated from Paris, 8 Febr. 1570. 10.

9. Mr. Walſingham to the Earle of Leiceſter, upon the ſame Subject, as in n°. 6. above. Dated from Paris, 8 Febr. 1570. 12. b.

10. Mr. Walſingham, to the Right Honble Sir Walter Mildmay, one of Her Majeſties Privy Counſell, thanking him for his good Offices, and acquainting him with the the deſigns of the Pope & Spain upon Ireland, which were furthered by the Cardinall of Lorraine. As alſo with the Promiſes of the French King to puniſh ſuch of his Subjects as were guilty of the Violences done in Ireland, wherein he obſerves the French Court to be in Promiſe ſpeedy, in Performance ſlowe. Dated from Paris, 8 Febr. 1570. 13.

Num. 260.

11. Sir William Cecill to Mr. Walſingham, deſiring him to preſent the Earl of Rutland to the French King, before the arrival of the Lord Buckhurſt. And ſhewing that the Lord Rutland is of the Bloud Royall, and as near Kin to the Crown (tho' in leſs danger) as the Earl of Huntingdon. Dated from Weſtminſter, 28 January, 1570. 14.

12. Mr. Walſingham to Sr. Will. Cecill, containing an obliging Anſwer to his Recommendation of the Lord Rutland to him. And ſhewing that the French King being given over to pleaſure, refers the Complaints of thoſe of the Religion to the Queene-Mother, & to Monſieur his Brother. 15.

13. Queen Elizabeth's Letter of Inſtructions to Mr. Walſingham, touching at the Overture of Marriage; and commanding him to confer with the Spaniſh Ambaſſador at Paris, concerning the King of Spain's amicable Offers to Her, (made by the Duke of Alva) for compoſing the Differences between Her & the Queen of Scotts. And that he ſhould endeavour to find out the King of Spain's mind with relation to his ſuccoring the Iriſh Rebels & Fugitives, upon their Requeſts. Of whom in general, & of Stewckley in particular, ſhe gives a character. Dated from Weſtminſter, 11 Febr. 1570. ibid.

14. Mr. Walſingham to Sir William Cecill, concerning the Lord Rutlands Reception by the French King, who recommends the good Iſſue of the Matters in diſpute between the Queen of Scotts, & Qu. Elizabeth to Her Majeſty. Of the endeavors of the Guiſes, for a Match between the Kings Siſter & the Cardinall of Eſte, in order to prevent her being married to the Prince of Navarre. And of the Recovery of the French Queen. Dated from Paris, 18 Febr. 1570. 19. b.

15. Mr. Walſingham to Sir William Cecill, being a private Letter to him, appriſing him of the Deſigns of the Guiſes, and of Spain, in diſwading Monſieur from marrying with the Queene of England. Dated 18 Febr. 1570. 20. b.

16. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, advertiſing him of the Endeavours of the Popes Nuncio, the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, the Guiſes, and their Adherents, to fruſtrate the intended Matches between Q. Elizabeth & Monſieur, and of the French Kinges Siſter with the Cardinal de Eſte. Dated from Paris, 18 Febr. 1571. 21. b.

17. Sir William Cecill to Mr. Walſingham, advertiſing him that Monſr. de Serniga is coming ont of Flanders, to treat of mutual Reſtitution of Shipps & Wares, &c. And ſince that one Huggins, upon the Information of Stewckley is impriſoned in Spaine; to direct him to ſend ſome other meet Perſon into Spaine, to diſcover things there. And that the Earl of Morton & the other Scotts Commiſſioners, are on their way to London. Dated from Weſtminſter . . . . Febr. 1571. 22. b.

18. Mr. Walſingham to Sir William Cecill, acquainting him with his Conference had with proud Don Franciſco the Spaniſh Ambaſſador; from one of whoſe Servants nevertheleſs, he hopes for conſtant Intelligence. The Anſwer of the French King & his Mother, upon the Complaints made to them againſt De la Roche, who committed the abovementioned Hoſtilities in Ireland. And that he (Mr. Walſingham) would from time to time give Notice of all preparations to be made at Breſt, &c. and of the honorable Reception & Behaviour of the Lord Buckhurſt, ſent into France, by the Queene. Dated from Paris, 25 Febr. 1571. 23. b.

19 The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the Match with Monſieur, and the difficultie attending that Affair. That the Queen ſhews more Inclination to marry than heretofore. Deſires him to enquire farther into the Matter relating to Ireland; where, the

Num. 260.

Queen is informed, the King of Spain is almoſt ready to putt his Practiſes in Execution. Dat. 14 Febr. 1570. 27.

20. Mr. Walſingham's Anſwer to that Letter, and condoling the Death of Sr. Nicholas Throgmorton, of whom he ſays, that for Councell in Peace, & for Conduct in Warr, he left of like ſufficiency no Succeſſor. Dated from Paris, 5 March, 1570. 28.

21. Mr. Walſingham to Sir William Cecill, concerning the viſit made to him by the Spaniſh Ambaſſador Don Franciſco, with propoſals of Amity to be had between the K. of Spain & the Qu. of England; the reaſon of which, was the Repulſe the ſaid D. Franciſco lately had from the French King, as to certain Demands. Concerning a Popes Bull againſt the Qu. of England, publickly affixed in Paris; as it was ſuppoſed, by the Spaniards. And of the Popes deſigns againſt England. Dat. from Paris, 5 March, 1570. ibid.

22. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, concerning the very Honorable Entertainment of the Lord Buckhurſt in France; his as Honourable Demeanor there. The Duke of Longuevilles Retirement from Court in Diſcontent. Concerning the Diſlike grown between the French Queen & the Queen Mother; and the French Kings Diſſatisfaction at the Popes diſdaynfull Anſwer made to a Requeſt of his. Dat. from Paris, 5 March, 1570. 31.

23. Sir William Cecill (newly made Lord Burleigh) to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing Her Majeſties Satisfaction with his Proceedings; and thanking Him for his good Will to the Lord Rutland. Dat. from Weſtminſter, 1 March, 1570. 32.

24. The Earle of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, acquainting him with the Subſtance of the Conferences between the Engliſh and Scotts Commiſſioners, who are very ſtiffe on both ſides; and the Q. of England uncertain which way to take. Since tho' it was conceived that the Q. of Scotts (then in Priſon) was not fitt to governe; yet Q. Elizabeth was loth to depoſe her from her Dignity and as loth to reſtore her. On the other Hand ſhe was loth to defend the Authority of the young King James, which ſhe was not perſuaded, was juſt. On the one Side, the Intereſt of the true Religion was not to be neglected; on the other Side, there was danger in keeping the Q. of Scottes in Priſon, by Reaſon of her Friends. Dat. 26 Febr. 1570. 32. b.

25. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, ſhewing how perillous it would be to releaſe the Q. of Scottes without Q. Elizabeth's marriage to Monſieur: Who in that Caſe, if refuſed by England, would match with Scotland. And by Reaſon of the great Dearth in France, he deſires that his Allowance may be augmented. Dat. at Paris, 9 March, 1570. 33. b.

26. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, in Anſwer to divers of his Letters. He cannot believe Mr. Walſinghams Advice of a Deſign to free the Q. of Scottes from Priſon, when ſhe is upon the point to be lett out by Treaty; but judges there may be more probability, by means of Stewckley, of an Invaſion of Ireland from Spain. He writeth the Queens Inſtructions, in caſe any Perſon of Value ſhould make overture of a fitt Match for Her; and adds (of himſelf) that he ſees no continuance of her Quietneſs without a Marriage. Dat. 3 March, 1570. 35.

27. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, deſiring him to intercede with her Majeſty, that his Allowance may be raiſed. Dat. at Paris, 14 March, 1570. 38. b.

28. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, relating his Conference with Olivarez the Spaniſh Ambaſſador in Paris, (whom he found, more ſolemn, after the Spaniſh manner than wiſe) upon the Subject of the King of Spain's entertaining & knighting of Stewckley the Queen's Rebell. Dat. at Paris, 19 March, 1570. 39. b.

Num. 260.

29. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, declaring her Intention to ſend a Gentleman into Spayne, to know that King's Intentions towards her, by word of Mouth; and of her Reſolution to ſend Forces into Ireland, & to fitt out a Fleet for the Defence thereof. Alſo that he would uſe proper Methods to procure Redreſs to Sir Thomas Cotton, who had been treacherouſly and villainouſly uſed by De-la-Hay a French Gentleman. Dated at Greenwyche, 10 March, 1570. 40.

30. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, (a dark Letter, & partly in Cyfer) written by the Queens ſpeciall Command. It ſeems to relate to her Match with the Duke of Anjou. Dat. at Greenwich, 10 March, 1570. 41. b.

31. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, giving a Relation of a Conference between him, and the fugitive Archbiſhop of Caſſels who came to viſit him. Being upon the ſubject of Stewkleys inciting the King of Spain to conquer Ireland, whereby Hereſy might be expelled, and true Catholick Religion planted therin. And of the Archbiſhops deſires of being reſtored to the Queenes Favor, and to his former Dignity. Dat. at Paris, 19 March. 1570. 42.

32. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, being a Letter of Inſtructions to him, containing ſundry Heads for his Anſwers, to be made in her Name to the Overture made to her (by way of Articles) for a marriage between her & Monſieur the Duke d'Anjou, the French Kings Brother. Dated at Greenwich, 24 March, 1570. 47. b.

33. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing his Opinion, with ſome farther Inſtructions relating to the ſame Matter. Dat. at Greenwich, 24 March, 1570. 54. b.

34. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, ſetting forth his Conference with the Queen-Mother of France, as to a marriage between Qu. Elizabeth and her Son the Duke d'Anjou, according to the Inſtructions mentioned, N°. 32. Dat. at Paris, 2 April (A.D. 1571.) 55. b.

35. The Earle of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, touching the Queens reſolution to marry; and of the Difficulties that might happen, in regard of Monſieurs Religion. Dat. 23 March, 1570. 59.

36. Qu. Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing that Mr. Henry Cobham one of her Gentlemen-Penſioners, is (according to her former Reſolution) ſent by her to the King of Spain, with Orders to take Erance in his way, that he might inform him (Mr. Walſingham) of certain Matters relating to the Queen of Scotts, which he ſhould impart to the Queen-Mother of France. Dat. at Greenwich, 26 March, 1571. 60. b.

37. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, that the Earl of Leiceſter is for the Queen's marriage with Monſr. d'Anjou; and that ſince there are hopes of his changing his Religion upon ſuch Marriage, and appearance of being a Martial Prince, he may conquer Popery throughout Chriſtendom. And finally that the Stile of his poor Degree is Lord of Burleigh. Dat. at Greenwich, 25 March, 1571. 61.

38. Mr. Walſingham to the Right Honble & his very good Lord, the Lord of Burleigh, delivers his private Opinion as to ſome circumſtances attending the Queen's Match with Monſieur. The Sum of which is, for a War with Spain, to be made by France & England. He alſo begs Pardon for his forwardneſs, ſince 'twas his Office (as an Ambaſſador) to advertiſe, and not to adviſe. Dat. at Paris, 5 April, 1671. 62.

39. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, relating further Advertiſements concerning the fugitive Archbiſhop of Caſſells. Dat. at Paris, 4 April, 1571. 63.

40. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, deſiring his protection for the Daughter of Madame de Moicy. Dat. at Paris, 5 April, 1571. 66. b.

Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, directing him to promiſe the fugitive Archbiſhop of Caſſels, her Majeſties favor, in caſe he would ſeek it in England, & ſubmitt himſelf, &c. or elſe to deale with the French King, that he might be apprehended as a Traytor, & ſo ſent over. And advertiſing him with the little Progreſs made in the Agreement between her Commiſſioners; the Earl of Morton & thoſe of the young King of Scotts; the Bp. of Roſs, &c. ſent by the impriſoned Queen of Scotts. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 8 April, 1571. 67.

42. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing that the Queen of Scotts Cauſe was deferred, to gain time; and that Dunbritton Caſtle (the Receptaculum of the Scottiſh Queen's foraygne Aid) was taken by Cunning. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 7 March, 1570. 69. b.

43. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, that through the meanes of Captain Thomas, an Iriſhman (often before mentioned) the deſign of the Archbiſhop of Caſſels to ingratiate himſelf with Monſieur d'Anjou was fruſtrated. And that the Arch Bp. would ſubmitt himſelf, & go into England, if he might receive his Pardon from thence within 20 Days. Dat. at Paris, 22 April, 1571. 70.

44. Qu. Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, a dark Letter; deferring her Anſwer to ſome Queſtion made by the French Court, as I ſuppoſe touching her Match with Monſieur. Dat. at Weſtmr. 13 April, 1571. 72. b.

45. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, containing his Anſwer to the laſt Letter, Dated from Paris, 22 April, 1571. 73.

46. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing the great Satisfaction he takes in his Proceedings, and that he will endeavour to procure her Majeſtie, to conceive the ſame Opinion of them. Dat. at Weſtmr. 14 April, 1571. 73. b.

47. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, ſtill darkly, as doubting ill Succeſs to attend the Refuſal of ſome Offer, made (as it ſeems) by the French. Perhaps it related to the Match. Dat. at Paris, 22 April, 1571. 74.

48. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, deſiring him to uſe his endeavours for the Archbiſhop of Caſſells ſubmiſſion. That Her Majeſty would ſoon ſend him her full Reſolution as to Her Marriage with the Duke of Anjou. And deſires another Cipher eaſier than the laſt. Dat. on Good-Friday, 1571. 74. b.

49. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, relating the French Kings Diſcourſe with Monſieur Tilegny, concerning Monſieurs altering his Religion, upon the Match with the Queen of England; which Thing the King deſired, and the Queen moſt inſiſted upon. And of ſome hopes that the King would alſo change his. Dat. at Paris, 22 April, 1571. 75.

50. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, that the Sieur Cavalcant had imparted to Her certain Articles (for a Marriage between her & Monſieur) to which ſhe had returned an Anſwer; of all which he ſhould be appriſed, for his better proceeding. Dat. 12 April, 1571. 76. b.

51. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, a Letter of Inſtructions to him, upon the above-mentioned Articles given to her by the Sieur Cavalcant, & the French Ambaſſador, and the Conference held thereon, between them, & the Lord Chancellor, the Earl of Leiceſter & the Lord Burleigh; with the Anſwer made by Her to the ſaid Articles, and the Exceptions taken againſt that Anſwer. With Orders to him to inſiſt upon adjuſting the Matter of Religion, before any further Proceedings. Dat. 19 April, 1571. 76.

Articles delivered by the French Ambaſſador & Mr. Cavalcant 13 April, 1571. 79.

Explanatio Articulorum propoſitorum a D. Oratore Regis Chriſtianiſſimi, cum poteſtate reſervata ad ampliorem Explicationem eorundem, cum tempus poſtulaverit. 79. b.

52. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, adviſing that the Queen does not now ſend her Articles or Demands, as ſhe did intend. But rather inſiſts upon being complyed with as to the Matter of Religion; as having Notice from France, that that Point might be aſſented to by the French Court. Dat. from Weſtmr. 19 April, 1571. 81. b.

53. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, relating his Audience with the Queen-Mother, who cannot yield that Monſieur her Son ſhould change his Religion, but deſires to know directly whether by yielding or not yielding to the ſecond Article (about Religion) with all reaſonable Cautions; the Queen of England meant to proceed or forbeare. Dat. at Paris, 28 April, 1571. 82. b.

54. The Conference betweene me (Mr. Walſingham) and Monſieur de Foix, about Monſieurs changing his Religion, which Mr. de Foix thought could not be done, till after the Marriage; & Mr. Walſingham inſiſted on; and that Her Majeſtie adhered to her Anſwer as to that Article about Religion, as otherwiſe reſolving not to proceede. Dat. at Paris, 28 April, 1571. 85. b.

55. Qu. Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, offering Pardon to the fugitive Archbiſhop of Caſſels, & Reſtitution to his Dignity, in caſe he would humble himſelf, & come to England to beg it. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 5 May, 1571. 90. b.

56. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, that the King of Spain after expending much Money upon Stewckley, finds him worthy no more. That there are ſome hopes that the French will moderate the Article about Religion. And that ſome matters are revealed, from Scotland, that may be had for ſome great Perſons. 91. b.

57. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, concerning her Majeſties rewarding Captain Thomas, who eſpied into the Practices of the fugitive Archbiſhop of Caſſels, and other Iriſh Traytors; with a Character of Him. Of ſome ſecret Matters on the anvile, between the King of Spain, the Duke d'Alva, & the Pope, the particulars whereof he cannot yet diſcover. Intelligence (from one whom he ſett to ſpie over the Lord Seton's doings) that the Scotts there have ſome Enterprize in hand. That the Aſſiſtance the Scotts Queen could hope for from France depends upon the ſucceſs of the Negotiation for Marriage between Queen Elizabeth and Monſieur; as does the French Invaſion of Ireland again by La-Roche, who ſecretly told his Kinſman the Enterpriſe he was to have executed there before, was a Plot of Conqueſt, deviſed by Peter Strozzi in King Henries time. Dat. at Paris, 14 May, 1571. 92.

58. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, that it ſeems as if the French would yield to the Queen in the Article of Religion, rather than break off. Dat. 7 May, 1571. 94. b.

59. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, that the Proteſtants in France are zealous for the Match, and the Catholiques as earneſtly bent againſt it; and gives his Opinion, that if it be broke off, the Queen cañot ſtand; and deſires that her Majeſties Anſwer may be haſtned. Dat. at Paris, 13 May, 1571. 95. b.

60. To the Earl of Leiceſter and the Lord Burleigh, by Mr. Walſingham, deſiring that her Majeſties Articles or or Demands may be ſent to him with all Speed, for diſpelling all Clouds of Jealouſie on the ſide of the French. Dat. 19 May, 1571. 96.

61. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, giving her Reaſons, (to be by him communicated to the King, & Queen-Mother) why ſhe would have Monſieur comply with her, as to Religion; ſo far as forbear the Exerciſe of his own, and to aſſiſt at that of Hers. Dat. 12 May, 1571. 97.

62. The Lord Burleighe to Mr. Walſingham, acquainting him how the Queen was induced to inſiſt upon the Duke d'Anjous changing his Religion, as Matter of her own Conſcience; & how afterward, it was altered to the miſtaking of her good Subjects, & the danger of loſing their good Wills: with hints of ſomebodies (perhaps the Earl of Leiceſters) double-dealing in this Affair. That the Queen has recovered Edinburgh, and that the Scotts are inclined to govern by Magiſtrates, without King or Queen. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 8 May, 1571. 99. b.

63. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, relating the particulars mentioned at divers audiences he had of the King, the Queen-Mother, and of Monſieur, who own that the Queen of England's reaſons as to the Article of Religion are worthy of Conſideration. He commends the good Offices of the Lords Montmorancie, de Foix, of the Sieurs de la Motthe & Cavalcant, in this important Affair. Deſires that a Book of Common-prayer tranſlated into French (of which he has ſeen ſome printed in Guerneſey) may be ſent to him, to ſhew to Monſieur. And intimates a Requeſt from Count Lodowick, that Mr. Hawkins might ſerve him under-hand, with certain Shipps. Dat. at Vernon, 25 Maie, 1571. 101.

64. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burghley, including a Memorial to the Queen, about a French Ship, & deſiring ſpeedie Juſtice. And touching a Paſport deſired by the Queen-Mother for the Scotiſh Ambaſſador to repayre to the Queen his Miſtreſs, in Priſon in England. Dated at Nantes, 26 May, 1571. 104.

65. The Lord Burghley to Mr. Walſingham, acquainting him how near the Match was to be broken off, upon making that Toy, the Reſtitution of Callice, one of her Majeſties Articles; which after, thro' the Advice of the Earl of Leiceſter, &c. was left out. That a Copie of them was communicated to the French Ambaſſador, who ſeemed not to miſlike them; that at preſent, the Earl of Leiceſter furthers the Match. That the Scottiſh Queens Party have lately received Money and Munition from France; and that in Spain, the Practiſes of Stewkley are abated, through the Diſcovery of his Lewdneſs & Inſufficiency. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 5 June, 1571. 105.

66. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, deliberating with him about the Match, and ſhewing that Her Majeſty will not alter her Reſolution as to the Article of Religion, before her Marriage. Dat. 6 June, 1571. 106. b.

67. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, being a Letter accompanying her Articles, as to the Match. Inſtructing him what to ſay to the French King & Queen-Mother with relation to them. And ſhewing her Reaſons why ſhe keeps the Bp. of Roſs in Priſon; why ſhe will not ſuffer the Bp. of Glaſgow the Scottiſh Queen's Ambaſſador to come into England; and why the hearing of the Cauſe of the Scottiſh Queen is ſtill delayed. Dat. at Oſterley, 8 June, 1571. 107.

68. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the Queens opinion, that if ſhe perſiſt ſtedfaſtly, as to the Article of Religion, the French Court will at laſt comply with her. And concerning their mutual Dowry, in caſe Monſieur and She ſhould marry. Dated at Oſterley, 7 June, 1571. He ſends alſo the French

Num. 260.

Common-prayer book, abovementioned, which was hardly gotten. 109. b.

69. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, appriſing him of the honorable Sentiments the King & Queen-Mother do entertaine of her Majeſty, in regard of her upright dealing in this Negociation; and eſpecially in ſending her Articles; before theirs concerning Monſieurs Religion was adjuſted. That the King would ſend Mr. l'Archant, a Gentleman of his Chamber & Captain of the Guard to Monſieur d'Anjou, to thank her therefore, and to know her pleaſure when he ſhould ſend Marſhall Montmorency, & Monſieur de Foix his Ambaſſadors, with his full mind touching the Articles exhibited on either ſide. Dat. 20 June, 1571. 110. b.

70. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing that the Queen ſtill continues ſtiff, to have the point of Religion yielded by the French Court. And that, in his Opinion, Monſieur might do beſt to leave the matter entirely to her, whereby it might prove to his better Satisfaction. Dat. 9 June, 1571. 111. b.

71. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, concerning a practiſe contrived for ſtealing away the Scottiſh Queene and of the beginnings of Diſcontent ariſen between the Kings of Spain & France. Dat. at Leniers, 25 June, 1571. 112. b.

72. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, appriſing him of a Conference had between the French Ambaſſador with Monſr. l'Archant, and the Earl of Leiceſter with the Lord Burleigh, concerning the point of Monſieurs Roman Religion which he could not ſuffer. That ſhe is willing it ſhall not be at all mentioned in the Treaty; but then, ſhe expects, that after the Marriage he ſhould forbeare the uſe of it. And that ſhe forbears to grant a Paſſport, for Marſhall Montmorencie, &c. 'till ſhe knows more of the Kings mind hereupon. Dat. at Hampton-Court, 9 July, 1571. 113.

73. A Summarie of the ſeverall Aunſweres made by the Queenes Majeſtie to the French Ambaſſador, & Monſieur L'Archant, to their Meſſage and Requeſt (drawn up by the Lord Burleigh, as appears by the laſt Letter.) 114.

74. The Earl of Leiceſter & the Lord Burghley to Mr. Walſingham, concerning their Conferences with the French Ambaſſador, and Monſr. l'Archant, (mentioned at large in the Summarie above.) Dated at Hampton-Court, 8 July, 1571. 118.

75. The Lord Burghley to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the difficulties in this Match, eſpecially that of Religion, and that all her Majeſties Councellors are for it; the Amity of France being needfull, as matters ſtand between England & Spain. Dated from Hampton Court, 9 July, 1571. 119.

76. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the late Conference about the Queens Marriage, and her Inclination thereunto. That in caſe the Article of Religion ſhould be left out of the Treaty, her Majeſtie will require that Monſieur ſhould not afterwards deſire the private Exerciſe of his Religion, which would infallibly break off the Match, which might prove fatall to us. And that thoſe in Credit with the King of Spain uſed Mr. Cobham moſt proudly and arrogantly. Dat. 8 July, 1579. 120.

77. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burghley, concerning the divers Reports touching Mr. l'Archants Reception in England, and the Queens Intentions as to Marriage. And that the French King intends to ſend a Perſon of good Quality to thank her Majeſty for her honorable dealing, and to deſire the continuance of good Amity. Dat. at Mellin, 27 July, 1571. 121.

78. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, upon the ſame ſubjects. Dat. at Mellin, 27 July. 122.

79. Mr.

Num. 260.

79. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burghley, relating the words ſpoken to him by the King, the Qu. Mother, & Monſieur, who all thanked the Queen his Miſtreſs for her honorable and ſincere dealing with them; and deſired that the amity between both Crownes might be continued, though the intended Marriage ſhould take no Effect, becauſe of the point of Monſieurs Religion. And that the King would ſend Monſieur du Foix into England, in hopes to find her Majeſty leſs reſolute therein. Dat. at Mellin, 31 July, 1571. 123.

80. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, that the King will ſend Monſr. de Foix into England to conclude the Match, or a ſtreighter Amity, very neceſſary for England at this time. That there are great practiſes uſed by the Pope, Spaine, & Portugall to hinder this Match. And that the French Clergy offer Monſieur a great Penſion to deſiſt. That the French Court grow more ſtiff for the Article of Religion. And that Meſſieurs de Foix & Cavalcante have done many good Offices both to Her Majeſtie & to his Lordſhip. Dated at Mellin, 31 July, 1571. 124. b.

81. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, deliberating upon our antient League with the Houſe of Burgundy, as now reſting in the Houſe of Auſtria; and perſuading to a League with France, as much more ſecure, though not ſo profitable; and that without the continuance of Amity between France & England, the Cauſe of the French Proteſtants is deſperate. Dat. at Mellin, 3 Auguſt, 1571. 126.

82. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burghley, acquainting him with the Audience the Spaniſh Ambaſſador had of the French King, and of the Threats of the Spaniard. That the Queen mother is much incenſed againſt the Spaniard, as being throughly perſuaded that her Daughter was poyſoned. And of the Journey of the King, to meet the Princes, and the Admirall, whom the Hugonots deſire the Queen of England to recommend particularly to His Majeſty. Dated at Paris, 12 Auguſt 1571. 127. b.

83. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burghley, ſhewing that Count Lodowick had come ſecretly to him and appriſed him of the Audience he had had of the French King, whoſe ſuccor he craved, in regard of the Tyranny uſed by the King of Spain in the Low-Countreys. That the Princes of Germany were willing to join with France & England in Defence of the ſame; upon Condition that the French King be content with Flanders & Artoys which once pertained to the Crowne of France: That Brabant, Gelderland, & the Land Lüdenburgh which once were federates unto the Empire might be united againe to the ſame. And that they wiſh that Zealand and the reſt of the Iſlands, might be taken by the Queen of England. That the French King & his Mother had hearkened to his Propoſals, and that it was agreed between them that Strozzi ſhould enterprize ſomething againſt Spain in a little time, to amuſe that King, and that the French King would nevertheleſs openly diſalow of ſuch his Proceedings. Finally, he craves aid of the Queen of England, and ſhews that 'tis her Intereſt to aſſiſt the Nobles, &c. of the Low Countreys, againſt the King of Spain. Dat. from Paris, 12 Auguſt, 1571. 129.

84. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, containing many reaſons to induce her Majeſtie to grant all, or ſome of Count Lodowick's Requeſts (of which Prince, he gives a great Character) for conſidering the State of England, at Home & Abroad: he thinks a peace between Spain & France would be the beginning of our Wars, and therefore adviſes his Lordſhip to deale ſo with Her Majeſty, as that the Fire now kindling may grow to a Flame, and we take Comfort by the Heat. Dat. at Paris, 12 Auguſt, 1571. 135.

Num. 260.

85. The Lord Burghley to Mr. Walſingham, that Monſieur du Foix is arrived in England, with ſuch Offers of great Amity, as he fears will divert the former intention of Marriage. Dat. at Hatfield, 16 Auguſt, 1571. 138.

86. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, in anſwer to his laſt; promiſing to uſe his endeavour in perſuading her Majeſtie to eſtabliſh God's Religion & her own Safety. That Monſieur de Foix has been very graciouſly recieved by her Majeſty; that he ſtandeth ſtiffe for the point of Monſieur's Religion, and her Majeſty as ſtiffe againſt it. 138. b.

87. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, touching the Conference between Monſr. de Foix, and ſome of her Councellors. That they cannot agree as to the Article of Religion; that tho' upon importunity, ſhe had conſented to the change of the Words Verbo Dei, into Eccleſiæ Dei, yet her Intention is not to permitt Monſieur or his Servants, tho' never ſo few, to uſe private Maſs: and this ſhe would have him to declare. That notwithſtanding ſome former Letters of his, Mr. de Foix has made no Overtures of any ſtricter Amity, and being ſifted ſays he has no Commiſſion to do ſo. And that when he has ſent an Anſwer to this, another ſhall be his Aſiſtant, 'till the Recovery of his Health, as he deſires. Dat. 2 September, 1571. 139.

88. Summa eorum, quæ Sereniſſima Regina, ſuaſit et Conſilio ſuorum Conſiliariorum propoſuit, in Colloquio, de tribus Articulis cum Illuſtriſſimis Oratoribus Chriſtianiſſimi Regis. 141.

89. The Lord Burghley to Mr. Walſingham, that Monſr. de Foix hath had 7 or 8 ſpeciall Conferences with her Majeſtie & her Councellors; yet now the Matter ſeems farther off than before; wherein he ſeems to ſuſpect & cenſure the double dealing of ſome. That her Majeſtie declares ſhe will aſſent to the Marriage if Monſieur will forbeare his Maſſe; tho' he believes ſome others may withdraw her from this determination. That he his clearly for the Match, tho' if it ſhould take Effect, he might ſuffer for it. That Mr. de Foix has had all Honor ſhewed him here, and he deſires in caſe the Match cannot be effected, that the Queen ſhould ſend an Ambaſſy into France for a ſtreighter Alliance & Confederacie between the Two Crowns. And that there are ſome diſcoveries made, whereby it ſeems that the Duke of Norfolke does ſtill mind the Matter of the Scottiſhe Queene. That the Duke's Secretary is committed to the Tower, and to be examined by Sr. Thomas Smith; and therefore he deſires Mr. Walſingham to enquire after Liggens the Duke's Servant, who hath long been about Paris, and the Court. Dated from Audley-End by Walden, 2 September 1571. 143.

90. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burghley, that the French King deſireth nothing but perfect Amity with the Queen of England. Whoſe Friendſhip likewiſe is much valued by the Queen-Conſort of France. She ſeems much bound to her, in that ſhe vouchſafed once to write to her; and therefore he adviſes that her Majeſtie would ſend her ſome Ring, which he thinks would be well beſtowed. That 150000 Frankes have been lately coined in Poictou, by the Officers of the Queen of Scottes; to be brought up to Paris & from thence to Scotland. 145. b.

91. The Lord Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, that the Queen promiſes to take his chargeable Service into Conſideration, 20 October, 1572. 147.

92. Inſtructions for Henry Killegrew Eſquier, beinge ſent into France to ſupply the Place of Francis Walſingham Eſquier her Majeſties Ambaſſador-Reſident with the French Kinge, duringe the Tyme that the ſaid Walſingham ſhall be abſent from the Courte of Fraunce to recover his Healthe, for ſuch Infirmities as preſently he is is troubled withall. Dat. at Richmond, 19 October, 1572.

Herein, he is ordered to open to the French King the Practiſes & Deſigns of the Queen of Scotts and the Duke of Norfolke, who after warning given them before, and contrary to their ſolemn promiſes, Oaths, & Letters under their Hands, did conſpire to deprive the Queen of her Crown, & to place herſelf in the Throne of England, not only by aid of traiterous Engliſh, &c. but by foreign force, namely Spaniſh, to gaine which, the Qu. of Scotts pretended to ſend her Son into Spaine, and to marry with Don John of Auſtria. In which Matter, ſhe gave directions that none of the French Kings Miniſter ſhould be made privy to it, ſhe being reſolved to follow wholly the directions of the King of Spain. 147.

93. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, advertiſing him of Mr. Killegrews arrival, to relieve him during his Illneſs. That there are reaſons to apprehend that the Battle of Lepanto may prove more eſpecially profitable to Spain, in that the Spaniſh Faction in France may from thence induce the King and the Queen-Mother (who is naturally fearfull) to paſs by the Injuries done them by the King of Spain. That there are Letters from Emden going to the Queen of England, to deſire that the Narrow-Seas may be cleared of Privates; as alſo Exemption from Payment of a certain Cuſtome, in conſideration of the Favor ſhewn to her Majeſties Subjects there. Dat. at Paris, 8 November, 1572. 149. b.

94. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, thanking him for late favors, and ſhewing that the French King inwardly is not joyful for the Victory of Lepanto (La Panta) ſince it proved ſo glorious for Spaine. And therefore adviſes that the Queen do ſpeedily ſend ſome Perſon over to conclude a ſtraiter Amity with the French. Dat. at Paris, 7 Novem. 1572. 151. b.

95. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, and to his (Lordſhips) Brother in Lawe Henry Killegrewe Eſq; wherewith he ſends a Latine Treatiſe lately printed, concerning the Marriage of the Qu. of Scottes with Earl Bothwell which is alſo to be printed in Engliſh with Additions. That the Queen will ſend the Lord Grey, or Sr. Peter Grey into France. That the Duke of Norfolke's Caſe grows dayly more odious. And that the Lord Hunſdon is gone for Scotland to endeavour to bring Grange (one of the chiefeſt Partiſans for the Qu. of Scotts) and Edinburgh-Caſtle to the Young King's Devotion. Which if not to be effected by fair Means, muſt be done by force from England. Dat. at Richmond, 1 Novemb. 1572. 152.

96. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, that the Marſhall de Coſſe had procured a Loane for the French Kinge of his Subjects. That this Marſhall, with Marſhall Montmorencie had come to Paris, and there plucked down the Croſs, to the Comfort of the Proteſtants, and diſguſt of the Papiſts. Dat. 7 Decemb. 1572. 153.

97. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, a Letter of no great Moment, from Greenwich, 5 of December, 1572. 153. b.

98. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, ſent by Sir Thomas Smith, who is ſent by the Queen to treate with the French Court about the Marriage, and increaſe of Amity. That her Majeſty has declared to the States of Scotland, that ſhe will never ſuffer the Scotts Queen to reſume the Government of Scotland. And that the ſaid Scotts Queen is kept ſo ſtreightly, as that ſhe has but ten perſons of her own about her. Dat. at Greenwich, 7 December, 1572. 154.

99. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, concerning her Majeſties willingneſs to be married to Monſieur d'Anjou, and requiring him to impart all the paſt Proceedings in relation to that Affair, to the

Num. 260.

Admirall of France, as by order of her Majeſtie: And if the Admirall ſhould like well of ſuch Marriage, then to deſire him to be at the Court, during Sir Thomas Smithes continuance there; in order to be privie to their Dealings. Dat. at Greenwich, 7th of December, 1572. 155. b.

100. Inſtructions given to Sir Thomas Smith Knight one of the Queenes Majeſties Privie Councell, & Ambaſſador in France; and to Francis Walſingham Eſq; her Ambaſſador Ordinary there; and in his Abſence, to her Majeſties truſtie Servant Henry Killegrew Eſq; Geven at Weſtminſter the 13th Day of February, 1572, the 15th yeare of her Majeſties Raigne. 157.

Concerning a League to be entered into, mutually, by France & England: wherein the greateſt Difficulty was, to oblige the French to aid England, in caſe it ſhould be invaded upon the account of Religion.

101. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, concerning the Succeſs of the Q. of Scotts Party in Scotland, in their application to the French King for relief. Dat. at Paris, 29 Decemb. 1572. 164.

102. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, whereby it appears he had conferred with Marſhall Montmorencie touching the Marriage; and of the good will he bare to the ſame; and to the ſpeedy effecting it. Dat. at Paris, 31 Decemb. 1572. 165.

103. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Leiceſter? touching his conference with Marſhal de Montmorencie, about the Marriage, and of his Endeavors to further the ſame. That Limerolles the chiefeſt Diſwader againſt the Marriage is ſlaine. Dat. at Paris, 31 Decemb. 1572. 165. b.

104. A Mynut of my Lord Burleighs Letter to Sir Thomas Smith, of the 28 December. 166.

i. e. Concerning the ill demeanor of the Spaniſh Ambaſſador here, eſpecially with relation to his Lordſhip. No accord likely, between the two oppoſite parties in Scotland: With requeſts of the French Ambaſſador here for the reſtitution of the Qu. of Scotts, and of the Money taken as going from France to Scotland. Both which were denied.

105. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, that the Spaniſh Ambaſſador here was, in the Queenes Name, commanded to departe the Realme, upon his renewed Practices, to perſwade the Catholicks, that the King his Maſter would aide them with Power, this Springe, &c. that his Daughter is lately married to the Earle of Oxford, and that her Majeſtie honor'd the Wedding with her Preſence. Dat. at Weſtminſter . . . Decr. 1572. 168.

106. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, that the Queen, merciſull Ladie, hath taken more harme by Mercie than by Juſtice. 129. Sir Thomas Smith to the Lord Burleigh, that the League with France is concluded; and thereby the Q. of Scotts given up to the Queen; no mention being made of her therein. Dat. from Bloyes, 17 Aprill, 1572. 224. b.

130. Sir Thomas Smith to the Lord Burleigh, therewith ſending him a Tranſcript of the League lately concluded between England & France, a tranſlation of it into French, and an explication of ſome general Words uſed therin. Dated from Bloyes, 22 April, 1572. 226. b.

131. Sir Thomas Smith to the Lord Burleigh, rejoycing that Monſr. du Croque was gone into Scotland, who had lately wrote to the French King his Maſter, that he believed the Engliſh Court would not permitt him to go thither at all; which Notification had cauſed many jealouſies & ſuſpicions. That the Duke de Montmorencie & Monſ. du Foix the French Ambaſſadors to England, lay ready to embarque, as ſoon as the Engliſh Admirall came for them. He wiſhes that Monſr. de Montmorencie might be honoured with the Order of the Garter, as his Fathers was. He being a great Prince, and an entire Lover of our Queen and Nation. He is glad that the League lately concluded is approved of in England, and thinks it a great Security unto it. Dat. from Paris, 7 May, 1572. 227.

132. Then follow the dates of divers Letters to the Lord Burleigh, by Sir Thomas Smith, as it ſeems: moſt of which are above-mentioned. 229.

1 3. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Burleigh, that divers Engliſh make ſuit to the Marſhall de Montmorencie to return into England in his traine; and would therefore deſire that care may be taken in that behalf. That one Chambers (who had formerly done ill Offices in Scotland) is in the Train of Monſr. du Foix, and is intended to be employed by the French King (by conſent of England) in compoſing the Troubles in Scotland, in Caſe the endeavors of Monſr. du Croque ſhould prove unſucceſsfull. That Count Lodowick is gone from France, but that he had placed Mr. Morgan with him, to advertiſe him of his Proceedings. Dat. at Paris. 21 May, 1572. 229. b.

134. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, lamenting the Queens Irreſolution, the Cauſe of many evills, which yet, for ſaving of her Honor, is & muſt be imputed to her inward Counſellors, who are not in the fault. He intends to ſend Mr. Walſingham the Commiſſion for treating with France about Trade, viz. as to ſuch Caſes as are not determined by the League. That le Croque is in Scotland, where it was ſuppoſed he could do little good. He deſires an Account of the States & Degrees, of the principal Perſons that come over with Monſr. de Montmorencie. Dat. at St. Jameses, 21 May, 1572. 231.

135. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, deſiring that his Boy . . . Clarke, who ran away from him, may be ſent over to him, to be made an example of. That the Scottiſh Queen is about to be attainted of Treaſon; wherein, as alſo in relation to the Execution of the Duke of Norfolk, at the great ſuit of the Houſe of Commons, the Queens irreſolution is much apprehended. Dat. 21 May, 1572. 233.

136. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, that Count Lodowick had ſent 600 Horſe to Bruſſels, in hopes to ſurpriſe & take the Duke d'Alva. Dat. at Paris, 29 May, 1572. 233. b.

137. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, relating the ſucceſſes and deſigns of Count Lodowick & the Prince of Orange, in the Low-Countries. As alſo a Requeſt of certain Italians made to Monſr. de Montmorencie, that the Queen would endeavour the releaſe of one of their Countrey-men (who had been ſerviceable to her) out of the Priſon of the Inquiſition at Rome. Dat. at Paris, 30 May, 1572. 234. b.

139. Commiſſio Elizabethæ Reginæ, qua conſtituit D. Franc. Walſinghamum procuratorem ſuum, ad tractandum cum Deputatis Regis Gallorum, de mutuo Mercatorum utriuſq; Gentis Commercio & Negotiatione. Dat. in Regia Sti Jacobi, . . . . Maij. A. D. 1572. 237.

140. Inſtructions (ſigned by the Queen) given to the Earle of Lincolne Lord Admirall of England, and one of the Lords of her Majeſties Privie Councell, appointed by her Majeſty to repaire to the French King in Ambaſſage, and att his Arrivall at Parris, or elſewhere, to be aſſiſted for the execution of the Matters underwritten, with Sir Thomas Smith Knight, Chauncellor of the Order, and Frauncis Walſingham Ambaſſador Reſident for her Majeſty with the ſaid King. Att St. James the 25th of May, 1572. 238.

The Effect of which are, to receive the French Kings Oath for performing the Articles of the League of Amity between both Crowns. To appriſe the French King of her Majeſties Deſign to protect the young King of Scotland, and to deſire him to do the ſame, as being the only way to procure & preſerve Peace & Tranquility therin. To declare the dangerous Plotts of the Queen of Scotts, not only againſt her own Son and Realm, but againſt her Majeſties Perſon, &c. for which the Parliament do ſolicit her Majeſtie to proceed againſt her, the ſaid Scottiſh Queen, by order of Juſtice. To excuſe the ſtay of La Croque, from going into Scotland, and to ſhew the Reaſon of it. Touching the unkind Dealing of the French Court, as to the Marriage of the Queen with Monſr. d'Anjou, in adhering to the Article for his Religion, after it was, in a Manner yielded up by them; which thing broke off the Treaty. To be mentioned, in Caſe the French ſhould propoſe a Marriage between the Queen, & the Duke of Alenzon. To congratulate the Queen of Navarre upon the Peace concluded between the Catholicks & the Proteſtants, & of the farther good Proſpect of Affairs, by the Marriage intended between her Son, & the Daughter of France. To encourage the Admirall of France and others of the Nobility joyned with him, in their Obedience & Loyalty to the King, now after the Pacification of the former Troubles. Not to forbeare ſaluting the Houſe of Guiſe, if he find them diſpoſed to accept it.

141. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham declaring his Opinion as to the partition of the Low Countreys. That the Q. was ſomewhat ſad at the Duke of Norfolks Death. (A dark Paragragh, perhaps relating to a private Love born to the Queen by the Earl of Leiceſter) That the Officers of the Queens Houſhold, the Earl of Pembroke, the Lords Windſor & Buckhurſt, with mighty traines, were gone to Dover to receive Monſr. de Montmorencie the French Ambaſſador at his landing. Dat. from St. James's, 6 June, 1572. 249 b.

142. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, recommending his Nephew Mr. Philip Sidney to his Care & Aſſiſtance. He reſents the Unkindneſs of Cardinal . . . . his boy Clarkes new Maſter, who refuſed to deliver him to him. That Clarke had made Supplications to him to be received again, but that he would not yield to; being minded to make an example of him. He hopes however, in a little Time, to ſend Mr. Walſingham Word where he is, that he may be apprehended. Dat. 26 May, 1572. 251.

143. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, declaring his intollerable charges, by reaſon of the Dearth, and deſiring that his Allowance may be augmented. Dat. at Paris, 22 June, 1572. 252.

Num. 260.

144. The Lord Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the feaſting of the French Ambaſſadors here, and of the Queens declaration as to the Caſtle of Hume, & France-Caſtle, in Scotland, before ſhe took her Oath to obſerve the League with France. Dat. at Weſtmr. 20 of June, 1572. 252. b.

145. The Forme of the Communication with the Duke Montmorency, de Foix, and la Motte, which they ſaid ſhould be to finiſh Matters expreſſed in the Treaty, June, 1572. Preſent the Lord Keeper, the Earls of Suſſex & Leiceſter, the Lord Chamberlayne, & Burleigh. Mr. Comptroller, Sir Raphe Sadler, Sir Walter Mildmay. 254.

146. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burghley, that the Scotch Ambaſſador & the Lord Grange's brother have made importunate Suit to the French Court, in behalf of the Queen of Scotts. But that 'tis his Opinion, that ſo long as ſhe lives, there will grow no good Accord in Scotland, nor continuance of Repoſe in England; nor perfect and ſound Amity between England & France. Dat. at Paris, 28 June, 1572. 256. b.

147. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, giving his Opinion as to the Wars in Flanders, whereon he thinks the Common Cauſe of Religion depends. And that in caſe it ſhould not ſucceed well, he ſuppoſes the Queen cannot promiſe to her ſelf any great ſafety; ſince the Spaniard would thereby be much increaſed in power & reputation. Dat. at Paris, 28 May, 1572. 257.

148. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, advertiſing him that Mr. Junius is choſen to eſtabliſh ſome Policy in Fluſhing, where all Things are in Diſorder, for want of a good Governor; and that he wanted his Lordſhip's Letter to Captain Morgan there, to aſſiſt him in the Execution of his Commiſſion. Alſo, that he deſired to confer with Mr Killegrew & ſhew him in what poſture the Affairs of the Netherlands are now in. Mr. Walſingham adds, that he perceives, that if her Majeſty does not ſend ſome Aſſiſtance thither, underhand, they muſt yield to ſuch Inconveniences as ſhall be laid upon them by the French. Dat. at Paris, 2 July, 1572. 257. b.

149. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, to the ſame effect. Dat. at Paris, 2 July, 1572. 259.

150. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, relating the great Entertainement, Honors, & Rewards, which the Duke de Montmorencie & Monſr. de Foix met with here. That her Majeſtie took a Month's time to make anſwer to their Overtures for a Marriage between her and the Duke of Alenzon; and in the mean time requires from him (Mr. Walſingham) a particular deſcription of his Perſon & Character; as alſo of his Followers & Servants. At preſent the only Objection againſt that Prince, being his Youth. That the Queen has taken Time till Allhallontide to conſider of the Bill in Parliament for diſabling the Scottiſh Queen to ſucceed to the Crown of England. And that ſome (perhaps meaning the Earl of Leiceſter) ſeem to abuſe their Favor with the Queen, by making her her own Enemy. 260.

151. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, that the French Kings Recoyle from the Flanders Enterpriſe, (i. e. not ſuccouring the Netherlanders) breedeth Coldneſs here. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 5 July, 1572. 262.

152. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, ſhewing how thankful the French King & the Queen-Mother were for the honourable Entertainment the French Ambaſſadors found in the Engliſh Court. And how deſirous they were for the Queens Marriage with the Duke d'Alanzon; and of continuing the Amity between the two Crowns in caſe that deſign ſhould not take effect. That the Admiral and the Heads of the Religion are very much for it; and believe that the Duke is not ſo ſtiffly grounded in his Religion, but that he might be brought to a Knowledge of the Truth. He gives a Character of him & of his Servants, and of their Love & Affection to the Queen. The Communication between him & the Admirall concerning the Reſtitution of Callis, in caſe of the Match; which the Admirall affirmed the French King would in no wiſe conſent to; but believed he might be induced to join in the Conqueſt of Zealand (ſince her Majeſty had already footing in Fluſhing) which would be much more worth to her than Callis. Dat. at Paris, 13 July, 1572. 262. b.

153. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, concerning the poſture of Affairs in the Low-Countreys, where it behoves her Majeſty to beſtow ſome aid on the ſide of the Prince of Orange. That the French would aſſiſt, underhand; but that their delay proceeded only from their wiſhes that Don John of Auſtria was onward on his Voyage to Morea. In the mean Time the French to diſguiſe their Intention, have putt out ſeverall Proclamations, for recalling their Subjects of France from Mons; for inhibiting any others from repairing thither, &c. Dat. at Paris, 13 July, 1572. 266.

154. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, appriſing him of the Prince of Orange's return to the Netherlands with a conſiderable Army. That the Turk makes great Naval preparations againſt Spain; offers the French King Money to break with the Spaniard; and deſires him by Mediation to compoſe the Differences between him and the Venetians, who are diſguſted at that Monarch. Dat. at Paris, 18 July, 1572. 267.

155. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, to the ſame Effect, & with the like Date. 267. b.

156. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, that the King has diſpatched a Servant of the Duke d'Alançon to thank the Queen of England for the Entertainment ſhe gave to the Marſhall Montmorencie; as alſo to give her Notice of the Marriage between the King of Navarr, and the Lady Margaret. Dat. at Paris, 21 July, 1572. 268. b.

157. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, that the French King ſends a Gentleman to England under pretence of thanking her for the Honour ſhe ſhewed to his Ambaſſadors. But that he takes the true End of the Journey to be, to deliver Letters from the Duke d'Alençon to her Majeſty. Dat. at Paris, 21 July, 1572. 269.

158. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, deſiring that a Scotch-man who had robbed a Portugueſe Gentleman in France & fled into England might be purſued and apprehended. Dat. at Paris, 22 July, 1572. 269. b.

159. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, that by the Overthrow of Janlis, thoſe of the Religion in France who before ſlept ſecure, do now ſee their Danger; and that if the Prince of Orange do not ſucceed, their Cauſe is deſperate. That they therefore have made application to the King to aſſiſt him, or to be employed by him in that Service. That the King of Spain has the Aſſiſtance of the Pope, & of other Catholic Princes who have no other Intereſt in the Netherlands, but that of Religion; and that ſince the Common Cauſe is ſo nearly concerned therein, they have made Application to ſeveral of the Princes of Germany to join with France in the Support of the Prince of Orange & his Party. It is therefore deſired that his Lordſhip would induce the Queen to join with the French King in this behalf. Dat. at Paris, 26 July, 1572. 270.

160. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, giving reaſons to induce the Queen to aſſiſt the Prince of Orange at this juncture, the Quarrell being mixed, and conſiſting as well of Religion, as of State. Dat. at Paris, 26 July, 1572. 271.

161. Qu. Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, containing her Inſtructions for giving her Anſwer to the French King, whereby ſhe declines the Marriage with the Duke of Alenſon, principally by reaſon of the difference in years between them. Dat. at Theobalds, 23 July, 1572. 272.

162. Qu. Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, containing ſome further Inſtructions, with relation to the Marriage. She propoſes that the Duke d'Alanſon ſhould come into England; and then if they ſhould not like one another, the breaking off of the Match might be imputed to Religion. Dated at Gerambury, 25 July, 1572. 275.

163. The Lord Treaſurer to Mr. Walſingham, that the Marriage with the Duke d'Alenſon is more hindred by the miſliking of others, than by the Queens own conceit. He thinks, that by no marriage, all Evils muſt be looked for; and by marriage without liking, no good can be hoped. Dat. at Gerambury, 27 July, 1572. 277. b.

164. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the Affairs of the Low-Countreys; and of the Queens Progreſſe (ſans date, but recd. 2 Aug. 1572.) 278.

165. Mr. Walſingham to the Right Honble Sir Thomas Smith, her Majeſties Principal Secretary, that upon Audience had of the King & Queen-Mother, he found them both averſe againſt an Enterview of the Queen his Miſtreſs & the Duke d'Alançon, unleſs they could be aſſured, that it would produce a liking between them. That it being affirmed that her Majeſtie had recalled her Subjects who ſerved in the Netherlands, the King was fallen from his Reſolution of aſſiſting the Prince of Orange, whoſe Deſigns therefore were in great danger of miſcarrying. Dat. at Paris, 10 Auguſt, 1572. 279.

166. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thoms Smith, that the French Court obſerving the Coldneſs of her Majeſtys Affection towards the Duke of Alanſon, intend to perſevere in that Overture, which in the End they hope her Majeſty will embrace, for the ſake of her own Safety. He hopes that Sir Thomas will put to his helping Hand in procuring a ſtay of the Revocation of her Majeſties Subjects from the Low-Countries; which would give the K. of Spain an Opportunity of putting his malicious deſigns againſt England in Execution. Dat. from Paris, 10 Auguſt, 1572. 282.

167. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, with more earneſtneſs upon the ſame Subjects; and acquainting him with the Admiral of France's Sentiments upon the ſame, and of the dangers which might fall upon her Majeſty & her Subjects, in caſe the Low-Countries were not ſuccoured. Dat. at Paris, 10 Auguſt, 1572. 283.

168. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, touching the ſame Matters; and that the Admiral of France affirms that ſhortly ſome Offer ſhall be made of Fluſhing to her Majeſty, by thoſe who are now poſſeſſed of it. Dat. at Paris, 10 Auguſt, 1572. 285.

169. Qu. Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, a Letter of Inſtructions concerning the coming over of the Duke d'Alanſon into England, now deſired by the French Court; and that he ſhould ſett forth how loath ſhe is to yield to it. Dat. at Killingworth, 22 Auguſt, 1572. 287.

170. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, playing upon the Duke d'Alanſon who will not take the pains once to ſee his Love, but ſhe muſt firſt ſay Yea; before either he ſee her, or ſhe him; with ſeveral jocular Reaſons for his coming. That her Majeſty has not recalled her Subjects from Fluſhing or Flanders; but only hindred others from going thither, for fear of too much Diſorder, for lack of ſome wiſe & expert Captain. 171. The Lord Treaſurer to Mr. Walſingham, that the Prince of Oranges Governor of Fluſhing is corrupted and become Spaniſh; that the Tower of Edenburgh is at the direction of the Regent, and the Rebells of Ireland overcome. Dat. at Killingworth, 22 Auguſt, 1572. 291.

172. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that he ſent his Secretary to thank the King of France & the Queen-Mother for the particular Care they took of him, & of all the Engliſh, during the laſt Tumult (the Maſſacre) which they ſaid, they did, as tending to the Preſervation of the good Amity between the Two Crowns. He alſo tranſmits the Account of the ſaid Tumult, which was delivered to him by Monſieur Picard the French Secretary of State. Alſo that the Duke of Nevers had ſhewed great kindneſs to him & other Engliſh Gentlemen. Dat. at Paris, 27 Auguſt, 1572. 291. b.

173. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, acquainting him, that the King had declared to him that Neceſſity, & the Safety of his Life, his Mother, &c. had obliged him to do execution on the Admirall & other Conſpirators, whoſe Proceſs was drawing, and when finiſhed, ſhould be tranſmitted to the Queen of England. With whom he was reſolved to continue in perfect Amity. That now the Heads of the Religion being taken off, the others ſhould enjoy the Benefit of the Edict. And that he was ſorry for the Murder of 3 Engliſh & the Spoil of others which happened during the Tumult. Dat. 2 September, 1572. 292. b.

174. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that the French King violates his promiſe, touching the Libertyes of the meaner Proteſtants; who have been barbarouſly executed at Lions, Bourdeaux, & Orleans, to the great diſſatisfaction of the Catholicks, who find that they cannot truſt in this Government. That the Baſtile is preparing for ſome Perſons of Quality, ſuppoſed to be the Prince of Condé & his Bretheren. That the Marſhall de Montmorencie is ordered to keep in his Houſe at Chantilly. And that the King being advertiſed that the Duke of Alva is ſtreightned by the Prince of Orange, intends to ſend a Force to ſupport him. Dat. at Paris, 12 September, 1572. 294.

175. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, giving an Account of what paſſed at a late Audience he had of the Queen-Mother, who deſired to know his Scruples againſt the Marriage of the Queen his Miſtreſs to the Duke d'Alanſon. And of the Queen-Mothers declaration that the King her Son would not permitt the Proteſtants the publick Exerciſe of their Religion. Alſo, that la Roche, who was employed in the Enterpriſe of Ireland, is gone to Rochell. Dat. at Paris, 14 September, 1572. 295.

176. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that the Queen-Mother extremely deſires the Enterview; and to that end the King would have Her, & the Duke d'Alenſon to go to Bulloigne or Callais, and the Queen of England to Dover. How affectionately that Duke ſent his Compliments to her Majeſty, and thanks for the Honors ſhe ſhewed to la Mole his Servant, who brought his Letters to her. That the Lord Levingſton and other Scots Gentlemen, deſire Paſſeportes to go for England; and upon this late Maſſacre, to deſire that perfect Amity might be eſtabliſhed between England & Scotland. Alſo that ſome of the wiſer ſort, wiſh that the Earl of Morton & the Lord Liddington might be reconciled, and that her Majeſtie might bind ſome of the Scots Nobilitie to Her by Penſions; which might ſave her much more Money, & prevent ſome dangerous Enterpriſes from that ſide. Laſtly, that the French King ſhews more than ordinary Kindneſs to the Scots. Dat. at Paris, 14 September, 1572. 299.

Num. 260.

177. Mr. Walſingham to Sr. Thomas Smith, adverti ſing him of the Prince of Orange's Victory over the Duke of Alva, near Mons. That after the Queen-Mothers Speeches on Friday, that nobodies Conſcience ſhould be forced, &c. the Prince of Condé, & the young Princeſſe were forced to hear Maſs, or go to Priſon, where in all likelyhood they would be ſoon murdered; as one Roulart a Canoine of Nôtre-dame & Councellor in the Parliament, a Catholique, was lately; for ſpeaking againſt ſuch lawleſs proceedings. That the King hopes ſoon to be poſſeſſed of Rochell; and then would ſend upon an Enterpriſe in Scotland meaning to wear out the Hugonots in conquering of Foreign Countreys. Dat. at Paris, 16 September, 1572. 302.

178. A Letter from ſome of the Lords of her Majeſties Privie Councill, to Mr. Walſingham, advertiſing him of the Audience which the French Ambaſſador had of the Queen, in what manner he declared the occaſion of the Maſſacre of Paris; and what Anſwer he received from her Majeſtie. With directions for declaring her Majeſties Thoughts thereupon to the French King, & his Mother. Dat. at Woodſtocke, 9 September, 1572. 304.

179. The Lord Treaſurer to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing that the fair Speeches & Excuſes of the French Ambaſſador were not much credited here: and that ſince Strozzi was equipping out a Fleet, it was reſolved to fitt out her Majeſties Navy, and to putt the whole Coaſts in Defence. He alſo deſires a Liſt of the chief Proteſtants who were murdered, and who eſcaped. Dat. at Woodſtock, 19 September, 1572. 311.

180. The Lord Treaſurer to Mr. Walſingham, that at length he had obtain'd a Letter from her Majeſtie to the French King to licence his Return to England. Dat. at Woodſtocke, 12 Sept. 1572. 312. b.

181. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, deploring the Inhumanity of the Paris-Maſſacre, and ſhewing his Deteſtation of the French King, if found in that diabolical contrivance. But ſhewing that her Majeſtie would aſſiſt him (if need ſhould be) with 20,000 of her beſt Subjects, in caſe he was impoſed upon in that Matter by the Enemies of the late Admirall, & of the Proteſtant Party. Dat. 11 September, 1572. 313.

182. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, lamenting becauſe of the late barbarous Maſſacre, wherein he believes the ſhare the King had therein was premeditated. He writes farther that the Engliſh Merchants dare not go over to the approaching Vintage, and that the Trade at Roan, is almoſt at an end. Dat. at Woodſtocke, 12 Septr. 1572. 314. b.

183. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, that her Majeſty has been, at length, prevailed with, to write to the French King for his return. And that care is taken for the Defence of the Kingdome. Dat at Woodſtocke, 12 September, 1572. 316.

184. Mr. Walſingham to the Lords of her Majeſties moſt honorable Privy Councill, containing his particular Speeches to, and anſwers received from the French King, and Queen-Mother. That there are private Conſultations among the Miniſters of divers Popiſh Princes. That Strozzi's Expedition ſeems to be delayed, as long as Rochell holds out. That there is a Report that the French King meaneth to ſuccour the Duke of Alva. And that the Amity of France ſhould not be too much relied upon. Dat. at Paris, 24 September, 1572. 316. b.

185. Mr. Walſingham to the Lords of her Majeſties Privie Councill, concerning the ſurrender of Mons to the Prince of Orange, and of a report of a likelyhood of an Accord between him & the Duke of Alva; which was not well reliſhed by the Court of France. Dat. at Paris, 25 Septr. 1572. 326.

186. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, commanding him to remonſtrate to the French King, how little his continued Practiſes to root out the Proteſtant Religion (which ſhe profeſſes) throughout his Kingdom, ſuits with his Overtures for Marriage between her and his Brother. To deſire to know plainly whither the Fleet fitted up & commanded by Strozzi, is meant; and to complain of certain violences committed upon ſome Engliſh Merchants, by the ſame. And likewiſe to preſent to the French King a Letter from her Majeſty, in behalf of the Vidame of Chartres, who lately came to her, and on whom ſhe has great Compaſſion. Dat. at Reading, 28 Septr. 1572. 326. b.

187. Her Majeſties Anſwer to the French Ambaſſadors Meſſage to be communicated by Mr. Walſingham to the French King, viz. as to theſe 3 points. 1. The ſaid King's Verification of the Admirall's Conſpiracies againſt him, his Mother, & Brothers, for which only he pretended to putt him to Death. 2. The continuance of the Amity between the two Crowns. 3. The Marriage between her Majeſty & the Duke of Alançon; to promote with the Queen-Mother of France offers to come over into England, and to bring her Son along with her. 329.

188. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, bemoaning the pittifull Caſe of thoſe butchered in many great Cities of France, whoſe innocent bloud, he ſays, cries out for Vengeance. He writes farther, that the two oppoſite parties in Scotland are not like to agree. That Strozzi's ſeamen uſe our Merchants, as Pirates would do. That there are hopes of compaſſing the greateſt Matter for the ſecurity of her Majeſtie & her People: (viz. the Execution of the Q. of Scotts). And that her Majeſtie is in great care for his (Mr. Walſingham's) welfare at this difficult juncture. Dat. at Reading, 27 September, 1572. 331. b.

189. The Coppie of the Queens Majeſties Letter to the French King for the Vidame de Charters. Dat. at Windſor, 28 September, 1572. 334.

190. The Lord Treaſurer to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the inhuman Maſſacre of the Proteſtants at Roan, done by order of the French King. Dat. at Reading, 25 September, 1572. 335.

191. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham deſiring him to help him to a Rider, (one that can menage the great Horſe?) if he can find a fitt perſon. Dat. at Reading, 26 September, 1572. 336.

192. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, containing an account of his proceedings as to her Majeſties Anſwer abovementioned, viz. in § 187. And of other doings of the French. Dat. at Paris, 8 October, 1572. 337.

193. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, concerning the dangers threatning England, from the Papiſts, and the incertain continuance of the French Amity with England. With Hints of the beſt way to remove the French & other Councils from Scotland, to procure Union among the Scotts, and to ſecure her Majeſties Perſon & Government. (i. e. by executing the Queen of Scotts) Dat. at Paris, 8 October, 1572. 341.

194. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, much to the ſame purpoſe. Dat. at Paris, 8th of October, 1572. 342. b.

195. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, upon the ſame ſubjects, and recommending two Officers to her Majeſties Service, ſince that by the Prince of Orange's retiring from the Low Countries, her Enemies will have the better Opportunity of putting their malicious Deſigns againſt her in execution. Dat. at Paris, 8 October, 1572. 344. b.

196. Anſwers

Num. 260.

196. Anſwers to the French Ambaſſador given by word of mouth by my Lord Treaſurer, in the Councill-Chamber, 3 October, 1572. 346.

197. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, that he believes the Dean of Wincheſter, whom he had placed about Mr. Philip Sidney, to take care of him in his Travells, is deceaſ'd. And therefore deſires his Lordſhip to provide accordingly. Dated at Paris, 17 October, 1572. 348. b.

198. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, that the Queen is recover'd, (as the Phyſicians ſaid) from the Small Pox; though ſhe and others ſay ſhe had not that Diſtemper; which, whatever it was, has left no marks on her Face. He includes within this, an Account of du Crocques Negotiation in Scotland, from whence he is returning. And thinks the Maſſacre in France, induce the Scots Nobility to draw nearer to an Agreement between themſelves. Dat. at Windſor, 13 October, 1572. 349.

199. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, adverti-ſing of ſome private practiſes, and conſultations between the French Court, and the Houſe of Guiſe, ſome Scotch Nobility, & Engliſh dependants on the late Earl of Northumberland; as it was ſuppoſed in behalf of the Queen of Scotts. He alſo deſires Sr. Thomas to recommend his Secretary to her Majeſties Favor. Dat. at Paris, 28 October. 1572. 350. b.

200. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, in anſwer to his laſt, and declaring his Suſpicions of the French upon the ſcore of their preſent plauſible dealing, And ſhewing how extreme kind that Court was to the Admiral and his Party, for a few Days before the Maſſacre. Dat. at Paris, 25 Oct. 1572. 351. b.

201. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that he had communicated the ſame Anſwers, as were lately given by word of mouth to the French Ambaſſador in England (vid. ſupra § 196.) to the Queen-Mother, and ſhews what ſhe replied thereupon. As alſo that the Engliſh Marchants Ships after being forbidden to touch at Rochell, were diſcharged. Dat. at Paris, 25 October, 1572. 352.

202. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that the French Queen was brought to bed of a daughter, and that ſome hours after, two Proteſtant Gentlemen were hanged by Torch light, upon Account of the late pretended Conſpiracie (whereof many of the Catholicks themſelves acquitted them) the King and Royall Family looking on. That the King was grown more bloudy-minded ſince the late Executions; ſo that the Queen-Mother had much adoe to ſtay him from a ſecond general Maſſacre of all ſuch as had ever been of the Religion. He relates the Speeches uſed by him at his Audiences of Congratulation, with the Anſwers he received to the ſame. That the Amity between Spain & France ſeems never to have been greater than now. That there is a project of a Match between the young King of Scotts, and this new-born Princeſs, to congratulate whoſe birth the French Court expect that her Majeſty ſhould ſend ſome perſon expreſs. Dat. at Paris, 1 November, 1572. 354. b.

203. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, that there being now leſs fear from the ſide of Spain than before, it is thought that the French King's cruelty towards the Proteſtants would rather encreaſe than aſſwage. Dat. at Paris, 1 November, 1572. 357.

204. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, concerning the French King's ſeverity, his Amity with Spain, & his Conjecture, that if France thus ruins itſelf, ſhe will alſo endeavour to ruin ſome of her Neighbours. Dat. at Paris, 1 November, 1572. 358.

205. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, that the Scots ſeem to agree better among themſelves, now that de Crocque & Viracque are departed from thence. Dat. at Windeſore, 30 October, 1572. 358. b.

206. The Lord Burleighe to Mr. Walſingham, a dark Letter, perhaps relating to the Overture of Marriage between the Queen & the Duke d'Alanſon. That the Regent of Scotland was reported to be dead; and that it was feared that the young King would be conveyed away. The Queen's Anſwer to the Motion of the French Ambaſſador, that ſhe would chriſten the young Princeſs of France with her own Name, and to ſend the Earl of Leiceſter and himſelf thither. 359. b.

207. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, concerning the Rider whom he had deſired Mr. Walſingham to procure for him. That all things are in quiet; and that not liking his preſent Cypher, he would frame a new one, & ſend it to him. Dat. at Windſor, 27 October, 1572. 360. b.

208. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, referring him for more weighty buſineſs to the Lord Treaſurer's Letters. That if the Emperor be dead, he thinks it will be better for the Proteſtants. And deſires him to countenance Benedict Spinola (the beſt Italian he knows in England) as far as he can. Alſo that upon his repeated deſires to be recalled, her Majeſtie, will appoint either Mr. Frauncis Carewe, or Mr. Henry Cobham, to ſucceed him. Dat. 2 November, 1572. 361. b.

209. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that Standen was lately arrived by Poſt out of Flanders, & after ſecret Conferences with the Scotch Ambaſſador, returned again as ſpeedily; that the ſaid Ambaſſador has had private Audiences of the Queen-Mother, at unuſual Times. And that from divers words he lett fall, it may be gueſſed that there are ſome Practiſes in Hand in favour of the Queen of Scotts. Eſpecially ſince the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, who came upon pretence of congratulating the French Queen's delivery, has a Commiſſion to treat ſecretly, for bringing the King into the League; for a Marriage between Monſieur and the Infanta; and for the Queen of Scott's deliverie. And that the Germans do not like that the Emperors ſecond Son ſhould be elected King of Poland, leſt that therby the houſe of Auſtria ſhould grow too powerfull. Dat. at Paris, 12 November, 1572. 363.

210. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, a dark Letter, relating to a perſon ſent over to her Matie. (and mentioned in former Letters) with ſome Overtures, perhaps for her Marriage. Dat. at Paris, 13 November, 1572. 364.

211. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, recommending Monſr. Maneſire whom the French King appoints to go into England, to deſire her Majeſty to be Goſſip to his Daughter, jointly with the Empreſs, and the Duke of Savoy. That a Legate is expected there ſoon, to induce the King to ſubſcribe to the laſt Councill of Trent; and to ſuffer a Cruſado to be levied in his Dominions, for maintenance of the War againſt the Turk. Dat. at Paris, 20 November, 1572. 365.

212. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, condemning the cruelties of the French King, and that the Queen has lately been troubled with ſome ſmall fitts of the Mother; which yet had occaſioned great Bruits. Dat. . . . November, 1572. 366.

213. The Lord Treaſurer to Mr. Walſingham relating to the Partie mentioned in n°. 210. whom the Engliſh Court is ſtill very ſuſpicious of. 367.

214. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, ſetting forth the French Kings inclination, & practiſes to embroyl Matters in Scotland; and therefore adviſing that her Majeſtie might allow Penſions to ſome of the Scots Nobilitie. And that the Amitie of France being grown doubtfull; would have the French Ambaſſador treated with accuſtomed kindneſs & civility, and yet her Majeſty to be upon her Guard. Dat. at Paris, 27 November, 1572. 367. b.

215. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, that many Miſchiefs are brewing by France & England. And that Maneſire is ſent over only to abuſe her Majeſtie. Dat. at Paris, 26 Novemb. 1572. 368. b.

216. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that the Rochellers have taken the Iſle of Rees, with ſome Ships of Bretaigne; and of the Kings reſolution to beſiege Rochell. How hatefull the French are grown in Germany ſince the Maſſacres of the Proteſtants; and how unacceptable the Election of the Elector of Brandenburgh to be King of Poland, would be to the French Court; where they do all they can to perſuade the World, that the coming of the Legate thither is not pleaſing to them. Dat. at Paris, 5 December, 1572. 369. b.

217. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, touching the French Kings practiſes in Scotland; where, ſince the Lord Regents death, the Queen of Scotts partie is grown by far the ſtronger; eſpecially by the acceſſion of the Earls of Argile & Atholl. As alſo his ſuſpicion that they are contriving to ſteal that Queen out of Priſon. Alſo, that before Meſſieurs Brickequemault & Canages (mentioned in N°. 202.) before they were executed, were cauſed to ſubſcribe to certain Blanks, which are now filled up with ſuch Matter as may beſt prove that there was a Conſpiracie. Which Blanks ſo filled up, they have ſent into Germany, to ſhew ſome of the Princes there, for the better juſtifying the late Maſſacres. Dat. at Paris, 5 December, 1572. 371.

218. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, concerning the Rochellers taking the Iſle of Rees; and the Report of the Queen of Scots partie in Scotland being ſtronger than that adhering to the King her Son. Of the Miſchiefs that may grow to her Majeſtie from that ſide, which may be prevented, unleſs too much Sparing hinder. Dat. at Paris, 5 December, 1572. 372.

219. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, that the Affairs tranſacted by the Legat at the French Court are kept very ſecret. And that to diſguiſe things, the ſaid Legate and the Spaniſh Ambaſſador have little communication together, but that another perſon goes dayly between them. That the Duke of Savoy is come to Paris, which ſhews as if the Amity between France & Spaine is likely to grow great. That the Turks preparations make them & the Venetians grow uneaſy, and to endeavour to putt off the ſame. Dat. 5 December, 1572. 373.

220. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, of the Encreaſe of the Proteſtants in Languedoc both in Number and Power; and of the Kings reſolution of marching againſt them. Of the Arrival of a Perſon from the Duke of Bavaria, as it is thought to induce the King to enter into the League; and to proceed in rooting out thoſe of the Religion. Dat. at Paris, 10 Decbr. 1572. 374.

221. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, of the ill Succeſs of the Rochellers; that the Duke de Guiſe has raiſed ſome Souldiers, and is come to Court. Of the Turk's naval preparations, and his commending the Emperor for keeping his Word. Dat. at Paris, 18 Decbr. 1572. 374. b.

222. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, that one article of the Legate's Inſtructions, is earneſtly to recommend the Queen of Scotts Cauſe to the French King; and to deviſe with him ſome Means for her deliverie, whereby England may be reduced to the Catholique Faith. That the French Ambaſſador in England having advertiſed that that Queen is likely to be executed, her Friends ſay it would be adviſeable to ſlay ſuch Engliſh Noblemen as ſhall be ſent to the Chriſtening, as a Pledge for her Safetie. That a Meſſenger has been ſent to Edenburgh, to promiſe thoſe in the Caſtle, that if they can hold it till Whitſontide, he ſhall have Aſſiſtance from the Pope, Spain, & France, Dat. at Paris, 8th December, 1572. 376.

223. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, concerning a Compoſition likely to grow between the French King and the Rochellers; for want of their meeting with foreign Aſſiſtance. Dat. 18 December, 1572. 377.

224. Mr. Walſingnam to the Lord Treaſurer, rehearſing the 3 chief Articles of the Compoſition propoſed to be between the King & the Rochellers, the hope of which makes the Court very merry; as being a precedent fit for other Towns to follow. Dat. at Paris, 18 December, 1572. 377. b.

225. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walſingham, containing her anſwer made to Monſr. Manaſſere the French Kings Meſſenger, touching the continuance of the Amitie between both Crowns; her being Godmother to the Royal Infant; and the Requeſt of Marriage with the Duke of Alençon. 378.

226. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, that Monſr. de Mannaſere was honorably received at the Engliſh Court. That after the Death of the Earl of Marre, the Earl of Morton is choſen Regent of Scotland, and labours to unite the oppoſite Parties. He alſo deſires to know what is ſaid in France, of the new Appearance of a Starre, over the backſide of Caſſiopeia's Chaire. Dat. at Hampton-Court, 11 December, 1572. 380.

227. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, perhaps relating to a talk of the Duke d'Alanſon's coming to England. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 11 December, 1572. 382. b.

228. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that there being no hope of getting Rochelle by Compoſition, means are concerting for obtaining the ſame by Force. But men cannot for that end be now levied in Switzerland, by reaſon of an Inhibition made at the laſt Diet. That the King therefore applieth himſelf to the German Princes, from whom though he has received many a churliſh Anſwer, he nevertheleſs continues to court them. That there are hopes from Poland of Monſieur's being elected King there. That the King hath ordered Repriſals to be made upon the Venetians upon the Account of certain Ships taken by them; and that he is diſpleaſed with the Earl of Morton's being made Regent of Scotland. Dat. at Paris, 22 December, 1572. 383.

229. Mr Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, chiefly to the ſame effect: as alſo, that the French Court will not be perſuaded but that the Rochellers are encouraged by her Majeſtie to hold out the City. Dat. at Paris 22 December, 1572. 384. b.

230. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, concerning (as I ſuppoſe) the Duke of Alençons coming over: the Cardinal of Lorrain's promiſe to the Pope, that the French King ſhould enter into the League. And that it is thought that the chiefeſt part of the Duke of Savoy's buſineſs in France, is, not only to make a Complaint againſt Geneva; but to conclude a ſtreighter Amity between France and Spain, by a Marriage between Monſieur, and the Infanta. Dat. at Paris, 22 December, 1572. 385 b.

231. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, relating the particulars declared at a late Audience he had of the King, (in purſuance of her Majeſties Letters abovementioned, N°. 225.) and his Majeſties Anſwers, with divers other Matters of leſs Note. Dat. at Paris, 25 Decr. 1572. 386. b.

Num. 260.

232. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord of Burleigh, concerning the State of thoſe of the Religion in Languedoc, and at Rochelle; againſt whom Monſieur, & Monſieur le Duc his brother, are to be ſent; accompanied by the King of Navarre, & the Prince of Conde. That Carpenter has written a Latin Vindication of the late Maſſacre; many Copies of which are ſent into Germany & Poland; in which laſt Countrey, thoſe Barbarities (as it was thought) would prove a great Obſtacle to Monſieur's Election. Dat. at Paris, 2 Jan. 1572. 389.

233. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, ſetting forth the Complaint of the French Court that ſome Engliſh Mariners are on board ſeveral Ships belonging to thoſe of the Religion. He declines to write to her Majeſtie to endeavour an Agreement between the King & the Rochellers. And ſhews how little regard to Juſtice the French uſe (contrary to their repeated fair Promiſes) in the cauſe of the Engliſh Merchants, who loſt their Goods in the late troubles. Dat. at Paris, 11 Jan. 1572. 390. b.

234. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, concerning a Rider whom his Lordſhip (in former Letters) deſired Mr. Walſingham to procure for him. Dat. at Paris, 11 Jan. 1572. 392.

235. Mr. Walſingham to the Lords of her Majeſties Privy Councill, concerning the want of will in the French to redreſs the wrongs ſuffered by our Merchants, and others, during the late Maſſacres; and particularly in the caſe of a perſon recommended to him by their Lordſhips in October laſt. Dat. at Paris, 23 January, 1572. 393.

236. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, that the Queen has now, at length, promiſed to recall him at Eaſter. That the Earl of Worceſter, appointed to repreſent her Majeſtie at the Chriſtening of the French Princeſs, has ample Inſtructions; and is ordered to communicate the ſame to him. Dat. at Hampton-Court, 12 Januarie, 1572. 394. b.

237. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, concerning his Revocation, which it was hoped would be effected in a ſhort Time. Dat. at Weſtmr, 12 January, 1572. 395.

238. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, concerning his Revocation, which this buſineſs of the Marriage with the Duke of Alençon (it ſeems) does retard. For her Majeſtie has declared that ſhe did not think it fit to employ Dr. Dale (who was appointed to ſucceed him) in this Affair; wherein ſhe beleved the French Court would not deal ſo frankly with him, as with Mr. Walſingham. He is alſo directed to ſound out the Bottom of the French deſigns as to this Affair: ſince what they have already done therein, ſhews as if their Meaning was not ſincere. That the Lord of Worceſter, a Roman Catholick, is to ſtand for her Majeſtie at the Chriſtening; but deſires his advice in all things belonging to his Charge. Dat. 12 January, 1572. 396.

239. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that ſince the Cardinal of Lorraine is returned from Rome, the Management of the affairs of Scotland is entruſted to him; who makes many of the Scots Nobility great Offers & Promiſes. Dat. at Paris, 21 January, 1572. 397. b.

240. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, concerning the looſe kind of dealing uſed by the French; which raiſes many ſuſpicions. The matter ſeems chiefly to relate to their overtures for the Queen's marrying with the Duke of Alençon. Dat. at Paris, 20 January, 1572. 398. b.

241. Mr. Walſingham, to the Earl of Leiceſter, that the French Court are grown ſhie of him, ſo that they chuſe rather to deal in the buſineſs (of the Marriage?)

in England. And that they make great Offers to thoſe of the Queen of Scotts party in Scotland. Dat. at Paris, 20. January. 1572. 400.

242. Mr. Walſingham to the Lord Treaſurer, advertiſing that a ſecret Councill had been held by the Queen-Mother, at which none elſe were preſent but the Cardinall of Lorraine, and two others. The Matter in debate was, how the inteſtine troubles of France might be appeaſed; and 'twas thought this could not be brought to paſs, without employing England. That upon this, they formed a Plot, to ſend over Forces into Scotland; to lull the French Proteſtants at Rochell, &c. aſleep for a time; and to releaſe the Queen of Scotts out of Priſon, by force. They being aſſured that a very ſtrong Party in England would aſſiſt them. Dat. at Paris, 14 January, 1572. 401.

243. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, that a Servant of the late Cardinal Chaſtillon is putt to death for conſpiring to betray the City of Rochell; and that he confeſs'd that he poyſoned his Maſter, in England. So that it ſeem'd as if the Deſign of the Maſſacres had been long laid. Sir Thomas ſays that the Engliſh Aſtronomers do not agree with the French, as to the place of the new Star (vid. ſupra, N°. 226.) but that ſince 'twas above the higheſt of the Sphere of Venus, 'twas plain that now Things above the Moon doe riſe & die, which was never believed before. Dat. at Hampton-Court, 13 January, 1572. 403.

244. Part of the Lord Treaſurers Letter to Sir Thomas Smith, touchinge th'Enteriewe, between the Queen-Mother of France, & Qu. Elizabeth, and ſuch things as have paſſed, for a Marriage, with the Duke of Alençon. 404.

245. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walſingham, owning the receipt of two French Books, the one being a Tranſlation of that written by Carpenter the Apoſtata (and mentioned, N°. 232.) the other written chiefly againſt the Lord Keeper and himſelf. From whoſe falſe aſperſions his Lordſhip vindicates himſelf with remarkable Expreſſions, and deſires Mr. Walſingham to find out the Author, if poſſible; or to deſire the Queen-Mother to cauſe the Printer to be puniſhed. Dat. 14 January, 1572. 405.

246. Inſtructions for the Earle of Worceſter, relating to the chriſtening of the young French Princeſs; the ſtop put to the Commerce of our Merchants in France, by reaſon of the unbridled Fury of the Populace, & lack of Juſtice; the Troubles in Scotland; & the Queen of Scotts. Dat. at Hampton-Court, 11 Jan. 1572. 406.

247. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, ſhewing his Suſpicions that the Marriage between Queen Elizabeth and the Duke d'Alençon, propoſed by the French, is but a practiſe to gain time, for the preſent, and to abuſe her at the laſt. He alſo acquaints Mr. Walſingham, that many times his Meſſengers are appriſed of the Letters they carry; and have diſcovered the ſame to ſuch as are no Councellors; and of the conſequences thereof. Dat. 18 January, 1572. 410. b.

248. The Earl of Leiceſter to Mr. Walſingham, anſwering ſome former Letters recd by him. Dat. 29 Januarie, 1572. 413. b.

249. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walſingham, to ſhew to the French King how that the Scotts are broken out again into open Wars, in defiance of him & of her Majeſtie, who had taken ſo much pains with them; and therefore ſhe determined to deliver up Heun-Caſtel, & Faulkes-Caſtles, into the Hands of ſuch as ſhould be on the part of the young King, and for the peace of their Countrey; and not to their former owners. 414. b.

250. Mr. Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, in anſwer to that at N°. 247. Dat. 6 Febr. 1572. 416. b.

251. Mr. Walſingham to Sir Thomas Smith, that Viracque is landed in Scotland, in order to augment the troubles in that Countrey; and desiring a Passeport for the Lord Levingstone to come thro' England in his way to Scotland; his Lordship promising in lieu of that favor, to discover several Secrets of importance to her Majesty. And still desires to be recalled. Dat. at Paris 6 Febr. 1572 418.

252. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walsingham, partly in dark phrases (as I suppose with relation to the French negotiating in England the Marriage with the Duke of Alenson) and partly relating to the secret Designs of the French, mentioned in N° 242. which advertisements were confirmed here by divers occurrents. My Lord still shews his dislike of the French Book lately written against him. And advises Mr. Walsingham, if he cannot follow the Court (for lack of Furniture, Money, & Credit, as he declares, in N° 251.) to lodge in some safe place near Paris, and upon some pretence, to send his Secretary. Dat. at Westminster. 419.

253. Mr. Walsingham to the Lord of Burleigh, that he had given a Passeport for one to bring a Box of Linnen to the Queen of Scotts. He thinks some of that Linnen may have writing upon it, and therefore advises, that after it is seized, it be held to the Fire, whereby the Writing may become legible. Dat. 11 Febr. 1572. 420. b.

254. Mr. Walsingham to the Lord of Burleigh, setting forth the Earl of Worcester's dutiful & discreet demeanor, in refusing to see a servant sent to him by the Lady Northumberland his sister. Dat. at Paris, 12 Febr. 1572. 421.

255. Mr. Walsingham to Sir Thomas Smith, relating the particular discourses used on either side, at the Audiences of leave which the Earl of Worcester had of the French King, and of his Mother. Dat. 12 Febr. 1572. 421. b.

256. Mr. Walsingham to Sir Thomas Smith, relating the success of the Kings Army before Rochelle, and touching at his Councills for continuing the War; to which end Monsieur Schomberg is sent into Germany, to leavy Men there; if there be any appearance of the Protestant Princes inclination to succour Rochelle. Dat. at Paris, 26 Febr. 1572. 425.

257. Mr. Walsingham to Sir Thomas Smith, concerning the good success of those of the Religion besieged in Rochelle & Sansarra. And that a Letter from Count Lodowick has been intercepted, promising the Rochellers succour from Germany; which makes the French uneasy. Dat. at Paris, 10 March, 1572. 426.

258. Mr. Walsingham to the Lord Treasurer, with some great News (inclosed therein) to the Advantage of the French Kings Interest. He does not entirely Credit it, tho' it be affirmed with Oaths. Dat. 17 Marche, 1572. 427.

259. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walsingham, that his Revocation is at length signed, according to his desire and Dr. Dale is to succeed him. That Her Majestie has sent to apprehend the Pyrates of all Nations, who under pretence of Commissions from the Prince of Orange, & Count Montgomerie, have spoiled many, as well English as others. That Virarcque who was sent by France to keep the Scotts still in dissention, has been forced by contrary Winds into Scarborough, & coming to London. During his stay there, some of the Scotts Nobility have come in to the Lord Regent's Party. But that the others still hold Edenburgh-Castle & the young King so obstinately, that there is no hope of their Surrender. That a Servant of Virarcque has been taken in Scotland, whose coming thither was under a faigned Pretence; but really to throw most part of his Masters Papers into the Sea, which he has done. An instance of the French sincerity! That the Lord Levingstone is come to London, but not yet trusted; some words having fallen from him and his Companions in the way, which have not fallen to the Ground. Dat. from Greenwich, 19 March, 1572. 427 b.

260. The Lord of Burleigh to Mr. Walsingham, relating the Propofals of the French Ambassador, at a late Audience had of her Majestie, and her Majesties Answer to the same, which putt the French in mind of particular Matters of Fact (and of the highest Importance) which she had kindly done to the French King, for preserving the Amity concluded between them. As to the repeated Propofal for the Marriage between her Majestie and the Duke of Alençon, she directed his Lordship to give her Answer to Mr. Walsingham, by him to be communicated to the French King. My Lord gives his Opinion touching that Affair, and desires Mr. Walsingham (after necessary sounding the Minds of the French Court) to send him his. Lastly, that he is informed from Scotland, that one Gordon is reputed to be the Author of the Book, (mentioned N° 245, & 252. (and desires him to find out the Truth thereof. Dat. on Good-Friday at Night, 20 March 1572. 228. b.

2. Repons de la Roigne d'Angleterre, au Sieur de la Motte . . . . Ambassador du Roy Tres-Chrêtien fait par Monsr. le Grand Treforier le 18 Mars, 1573. 433.

3. A Coppie of the Lord Treasurers Letter to the French Ambassador, containing her Majesties Answer, as to the Enteryiew proposed by him, towards facilitating the Marriage between Her & the Duke d'Alençon. 436. b.

4. Mr. Walsingham to the Lord Treasurer, relating the particulars mentioned at a late Audience had of the Queen-Mother, in pursuance of the Lord Treasurers Letter, N°. 260. Dat. at Monelle, 1 April, 1573. 437. b.

5. Mr. Walsingham to the Lord Treasurer giving his private Opinion touching the Marriage between the Queen & the Duke d'Alençon; which, as he thinks, will take no Effect. Dat. 1 April, 1573. 442. b.

6. Mr. Walsingham to Sir Thomas Smith, communicating to him the late Occurrences happening in France, Germany, &c. Dat. 1 April, 1573. 443.

7. Mr. Walsingham to the Earl of Leicester, relating some part of the News contained in the Letter above, and shewing that he has provided a Rider for him in Italy. Dat. 1 April. 1573. 445. b.

8. Sir Thomas Smith to Mr. Walsingham, that Doctor Dale is in his way to succeed him. That Matters go well in Scotland, none now refusing to obey the King & the Regent, but Lyddington & Graunge, who still keep in the Castle of Edenburgh. Dat. 17 March, 1572. 446. b.

9. The Lord Treasurer to Mr. Walsingham, concerning the Occasion of writing the Letters N° 261, & 262, of the Severity used by her Majestie towards Count Montgomeries Men & Shipps, using the men as Pirates, & the Goods, as gotten by Piracy; as an argument of her adhering to the Amity concluded between both Crowns. That James Fitz-Morris the Irish Rebell, having submitted himself with all his Sequell, Munster is now free from Rebellion. Also that the lewd book written against him, (vid. N° 260) is now brought over, and therefore desires him to take what Care he can to gett it suppress'd in France. Dat. at Greenwich, 30 March, 1573. 447.

10. Queen Elizabeth to Mr. Walsingham, being her Letter of Revocation; and authorising him to recommend Dr. Valentine Dale, one of the Masters of the Requests Extraordinary his Successor, to all fitting persons; to communicate to him all Secrets or Advices as may be meet for her Service; and to deliver to him all Plate, Furniture, &c. of Hers,

11. Reſponſe fait aux Meſſieurs les Ambaſſadeurs de France, 20me Auguſt, 1573, concerning the Marriage. 450.

I ſuppoſe that this book contains a tranſcript of part of thoſe Papers of State, which by order of Council, A. D. . . . . was taken from Mr. Ralph Starkey. Perhaps he had notice beforehand of ſuch an Order, and therefore cauſed theſe (with many more) to be tranſcribed with all ſpeed. And to this haſt, I aſcribe the many Errors of the Writers found in theſe Collections. And it is plain by the Vacancies at the bottom of fol. 10. fol. 340. b. fol. 394. b. fol. 419. b. fol. 443. b. and divers other places of this book, that ſeveral Writers were employed about the writing it, at the ſame time.

282.

A Book consisting of Original Papers, & Letters, relating to the Negotiations of Sir Thomas Wyatt Embassador from K. Henry VIII. to the Emperor, viz.

1. Sir Thomas Wyatts Transcript in long hand, of the Kings Letter written to him in Cyfre (vid. fol. 17.) and Dat. at Westminster, 22 February, anno Regni 29. wherby it appears that the Old Amity between the Emperor and K. Henry was renewed. The King commands Sr. Thomas to persuade the Emperor to write to him that he will stick to his former Promises, relating to France, & to the General Councill summoned by the Pope, to be held at Vincenza. That the Emperors Ambassadors in England seemed to accept of

of the Overture for the Lady Mary (the Kings Daughter) to be given in marriage to Don Loys of Portugal, with 100000 Crownes Portion, and ſhe not to ſucceed to the Crown of England, but after all other the Kings lawfull Children, born or to be born. And Don Loys to have the Dutchy of Millaine. Alſo, that they in like manner accepted of the Overture for marriage to be had between Prince Edward & one of the Emperors daughters; and of the Princeſſe Elizabeth to one of the King of the Romans Sons, or to one of the Sons of Savoye. 1.

2. The King to Mr. Pate Arch-deacon of Lincoln & his Ambaſſador Reſident with the Emperor, (predeceſſor to Sir Thomas Wyatt; this being the laſt Letter he recd from the King before Sir Thomas's coming) That the Emperors Ambaſſador here deſired that the old Amitie between the Emperor & himſelf might be renewed. With ſome other Motions, viz. for his Reconciliation with the Pope; for the Legitimation of the Lady Marie, and that ſhe might have ſome place in the Succeſſion. And that he would contribute toward the Emperors Warres with the Turk. And for preſent aid againſt the French King (who threatens the Duchy of Millaine) according to the purport of the League concluded between them. The King communicates his Anſwer made to theſe Overtures, wherein he ſays, that "He made "him" (i. e. the Emperor Charles v.) "firſt, King of "Spayne thenne Emperour, whenne the Empire was at his "Diſpoſition; and after, lent to him his Money; ſo that he" (the Emperor) "maye only thanke him for the Honour he "is now advaunced unto," &c. At the End of this Letter, in Cifer, the King deſires him to promote the Amity now about to be renewed, as far as he can (The Key of this Cifer is at fol. 11.) Dat. at Greenwich, 25 April, ann. Regni, 28. 7.

3. The King to Sir Thomas Wyat, commanding him to thank the Emperor for his kind Entertainment of Sir John Dudley. And in Conference with Monſieur de Grandevile, or Monſr. Cobus, to lett fall ſome ſpeech, as of himſelf, touching his wiſhes that he (the King) would marry, as that the Emperial Court may be therby induced to offer him the Dutcheſs of Millain, "whom "percaſe, he" (the King) "may honor by Marriage; her "Vertue, Qualities, and Behavior beyng reported to be "ſuche, as is worthe to be moche advaunced." Dat. at Weſtminſter, 22 Janr. ann. Regni, 29. 15.

4. The Original Letter, from whence that at nº. 1. above was tranſcribed. 17.

5. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, deſiring him to procure the Emperor to refer his Differences with the French King, to His (King Henries) Arbitration. But that herein he will not be joyned with the Pope, or be concerned with him. He would have the Emperor to prorogue the General Council ſummoned by the Pope to Cambray, or ſome other ſuch indifferent Place. In Caſe the Emperor will comply with him, he will give him aſſiſtance for his Warrs with the Turk. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 15 February. 22.

6. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, that the Emperors Ambaſſadors having deſired him to appoint Comiſſioners to treat with them, upon divers important Matters, did (at laſt) own that they had no Commiſſion to treat upon the chiefeſt point of all, viz. His (the Kings) Marriage with the Dutcheſs of Millaine, which uſage with what followed thereupon, his Majeſtie ſomewhat reſents. That then, they conferred about a Marriage between Don Loys Infant of Portugal, & the Lady Mary, with whom the King offered to give 100000 Crownes. He commandeth therefore Sir Thomas to open the whole Communication had here with the Emperors Ambaſſadors, and to deſire him to ſend a full Commiſſion to them to treat, or elſe to the Lady Regent of Flanders. But if he cannot effect this, then to induce the Emperor to renew his former Promiſes, of joyning the King with him, as a Principal Contrahent, in his Treaties with France: and not to give his Conſent to any Thing that ſhall be tranſacted in the General Council, which may be prejudicial to him, or his Kingdome. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 5 of April, ann. Regni, 29. 26.

7. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, that he has ſent Doctor Haynes & Doctor Bonner to the Emperor, to open certain Affairs to him; and therefore directs him to peruſe their Inſtructions, and to advance their Buſineſs as far as he can. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 7 April, ann. Regni, 29. 32. b.

8. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, commanding him to offer his Mediation for a Peace between His Imperial Majeſtie and the French King. As alſo to fiſh out the Truth of the Emperors inclinations towards him; i. e. whether he do indeed love him ſo well as he pretends to do. Dat. at Hampton Court, 10 October, ann. Regni, 29. 34.

9. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, requiring him to give the Emperor Thanks for his kind Entertainment of Sir John Dudley his Majeſties Ambaſſador. To offer the Emperor Aſſiſtance in his Wars with the Turke, in Caſe he will accept his Majeſties Mediation for a Peace with the French King, and to joyn him as a Principal Contrahent in the Treaty. In which Caſe, Sir Thomas is inſtructed, what to treat of on his Majeſties Part. Then the King ſhews, at length, the unreaſonableneſs of the Popes pretending to ſummon a General Council, and eſpecially at Vincenza; and would induce the Emperor by many Arguments, to oppoſe it; wherein his Majeſty would willingly joyn with him. Dat. at Grenewiche, 23 December, ann. Regni, 29. 37.

10. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, much complaining of the Coldneſs & Dilatorineſs of the Emperors Proceedings, whoſe practiſe is, to ſeek to his Friends in his Need, and to neglect them when his turn is ſerved. The King therefore, in this weighty Matter of his Marriage, requires a poſitive Anſwer. Alſo that ſome Barking Preachers who had ſlandered him in their Pulpits, might be puniſhed; as a Grey Freyere was lately at Roan. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 19 January, ann. Regni, 30. 43.

11. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, commanding him to advertiſe the Emperor that Pole is coming to him, as Legate from the Pope, and therefore to deſire him, according to the Tenor of the Treaty of Cambray, not to ſuffer him to enter within his Dominions; and in caſe he be entred, to expell him thence, without giving him any Audience; the ſaid Pole, whom his Majeſtie maintained at his Study, by Exhibition paid out of his own Coffres; with his Family, whom his Majeſtie had raiſed from naught to great Honors & Dignities, & Sir Nicholas Carew, &c. having conſpired to murder him, the Prince & the Princeſſes Mary & Elizabeth, and to take upon themſelves the whole Rule. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 13 February, anno Regni, 30. 47.

12. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, thanking him for his dexterous Care & Pains taken in his Affairs, and ordering him to thank the Emperor for the Refuſal he made to the Traitor Pole, to aſſent to the Cenſures pronounced by the Pope againſt him, (the King) and his Subjects. And to complain of the ſtrangeneſs ſhewed to the Engliſh in the Low-Countries, where upon a ſmall pretext, our Merchants Ships were arreſted: and divers incivilities done to the Engliſh Ambaſſadors at Bruſſels. That there was a ſudden Rumour ſpread through Germany, Spain, & other Parts, that the Emperor, the French King, & other Princes, by the Inſtigation of the Pope, were forthwith to invade England. Where, in the heighth of theſe Rumors, the Emperors Ambaſſador, ſuddenly deſired leave to depart, without ſhewing any Letters, but only faying it was the Queen of Hungaries (the Governeſs of the Low-Countries) commandment. That hereupon, for the Indemnity of our Merchants, he had arreſted all Ships belonging to the Low-Countries, or to Spain, where in particular, the Engliſh Merchants have been often ill uſed, through the Means of certain ſlanderous Preachers. And hereupon to know poſitively from the Emperor what his Intentions are. And that ſince the Emperor has declared, that he will not proceed as to the Marriage of the Dutcheſs of Millain to him, without the Popes Diſpenſation, &c. that ſince his Nobility dayly preſs him to marry, and Age comes on apace, the Emperor muſt not think it ſtrange, if he ſeek that Alliance elſewhere, which he could not have with him. Laſtly he tells Sr. Thomas Wyatt that he ſhall ſoon be recalled, & ſucceeded by Mr. Richard Tate. Dat. at Weſtminſter, 10 March, ann. Reg. 30. 50.

13. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, Gentleman of his Chamber; Doctor Haynes Dean of Exeter; & Doctor Boner Archdeacon of Leyceſter; his Ambaſſadors with the Emperor. That the French King has made to the Biſhop of Wincheſter, his Ambaſſador at that Court, an Overture for a Marriage to be had between the Duke of Orleans, and the Lady Mary, in hope that the Emperor would give the Duchy of Millaine with her. That the ſame Overture had been made to him here by the French Ambaſſador. But that he had declared that he would not ſuffer the Pope (to whom the French King had referred the menagement of all matters in Controverſie between himſelf & the Emperor) to be a Medlar, a Mediator, or a Principal Contrahent, where himſelf ſhould be a Partie. His Majeſtie then communicates the Conference between his Commiſſioners and the French Ambaſſador, upon the Points of this Marriage, and of a Treatie Arctioris Amicitiæ; previous to which he required that the French King ſhould bind himſelf by Treatie, never to make peace with the Emperor, but to join him in the ſame as a principal Contrahent, and likewiſe never to conſent to this Council now indicted by the Pope, or to any other for the future, without his expreſs Conſent firſt obtained. Dat. at Hampton-Court, 4 Maye. ann. Reg. 30. 54.

14. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, complaining of the Coldneſs of the Emperors proceedings concerning the Marriage of Ladie Mary his Daughter, with Don Ludoric the Infant of Portugal, propoſed by himſelf. Notwithſtanding which, he is willing to enter into Alliance with him, by marrying with the Ducheſs Dowager of Millain, upon honorable Conditions; and to enter into a League Offenſive & Defenſive with the Emperor. He likewiſe Orders Sir Thomas to propoſe to the Emperor, the marrying the Lady Mary with the young Duke of Cleves & Juliers, or with the Duke of Urbyne, and to know the Emperors Opinion thereupon. Dat. at Hampton-Court, 28 November. ann. Regni. 30. 59.

15. The King to Sir Thomas Wyatt, being a Letter of Revocation, Mr. Richard Tate being appointed to ſucceed him. Dat. at Greenwich, 12 Aprill, ann. Regni, 30. 65.

16. A Copie of the Kings Letter (in French) to the Emperor, againſt Cardinal Pole, who was coming to him in quality of Legate. (vid. ſupra. N°. 11.) Dat. at Weſtminſter, 13 Febr. ann. Regni, 30. 67.

17. Inſtructions gevene by the Kings Highnes, to his truſty & welbiloved Servaunt & Counſeillour Sir Thomas Wyot Knight, his Graces Ambaſſadour with the Emperour, who was ſent in Poſt, by the Emperor to the King, with a Commiſſion; and now ſent back by the King with his Anſwer, viz. that his Majeſtie declines to marry his Daughter the Lady Mary, with the Infant of Portugal, to whom upon that Condition, the Emperor would give the Duchy of Milaine. 2. To declare the Reaſons why His Majeſtie does not ſend a Commiſſion for treating of a ſtraiter Amity between them. 3. To ſhew the Reaſons of His Majeſties delay, as to the matter of his Marriage with the Ducheſs-Dowager of Milaine. 68.

18. Inſtructions gevene by the Kings Hieghnes to his truſty & welbiloved Counſaillours Sir Thomas Wiat Knight, & Philip Hoby, oon of his Graces Privie Chamber, to be declared unto the Emperor, the 16th of October, the 30th Yeare of his Graces mooſt noble Reigne.

That ſince the Emperor is reſolved go in Perſon againſt the Turks, the King adviſes him ſo to diſpoſe of his Affairs, as that whatſoever may happen, the young Prince of Spain, his Son, may be ſecurely eſtabliſhed in his Dominions. 73.

19. Inſtruccions gevin by the Kings Hieghnes, to his Truſty and Welbeloved Counſeillour Sir Thomas Wiat Knight, whom his Majeſte ſendeth at this tyme into the parties beyond the See, for the purpoſes enſuing. 77.

i. e. To joyn himſelf to (Bonner) Biſhop-Elect of London the Kings Ambaſſador to France, & to Mr. Tate his Majeſties Ambaſſador to the Emperor, and then to fiſh out the Deſigns & Intentions of the Emperor and of the ſaid French King, and how the Interview between them was brought about.

To ſhew the Kings joyfullneſs at this their Interview, which may bring forth much benefit to Chriſtendome, and to ſhew that his Majeſtie has recalled Mr. Tate, in whoſe Place Sir Thomas is to be his Majeſties Ambaſſador Reſident.

To declare the ſame to the French King.

20. Inſtructyons gevin by the Kings Hieghnes to his truſty & wel-beloved Servaunt Thomas Wyat Eſq. whom His Majeſtie ſendeth at this tyme to the Emperour to reſyde with him, as his Gracys Ambaſſadoure.

i. e. Firſt he is appointed to ſucceed Mr. Pate his Majeſties Chaplain, in his Ambaſſage to the Emperors Court, ſince that now the Emperor deſires a renovation of the former Amitie, after much unkind uſage of his Majeſtie, upon account of his Majeſties Divorce from the late Princeſs-Dowager, the Emperours Aunt. And then to declare the Order, Equity, & Juſtice of his Majeſties Proceedings in that important Affair; together with his kind uſage of the Lady Mary, whom his Majeſtie is willing to match with the Infant of Portugall, and to allow her Succeſſion to the Crown of this Realm, after all his other Legitimate Children. 79.

21. A Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wyatt to the King, ſhewing his Proceedings as to the Apprehenſion of Robert Brancetour his Majeſties Traitor who (as Sr. Thomas declared to the French King) was a Merchants Factor, and having robbed his Maſter, deſpaired of returning to England again, and now had moſt malicioufly ſett himſelf to conſpire againſt the King his Maſter. That at his Apprehenſion, Brancetor ſurrendered up himſelf, and his Papers, to the Provoſt of Paris, to be putt into the Hands of the Emperor, whom alone he acknowledged for his Maſter. That after the formal Promiſes made by the French King, at His Majeſties requeſt, they would not deliver up either Brancetor or his Papers and Writings to him. That upon the Audience he had of the Emperor concerning him, the Emperor declared that this Brancetor had done him great Service, in taking upon him his Commiſſion of Envoy to the Sophi of Perſia, upon the Deceaſe of another (in the Journey) whom he had appointed for that purpoſe. That ever ſince his return, for 10 or 12 years, Brancetor had followed him in all his Voyages, & ſerved him faithfully; nor did he know any Treaſon he could be guilty of toward the King of England, unleſs it were by going along with Cardinal Pole. That he would would not consent to the destruction of a Man that followed him upon his Word, and whom he had not yet rewarded for his Services; but that he would speak to the French King, & to the Constable, not to do him so great dishonor, as to suffer one that followed his Word to suffer Damage.

Then he complained to the Emperor of the ill Treatment of the English Merchants by the Spanish Inquisition, for not acknowledging the Supremacy of the Pope; as to which the Emperor vindicated the said Inquisition. He also complained of divers Spanish Preachers who diffamed the King, and the English Nation, and provoked the Spaniards against the English. To which the Emperor replied that Kings be not Kings of Tongues, and that if Men give cause to be spoken of, they will be spoken of Mr. Wiatt, so far as he can, declares the Emperors secret Designs, which occasioned such an alteration in his demeanor towards him; and gives his Opinion as to what the King should best do upon this Occasion. Dat. at Paris, 7 January, 15. . . 83.

22. The Kings Letter of Instructions to be communicated to the Emperor (sent to Sir Thomas Wiatt at Barcelona) containing his Majesties reasons against the holding a general Council at Vincenza; and is a Translation (into French) of part of the Letter abovementioned, viz. at N°. 9. 109.

23. Draught of a Letter from Mr. Thomas Wiatt to his Majestie, relating the particulars happening at an Audience which he & Mr. Vaughan had of the Emperor, upon the subject of Brancetor, whom the French delivered up to him the Emperor; upon the Duke of Cleves, whom the Emperor had dispoiled of Part, or of all his Territories; and upon the Subject of the English Merchants cruelly used by the Spanish Inquisitors. As to all which, the Emperor gave unsatisfactory Answers. And that he resents extremely King Henries calling him ungrateful, a Title he thought scarcely to be given to an Inferior, nor to be brooked by an Equal. Mr. Wiat gives his Opinion, as to the Cause of this unwonted fierceness in the Emperor. Da. at Bruxelles, 3 February 15 . . . 113.

24. Draught of a Letter (from Sir Thomas Wiatt) to the King; advertising, that the King of the Romans, his Sister, and the Emperor are all arrived at Brussells from Gaunt. He sends his Majestie an inclosed Letter concerning the Affairs of Germany, where many false Stories are published concerning His Majestie and his proceedings. And therefore proposes that a true account or relation of the same be drawn up, and he will cause it to be translated into the German Language, & afterwards sufficiently dispersed. Dat. at Bruxelles, 25 Februry 15. . . 119.

25. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the King, or to Thomas Cromwell Lord Privy Seale, hinting at some Designs hatching between the Emperor & the French King against his Majesty. That the King of the Romans being a friend to the Duke of Cleves, advises him to submit himself to the Emperor, as the best way to obtain his Favor, and that it was talked that the Dutchess of Milain was to be given to the said Duke. Upon this, he congratulates his Majesties Scape from that Princess, in whom tho' he suppose nothing but Honor, he nevertheless thinks his Consort ought to be free from Suspicion. He likewise hints, that of a long time there has been Affection between her & the Prince of Orange, and that it partly proceeded from her own Occasion. That the Gauntois have made their Answer of Submission, to the Accusation & Confiscation of the Town. Dat. at Gaunt, 9 March 15. . . 121.

26. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the King, dated from Gaunt 12 March, 15. . . that the good Countenance shewn by the King of the Romans to the Duke of Cleves, seemeth now to be but a Practise, to separate him from the German Princes; as also by such Separation, and by the appearance of Amitie with France, the better to reduce the said Princes to the Emperors Will. 126.

27. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wyatt to his Majesty, dated from Gaunt, 14 March, 15. . . That the French had communicated to the Emperor what the Duke of Norfolke was treating with them, and what Answers had been made to him; which token of Amity on the Side of the French greatly rejoyced the Emperor, who before was very melancholique, as dreading the Effect of the Dukes Negotiations. That the Amity between the Emperor & France, stands without the Emperors parting with Milain. That the Germans are said to be about an Accord with the Emperor; which if concluded without comprehending his Majestie & the Duke of Cleves in the same, might prove prejudiciall to them both, & especially to the Duke. That a Force of Spaniards & Italians, are coming into Flanders; and that it is possible that the Pope & the German Protestants may be reconciled, if he will own his Power not to be absolute and usurped by Scripture, but taken as by Consent. 128.

28. A Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the King, dated from Gaunt, 16 April, 15. . . advertising that the Duke of Cleves is come thither, whom he has visited and dissuaded from coming to any Accord with the Emperor, without his Majesties Advice, which that Duke promises to do; as also not to agree to the Sequestration of Geldres into the Emperors hands, without which he thinks the Emperor will not see him. And that divers of the Electors are to write to the Emperor, putting him in mind of his Oath, to do no Violence, where Law is offered. That the Reformation is begun in Poland. That there is a Truce agreed on between the Emperor and Denmark; with which Crown Duke Frederick Count Palatine is endeavouring an Agreement as to his Wives pretensions. Also, that it is said that the Duke of Lorraine & the Prince of Salerno, are to come to Gaunt. 130.

29. A Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt & Bp. Bonner to the King, dated from Bloys, 2 December, 15. . . relating their several Journeys thither, and the Audience they had of the French King, upon the Subject of the Emperors journey to be taken through France to the Low-Countreys, and of the intended Enterview. But, as yet, they own they cannot find who brought it about, nor what is intended to be done after it. They also relate the Opinion of some French, that it is but a Trick of the Emperor who means to amuse & deceive the French. 133.

30. A Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the King, dated at Amboys, 12 December, 15 . . . Relating his Journey to Chastelherault where he mett the Emperor, and had Audience of him on divers Subjects. One was upon the Duke of Cleves, whom the Emperor affirmed to have no Right to Geldres, and that he desired his Majestie to give that Duke proper Advice in that Case. That both he (Sir Thomas) the Bishop of London, and all other Foreign Ministers were forbidden to tarry at Court during the Enterview between the Emperor and the French King, who are already agreed not to treat, till the Emperors arrival into his own Territories. That Cardinal Farnese is coming with a Legation from the Pope, to both those Monarchs. And Sir Thomas believes that the Newes of his Majesties Alliance with the Duke of Cleves, has been the only Cause of this the Emperors sudden exposing his Person to the Dangers and Fatigues of so long a winters Journey. 143.

31. A Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the King, Dat. at Bloys, 16 December, 15 . . . who takes the Opportunitie of the Bishop of London's sending a Courrier with such Intelligences as he has gotten gotten of the Ceremonies of the Enterview, to advertize his Majeſtie, that the Emperor and the Court were come to Amboys, and is about to depart to the Caſtle of Châlons. That Mr. Tate was come out of Spain, not knowing that his Majeſtie had any Miniſter about the Emperor in France, & Sir Thomas gives Mr. Tates Conſideration & Induſtry their due Praiſe. He ſays alſo that Robert Branſetour (who paſſed through France with Pole) follows the Emperor; that he hears he has been ſecretly in England with the Marquis of Exeter, and believes he is capable of making large Diſcoveries; and therefore propoſes that his Majeſtie ſhould write to the French King, to deliver him up; and to the Emperor not to ſupport him. But that in Caſe this be denied, he ſhall not ſcape his Hands. 151.

32. A Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the King, Dated from Parys, 25 December, 15 . . . . Shewing that the Queen of Navarre had reported that the French King, the Conſtable, the Chancellor of France, the Emperor, and Grandvela his Miniſter had been in Council 3 Hours together: but that he believed they would agree, for the preſent, upon nothing; Since the Emperor might be deſirous of getting out of France handſomly, and keep the French in ſuſpence by delays, according to his Cuſtome; which is, to lett the Matter to depend upon a third Perſon, not preſent. He gives his Opinion of the Reaſon of this Journey now made by the Emperor, aſcribing it principally to his Majeſties ſudden Alliance with the Duke of Cleves. And ſhews, that as the Emperors affairs ſtand, he could come from Spain to his Netherlands no other Way, but through France. 155.

33. A Copie of a Letter from Thomas Crumwell (as it ſeems) to Mr. Wyatt, deſiring him to declare to the Emperor that if he will committ the management of the differences between him & the French King to the King of England, refuſing the mediation of the Bp. of Rome, the King will, out of hand, go through with the Marriage of the Lady Mary; and couple his only Son the Prince with the Emperors Daughter, born or to be born, (of years meet for him) with bond that he ſhall at the years of Conſent take her in Marriage. And alſo join his other Daughter the Lady Elizabeth in Marriage with one of King Ferdinands Sons. And alſo aid him in his Expeditions againſt the Turk. 159.

34. A Letter from the ſaid Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiatt, dated from London, 19 January, 1538. being a very kind & friendly Letter, touching his Revocation, the next April; and remitting Money to him, with advice not to be too free, as he had lately been in lending Mr. Hobby 200 Dollars, who had no need of them. Politick Charity foreſeeing rather for providing a Mans ſelf, than for the Proviſion of another to be left naked. 160.

35. A Letter in Cyfre from the Lord Thomas Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiat, Dat. from Weſtminſter, 11 February.—This is the original to that Copie mentioned above, at No. 33. 162. & 165.

36. A Short Letter from the Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiatt (of the ſame Date) letting him know that his doings are taken in good part, and that the King is his good and gracious Lord. 163.

37. A Letter in Cyfre from the Lord Privy Seal Thomas Crumwell, to Sir Thomas Wyat; Dat. from the Courte being at Weſtminſter, 11 February, 167.

It is a Duplicate of that above-mentioned, No. 35. but more correctly written.—And here it may be obſerved (once for all) that the Writers in theſe old Cyfres, do often miſtake, thro' haſt, by putting one Character for another, leaving out letters or ſyllables, or putting in others erroneouſly. And that thoſe who have written out the ſame in words at length, have made miſtakes of their own, when the Cyfre has been right.

Num. 282.

38. A Letter from the Lord Thomas Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiat, Dated from London, 13 February That he has cauſed Mr. Tuck to deliver 500 & odd Pounds to his Aſſigns, and has alſo reſerved the Houſe of the Freres of Aylleſforde for him, as he deſired: and requires him to ſend Advice of the Emperors final reſolution as to the Matters contained in the Kings Letters, as ſoon as he can. 171.

39. Another from the Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiat, Dat. from St. James's beſydes Weſtm. the 22 of February. Deſiring him to apply himſelf diligently & dexterouſly in bringing his Majeſties Purpoſes about, and at his acceſs to the Emperor to "Merke & Note in "ſuche wiſe the Diſcourſes, Proceedinges & Coñuni-"catyons their Contynnuaunce, Faſhyon & Vehemence, "with the very woords & aunſwers, as by the ſame the "certainte of thinges to enſue, may be conjected & "known." 173.

40. A long Letter in Cyfre from Thomas Crumwell, Lord Privy Seal, (written, as it ſeems, partly, viz. the latter end by the hand of Thomas Wriotheſley, afterwards Earl of Southampton, and partly viz. the former part by Crumwel himſelf) to Sir Thomas Wiat, ſhewing that the Bp. of Tarbez &c. were arrived with a Commiſſion from the French King, to offer the Kings Majeſtie the management of the Peace between him & the Emperor; with whom alſo he would make no Peace unleſs his Majeſtie was accepted as a principal Contrahent; and that in the matter of the Council ſummoned by the Pope, he would ſhew all friendſhip to the King. That the French-men affirme boldly that all the Promiſes which the Emperor has made to his Majeſty, or others for him; touching his mediating the Peace; his being accepted therin as a principal Contrahent; his (the Emperors) conſenting to nothing in the Council (though it ſhould take effect) which might be prejudicial to his Grace or his Realme; or as to a further Alliance: have no good Faith, or meaning in them, but are all full of Fraud & Deceipt. That to all this his Majeſtie returned a proper Anſwer, & much to the Emperors honor. He expecting from his (Sr. Tho. Wiats) Letters, & Mr. Dudleys Relation, to find nothing but Friendſhip & Kindneſs from the Emperor. He exhorts therefore Sir Thomas to uſe all his dexterity in inducing the Emperor to confirme his Promiſes in a Letter to the King, as alſo to prolong the Truce with the French, which if he give his Conſent to, that crafty dealing which the Frenchmen ſay they will cauſe the King to decyfre in him, will be diſcovered & noted in themſelves. Dat. from Hampton-Court, 1 March. 175, 176, 177, & 182.

41. Sir Thomas Wiat's Copie of the foregoing Letter in the common hand. 178.

42. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiat, from Weſtminſter, 4 March, the 29th of his Graces Noble Reigne.

This is an Original, and of the ſame Contents, (though written in the common hand) with that abovementioned, at no. 40. excepring ſome little differences, which alter not the ſenſe. 184.

43. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, concerning ſome rumours ſtrangely ſpread abroad, & that certain Ships have been ſent from Flanders (where the Engliſh Ships were putt under Arreſt) unto Spain. That Mr. Wriotheſley wrote, that the Lady Regent of Flanders, ſhewed him a very good Countenance, till the arrival of two Couriers from Spain, when it was altered all on a ſudden. He requires therefore Sr. Thomas to uſe all diligence in ſearching out the bottom of their Hearts in Spain, & to learn whether the Emperor ſent any ſuch Orders to the ſaid Lady Regent, what Intelligence they have with the French, & the Pope, and what they intend & practiſe. That the King is thankfull for his good ſervice, and upon his Return, will ſo reward them as that he ſhall be no longer needy. Dat. from London, 10 March. 187.

44. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiat, from St. James's, 4th April, that upon his Majeſties Commiſſioners treating with the (Emperors?) Ambaſſadors, they found many fair words, but attended with very ſmall effects. That the King blames him, for ſending his Letters, open, to the Biſhop of Wincheſter. And that by the Kings next Meſſengers, Dr. Haynes Dean of Exeter, & Dr. Boner Archdeacon of Leiceſter, he ſhall hear of the augmentation of his Diet. 189.

45. The Lord Crumwell, in Cyfre, to Sir Thomas Wiat, from Weſtmenſtr, the x of May, MDXXXVIII. that upon the laſt Diſpatch ſent by him from Spain, the King & all his Council find ſuch coldneſs in the Emperors Diſcourſes, as they much marvail at. That his Majeſtie is advertiſed from other parts that all things tranſacted at the General Council for the Benefit & Glory of Rome, be ſett forth and advanced by the Emperor; who deviſes with fair words to mock all the world, for his own Purpoſe. He writes this, that Sir Thomas may either bring things to a better Steye, or deſifre the untruth, that the Malice thereof may be the better prevented. 191.

46. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiat, from St. James's, 8th of April, that he has obtained the Warrant for the Augmentation of Sir Thomas's Diet in Spain, by a Mark a day. Which Diet being now encreaſed 54s. 04d. a day, he is to allow the overplus of 4 Marks to Mr. Maſon. That his Agents are very ſlack, & that he has left few friends behind him. He deſires him to tell Robert Brancetor, that if he will return to England, he will take ſuch Order with his Creditors, as that he ſhall be in quiet, and out of Danger; and that he ſhall fynde the Kings Highnes his good and gracious Lorde. 193.

47. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, from London, 12 April, acquainting him that Mr. Tate the Bearer, is to be his Succeſſor, and therefore deſires him to let him have what Plate or other furniture he ſhall deſire, at a reaſonable Price; he owns the receipt of divers Letters from him, and ſays that upon his Return the King will remember his Services. 195.

48. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, (moſtly in Cyfer) Dat. London, 16 April, declaring that the King's will is, that he ſhould return with all poſſible diligence, ſince he ſays that he has matters to declare by word of mouth, which he cannot do by Writing. He directs him alſo to inquire what the Emperor intends to do this year, whether he will go out of Spaine? or (if he does) where? or whether againſt Turkie, or Barbaroſſa? 197.

49. Sr. Thomas Wiat:'s Copie of the preceding Letter. 198.

50. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiatt, Dat. from St. James's beſides Weſtminſter, 4 May. Shewing y^t. he will receive the Kings Letters, ſignifying an Overture made unto his Majeſtie by the French King, with an Inſtruction howe he ſhall uſe & behave himſelf in the ſame. That his Majeſtie mervails that he is not more ſpeedy in his advertiſements, conſidering the Tyme & th'importance of Affaires nowe in Treatie among Chriſten Princes. 200.

51. Sir Thomas Wiat's Copie, in common hand, of the Letter above-mentioned, at N°. 45. 202.

52. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wiat, Dat. from the Rolls, 6 June, the 29th year of the Kings Reign, advertiſing him that Monſr. du Vauldray had been here from the Queen of Hungary Regent of the Low-Countries, to declare her Excuſes for her Conveyance of the Traytor Pole from Cambray (where being commanded by the French King to avoid all his Dominions, he was retired) to the Dominions of the Biſhop of Liege. That Don Diego de Mendoza the Emperors Ambaſſador was arrived, and had been treated with about the Marriage (of the Lady Mary?) but that nothing was as yet concluded upon 'till they ſhould hear farther from the Emperor, ſince his Ambaſſadors ſtick at ſuch things as are propoſed to them, concerning & againſt the Pope. That the Queenes Grace is quick with Child, and the whole Realme in perfect quiet, moſt of the late pardoned Traytors being heartily repentant. Tho' of the Lords Darcy and Huſey, Sir Robert Conſtable, the Lord Lumley's Son, Robert Aſke, Nicholas Tempeſte, Th' Abbot of Jervaulx, the Priour of Birlington, Sir Thomas Percye, &c. who had their Pardon, yet becauſe they have been openly condemned and attaynted of certaine Conſpiracies and Highe Treaſons ſithence the pardon graunted unto them, ſome of them are executed. 203.

53. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyatt Dat. from Stepney, 8 July, 1537, that there now appear ſome hopes of good Succeſs, as to the Marriage, in Treaty between the Emperor and England. That the Burgundians having gained ſome Advantage in France, having taken St. Pol, Montereul, &c. And deſiring him to write ſharply to his Servants, who are reputed common Stealers of the Kings Hawks. 205.

54. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, from Stepenhith, 24 September, in behalf of John Brymedgham (leg. Byrmingham) one of the Kings Subjects of Irlande, who was robbed upon the See, of his Shyp & goods by cerain Spanyards. 207.

55. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, from Mortlacke, 1 October, directing him (upon the Receipt of the Kings Letters) to offer his Majeſties Mediation to the Emperor, for concluding a peace between him & the French King, and deſiring him to find out how the Emperor is inwardly diſpoſed towards his Majeſtie; as alſo whether the Report that the Mediation of the Peace being referred to others is true or not. Likewiſe to find out what the Emperors Intentions are with relation to the Biſhop of Rome's Council, which is refuſed by the German Princes, and by his Majeſtie. His Lordſhip notes his negligence in not delivering the Lady Marie's Letters (to the Emperor) according to his Inſtructions. That Sir Thomas's Brother (in Law?) Anthony Lee has been in the Porters Lodge, for conſenting to the Stealing of certain of the Kings Hawkes; but that the Kinges highnes is nowe again Good Lorde unto him. He adds, that the French declare the Emperor in Words towards his Majeſtie to make only faire wether, and in his Harte, Dede, & Works to doo all that he canne to his Graces Diſhonour. Inſomuch as they boſt themſelfs, to have refuſed ſome honeſt Offres for themſelfs, becauſe they were knytt with vile and filthie Conditions towards his Majeſtie. 208.

56. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, Dat. from St. James beſides Weſtminſter, 12 October, deſiring him to advertiſe the Emperor that the Queen is delivered of a goodly Prince. And that the Kinges Highnes will write unto him, & other Princes of the ſame. 211.

57. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyatt, Dat. 16 October, from London, that upon the Queene Regents ſignification of the Emperors good Affection, & Intention to proceed ſincerely, his Majeſtie had ſent Mr. Wryſley & Mr. Vaughan into Flanders, with Commiſſion to treate with her. And that therefore the King had diſpatched Mr. Hobby to him, with his deſires that he would proceed in the Declaration of his Majeſties good Affection towards the Emperor; and promote this amitie between them in ſuch manner, as that the ſaid Treaty may have the deſired Effect. 213.

58. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, dated from St. James beſides Weſtminſter, 20 October, deſiring him to handle Matters so discretely, that at Mr. Dudley's return (who carried the Kings Letters to the Emperor, notifying to nim the Birth of the young Prince) his Majestie might find what he desires, viz. the Emperors good Inclination towards him. Also that the King desires to know what he has done as to Dignelly. (This Dignelly is also mentioned fol. 209. b. and I am apt to believe it is only a fained Name for Robert Brancetor.) 215.

59. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, dated from London 28 November, 1538, advertising him that the Lorde Marquis of Exetour, & the Lorde Mountagu, with a sorte of their Adherents of meane Estat and no Estimation gretely, have been commaunded to the Towre to Prison there, for sundry grete Crymes of Lese Majestie. That the 16th daye of this present, the Kings Majestie, for the Reverence of the Holy Sacrament of th'Altar, did sitt openly in his Hall, and there presided at the Disputacion, Processe and Jugement of a myserable Heretick Sacramentary (John Nicholson alias Lambert) who was brent the 20th of the same Month. That it was a wonder to see howe Princely, withe howe excellent gravite, & inestimable Majeste, his Highenes exercised there the very Office of a supreme hed of his Churche of Englande. Howe benignely his Grace assayed to converte the miserable man: how strong and manifeste Reasons his Highenes alleged against him. He wishes that the Princes & Potentats of Christendom had a meate place for them there, to have seen it. Undoubtedly, they shuld have moche merveilled at his Majesties most highe Wisedome & Jugement, and reputed him none otherwise, after the same, then (in manner) the Mirroer & Light of alle other Kings & Princes in Christendome. That at the Time of the Condemnation of the Sacramentary, the Kings Highenes caused some Proclamations to be made, which are printed. He desires him to sollicite the cause of divers Merchants his Majesties Subjects, who had been robbed by the Emperors subjects, so as that speedy Justice may be administred unto them. 217.

60. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, dated from the Nete, 30 Novembre, partly upon Sir Thomas's private Affairs, whose negligence therein he somewhat blames. That the Complaint of the Emperors Agents here, that they could have no Audience in Six Months, is groundless; and that they themselves have since owned that they never desired Audience but they had it. He does not like their Proceedings in their Demand of the Lady Mary in marriage. That since the Queen's Decease, they had demanded the Prince, for the Daughter of Portugal; tho' it would have been much better taken, if it had been done, by a new Commission from the Emperor, than by the old one, also, that the King requires him, again to renew to the Emperor his Offers of mediating a Peace between him & the French King, now, upon the Abasement of his Affairs in Italy, & the Succes of the French there; notwithstanding that the Emperor had said before, that he was sollicited for Peace when his Affairs went prosperously forward; but otherwise, heard no Mention of it. 219.

61. The Lord Crumwell to Sir Thomas Wyat, dated from London, 26th Decembre, that he should receive the Kings Letters with a Commission, to treat (with the Emperors Commissioners) that the King is well inclined to forget all things passed, & to enter into a perfect Reconciliation. And advises him therefore to use all his dexterite in inducing the Emperor to shew that he esteemeth the King as much as he pretendeth to do; and especially to follow the Kings advice, in the Matter of the Council. 223.

62. A Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt, to Thomas Crumwell, Lord Privy Seal, almost wholly upon the Subject of apprehending Brancetor (who was, as now) with the Emperor in France, practising with the Nuncio, and for Pole. And that Cardinal Farnese the Popes Legate, was suddenly to make his publick Entry into Paris. 225.

63. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the Lord Privy Seal, from Toledo, 2 January, being an Answer to the Letter abovementioned at N°. 59 he also (in regard his own particular Affairs go to ruin) desires his Lordship to move the King to recall him. 227.

64. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the Lord Crumwell, dated 22 January from Bruxells, setting forth the extreme dearnes of the Place, and therefore craving an augmentation of his Allowance. 229.

65. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the Lord Crumwell, dated from Bruxells, 3 February, concerning his discourse with Chapnys (who is also mentioned in the former Letter) & that two Gentlemen, Robert Valle & another, offer to serve the King, for the Truth's sake, & for the advancement of the Word of God; and promise to effect Wonders. 231.

66. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the Lord Crumwell, dated from Bruxelles, 14 of February, that the King of Denmark has sent Commissioners, & the City of Hamborough a Secretary, to treat of a longer Truce. That Peace has been offered them, but with such unreasonable conditions, as that they could not medle with it; nor with the Truce neither. That they have day to go home & return again before Palm-Sunday. And that by a third Person, he had putt into their heads, that if they should protract yet 40 days, or two Months, they should peradventure be desired of that which they now offer. This he thinks is no disservice to the King, nor to the Duke of Cleves, whose Investiture is still delayed upon pretence of the Emperors entry into Gaunt. Also that Tor, whom he employs as a Spie about Brancetor, still putts him in hopes of betraying him; but then there are difficulties in conveying him away. 232.

67. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the Lord Crumwell, dated from Bruxelles, on Shrove-tuesday, advertising, that Grandvela the Emperors Minister gives him many fair Promises touching the Extrusion of the Kings Traytors out of the Emperors Dominions; and for redress to be given to the Kings Subjects in Spain. That the French had rather involve the Emperor in a War with the Princes of Germany, than with the Turk, in order to draw him into an extreme necessitie of their Aid. Sir Thomas requests his Lordships favor, as to his coming out of the Kings Debt, to whom he ows 500 l. and to induce his Majestie to give him somewhat towards the purchasing the Lordship of Ditton; as also in the matter of his Revocation. 234.

68. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the Lord Crumwell, dated from Gaunt, on Palme-Sunday, that the Emperor gave a favourable audience to the Ambassadors of the Protestant Princes; and that other Ambassadors are expected from Hessen & Saxony. That the Pope is raising Money, (as it is given out against the Turke & the Lutherans. That he begins to grow unacceptable, and that his Money is all gone, & therefore desires he may be recalled, lest that hereafter he should not have the Means of doing that which may be thought meet to be done for his Majesties service. 236.

69. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt, dated from Gaunt, 2 April, that Grandvela had told him that they had no certainty of any Truce concluded between the Emperor & the Turk, which relation he thinketh false, in regard that the Venetian Ambassador had complained thereof, which being made without comprehending the Venetians, had obliged them to give Napoli di Romania to the Turke for Peace. The same Grandvela also told him, that they were accommodating Matters with France, which he thinks but a Practice to induce England to make some Offer to the Emperor, in order order to hinder it. That matters between the Duke of Cleves & the Emperor ſtand not, as they are repreſented to his Majeſtie; and that there is a talk of an Arbitration to be made between them. That ſince his Majeſtie deſires a Licence to buy ſome Horſes for his Saddle, he will aſk for Spaniſh Horſes, which are the beſt, and for 12 or 16 of them. That the Pope having augmented the Impoſition upon Salt, a Mutiny has been raiſed upon it in Peruſa; and the People there have deſired Radulfo Balyon to command them. His family long governed that City, but after the Deceaſe of his Father the Pope uſurped the Governance of it, under promiſe of Reſtitution, but indeed, did not reſtore it; which has given ſome Offence to the Emperor; and may perchance, occaſion a new Warr in Italy. Alſo, that it is ſaid, that a Devorce is to be made between the Popes Grandſon, & the Emperors Baſtard-daughter, the late Ducheſſe of Florence. 238.

70. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt, to the Lord Crumwell, dated from Gaunt, 5 April, that the Pope had written to the Emperor concerning his promiſed Donation of Millan to the French, who have held ſecret Conſultations, paid the Swiſſers their Penſions, and appointed them to come to Lions. Sir Thomas thinks the Emperor will not part with Millan at all, but ſpend the year with practiſes, touching the French, the Duke of Cleves (who is putting himſelf in Armes) and others. And that the Prince of Salerno, one of the moſt conſiderable perſons of the Kingdome of Naples, is deſirous of going into England to ſee the King. Sir Thomas wiſhes he might accompany him in the Journey. 243.

71. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wiatt to the Lord Crumwell, dated from Gaunt, 12 April, relating the Diſcourſe had at any Audience of the Emperor, touching the Flemiſh & Spaniſh Horſes deſired by King Henry; touching the Reſtraint of exporting Harneſſe from the Low Countreys to England; and touching the Duke of Cleves, whoſe Motion of referring his Title to Geldres to be tried at Law, the Emperor will in no wiſe hearken to, ſo long as he keeps that countrey in his Poſſeſſion. That there is now a coldneſs between the Emperor & the French King, notwithſtanding their late interview in France; the Emperor putting a Spaniſh Interpretation (i. e. to do as ſhall ſuit with his Intereſt) upon his ratification of the motion made by the French King for Marriage of the Duke of Orleans with the King of the Romans Daughter, & the donation of Millan upon that Match; the French Kings Daughter with the Emperor; and the King of Navarre's Daughter with the Prince of Caſtile; upon promiſe obtained that no particular ſhould be touched upon during his paſſage through France. Which dealing the French King ſeems to reſent. He deſires that Notice may be ſent to Callice, that a Ship may be fitted up for bringing over the Prince of Salerno. 247.

72. Draught of a Letter from Sir Thomas Wyat to the Earl of Hertforde, Dated from Toledo, 3 March, and recommending a certain perſon to his acquaintance. 253.

73. Copie of the Memoriall for Mr. Duddeley upon his Commiſſion; written by Sir Thomas Wyatt, and relating what paſſed at an audience Mr. Dudley & himſelf had of the Emperor, wherein notification was made of the Kings Marriage with the Lady Jane Seymour. Together with ſhort Memorandums, as to the Pope, & the Council ſummoned by him; the Peace to be made between the Emperor & the French King: And of the Conferences they had with Granvela. 255.

74. Minutes of what paſſed at an Audience had of the Emperor, wherin the Birth of Prince Edward was notified to him, written by Sir John Duddely: as alſo touching the particulars mentioned in that above drawn up by Sir Thomas Wiatt. 263.

75. A Letter from Thomas Wriotheſley (afterwards Lord Chancellor, & Earl of Southampton) to Sir Thomas Wiatt, Dated from Weſtminſter, 11th of February, declaring his reſolution to buy ſome Land in Hampſhire, and deſiring Sir Thomas to ſett the Price of it, for the Owners. 265.

76. Mr. Thomas Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, from London, 15th February, promiſing him much friendſhip; and giving him hopes, that among the reſt, he may get a Morſell, i. e. of the Abbey Lands, deſires him to ſett a Price upon the Eſtate mentioned in his laſt Letter. 267.

77. Mr. Thomas Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, dated from St. James's, 1 Marche, hopes by the next, to ſend him certain Tidings of the Augmentation of his Dietts; and writes that the Rent of the Farme in Hampſhire (which he deſires to purchaſe) is 8l. 16. 8d. 269.

78. Mr Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, from St. James's, 4 April, thanks him for his Courteſie in ſetting a price upon the Land in Hampſhire, which yet he will not meddle withall unleſs Sir Thomas would willingly forgoe the Title he had in the ſame. That as the Divel wold, the Bill for the Augmentation of his Diets was loſt, as it was carrying to be ſigned; but another would be drawn up. 271.

79. Mr. Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, from St. James's, the 8th of April, tells him, that he ſollicits his Affair much better than all his Agents, who are too ſlack. And deſires him to ſend his Gere (i. e. his Releaſe of his Title to the Land in Hampſhire) ſealed with his Seale of Armes, and ſubſcribed with his Hand. 273.

80. Mr. Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, from St. James's, 15th April, acquainting him that he ſends him a Deed to be ſigned & ſealed by him; & complains of the Negligence of his Agents. 275.

81. Mr. Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, in Cyfre, from Weſtminſter, deſiring him to remember his Suit, & ſhewing that his proceedings are well taken. 277.

In the ſame Page Sir Thomas has written the ſame, in his common hand.

82. Mr Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, dated from the Rolls, in more than haſt: deſiring him to induce the Emperor to make an Overture, of ayding no man directly or indirectly againſt the King; whether the Biſhop of Rome or any other would attempt any thing againſt him. 279.

83. Mr. Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, dated from Mortlacke, 10 October, that his doings are well taken, and his negligence in not delivering the Lady Maries Letters to the Emperor as yet not noted. That his Letters to the King had been read with great Applauſe, but he not having put his Name to them, they could not, at firſt, tell from whom they came; but before they were carried to the King, he Mr. Wriotheſley plaied the Jolly Countrefaite, and ſubſcribed his Name for him; but adviſes him to omitt the ſame no more. And deſires him to buy a Jennett (with all manner of good qualities) for his own Saddle. 281.

84. Mr. Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, Dated from the Nete, 30 November, that the King is very well pleaſed with his Proceedings; and that for want of ſpeciall words in his Letter of Attorney made to Sir William Hawte, they are obliged to ſue for a new Warrant, for every Payment to be made to his uſe. 283.

85. Mr. Wriotheſley to Sir Thomas Wiatt, dated from London, 26 December, being only a familiar Letter. 285.

Num. 282, 283.

86. A very long Letter from Cardinal Wolſey to Mr Secretarye, i. e. to Mr. Richard Pace, the Kings Secretary, and Ambaſſador to the Princes & States in Italie, &c.? Dated from his Place beſides Weſtminſter, 27 July, 1524, owning the Receipt of a Packet of Letters from him, and rehearſes the Contents of the ſame, eſpecially his good & great opinion of the Duke of Bourbons ſteadyneſs, & Ability, if duely ſupported, to drive the French King out of his Realme, & to ſett the Crown thereof upon the King of Englands head; in order to the obtaining of which, he adviſes his Majeſty to ſett out as ſoon as poſſible with a ſtrong Armie, to aſſail France by the Side of Picardie. The Cardinal anſwers that all his ſaid Letters having been read to the King & his ſecret Council, and the Reaſons contained therin being maturely conſidered & ſubſtantially debated; he will now notifie unto him what things have been here pondred and conſidered by the Kings Highnes & his diſcrete Counſaille; and alſo inform him of the Kinges Pleaſure, for Anſwer to be made unto the Duke of Burbone, upon al & ſinguler the premyſſes. Wherein, albeit he may not fynde the Opynions of the Kings Highenes & his ſaid Counſail conformable in every thing to that which he wrote; he ſhall not merveile, ne thinke that his Lettres, Declaracions, & Avice geven in the ſame be taken or accepted here, but as things proceeding from a right ſage, diſcrete, true & herty Counſaillour. 287.

52. Original Letter of Sir Francis Walſingham to the Earl of Leiceſter, Dat. at the Courte, 27th Septr. 1585. upon her Majeſties declaring her Intentions of imploying his Lordſhip in the Low-Countreys; for the advancement of which Service, if his Lordſhips requeſts ſhall be found chargeable, the Impediment will be found in Her Majeſtie, and not in the Council. 133.

53. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter, to Sir Francis Walſingham, upon her Majeſties pleaſure ſignified unto him, to ſtay his preparations for his Journey into the Netherlands; ſhewing how far he has gone in the ſaid preparations, &c. 135.

54. The Commiſſioners of the Lowe-Countreys adviſe to his Excellencie the Earl of Leiceſter, touching his Adminiſtration of Affairs, as Chiefe Head and Governour of the United Provinces, upon his arrival, A. D. 1585. 137.

55. Things to be conſidered in the preſent Deliberacion for Vliſſinge, A. D. 1585. The latter part in the Lord Treaſurer Burleigh's Hand. 140.

56. Original Letter of William Pekott to Captain Berney, deſiring the money due to him for Pouder. 142.

57. Things moſt neceſſary to be underſtoode toucheing the Eſtate of theſe Lowe-Countries, written by the Earl of Leyceſter, A. D. 1585. 144.

58. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter, which ſeems to have been written privately to Sr. Francis Walſingham, upon the Orders given by her Majeſtie for ſtaying his preparations: whereas that before at N°. 53. might be ſhewn to the Queen. 146.

59. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter, to Sir Francis Walſingham, excuſing a late Requeſt touching Men to go over with him into the Low-Countreys, which he did not with deſign to encreaſe her Majeſties Charge; and deſires that 500 or 600 of his own Tenants, may be permitted to ſerve there: which will not be any Charge to her Majeſtie, and he ſhall reckon them as good as 1000 others. That he has given ſome Notes to his Nephew Sir Philip Sydney to confer with him about. 147.

60. Draught of a Letter (as it ſeems) from Mr. Secretary Walſingham, to the Earl of Leyceſter in the Low-Countreys; touching the quarelſome temper of Collonel (Sr. John?) Norrys; and the ſending Sir William Pelham over to aſſiſt his Lordſhip. That the raiſing of Volunteirs for that ſervice will be difficult; but if he will furniſh the Maſter of Gray with an Impreſt of 2000 l. he may expect to bring over with him 3000 footmen & 200 Light-Horſes. That by the demeanor of thoſe of Bounnell & Deventre, it appears, that if the Cauſe had been throughlie countenanced, the moſt part of theſe Provinces now poſſeſſed by the Spaniard, would have revolted e're this; but we are ſo greedie of Peace, in reſpect of the Charges of the Wars, as in the procuring thereof neither to weigh our Honor or Safetie. 149.

61. Firſt Draught of a Letter (as it ſeems) from Sir Francis Walſingham to the Earl of Leyceſter, ſhewing that her Majeſties taking the Lowe-Countreys into her Protection, has increaſed her Reputation in Italy, & Germany; where (if the war ſhall be proſecuted with vigor) another Fire might be Kindled, to the Damage of Spain. That the Report of 100 Pieces of Braſs-Ordnance, being miſſing, through Sr. Thomas Pelham's neglect in overlooking his Inferior Officers, had like to have hindered his coming over into Holland, to assist him there with his Advice, the Queen was so much offended with him; &c. 152.

aſſiſt

62. Part of a Letter, concerning the affairs of the United Provinces. 156.

63. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, (as it seems) to Sir Francis Walsingham, advertising of two Plotts of the Pope, Jesuits, &c. to take away her Majesties Life. He describes the men, and their pretences to come to Court. And advises therefore, that they would persuade her Majestie to pass away the Somer, at a distance from London, as at Woodstocke or Farnham, whither no suspicious person could com-to the Court, without being noted. 157.

64. Original Letter of Mr. Thomas Lovell to the English Ambassador (Mr. Davison?) in the Lowe-Countreys; Dat. from the Brill, 24th day of October, 1585. desiring, that since his Honor thought him worthy the station of Serjeant-Major, and therefore conferred it upon him; that he may not be turned out, to make room for others in whose behalf the Captain-General had written to the Queens Council. And shewing that the Burgers of the Brill, desired the Keys of the Towne, of the Governor, but were refused. 158.

65. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Mr. Secretarie Walsingham, Dat. 31 December, 1585. describing his great Entertainment, at the Hague, the loud applauses of the Queen there, and the Rebuke given to the French Ambassador, at the same time. That though her Majestie does refuse the Soveraigntie of that People, & the Name of Protector; She yet shall have the sole menagement of their Money, Contributions, & Men of War (i. e. Souldiers) That the German Princes, are so encouraged by these open Steps of her Majestie, taken against the Spaniard, that they are agreeing to send 25000 to the assistance of the King of Navarre, in France; who has suffered much through the Intrigues of the Pope, & King of Spain. 160.

66. Original Letter of Sir Philip Sydney, to her Majesties Ambassador in the Low-Countreys, Dat. 7 December, 1585. from Flushing; about bringing Collonel Morgan's Regiment to some Port thereabout. 162.

67. Original Letter of Sir Philip Sidney, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from Midleburgh, 14 December, 1585. complaining of divers Abuses, and Hindrances of the Service; and containing requests in behalf of himself, and others. 164.

68. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester to Mr. Secretary Walsingham, Dat. 15 December, 1585. Desiring that the Original Contract between Her Majestie and the States, may be sent to him; and that to his rate, as General, may be added his Ordinary Company as a Guard, Physician, Chaplain, &c. which other Generals have been allowed. That 600 or 1000 Irish may be sent to him, they being harder than the English. That the Spaniards imagine that her Majestie has sent many more English than really came over. 166.

69. Original Letter of Sir Philip Sidnei to Sir Francis Walsingham; Dat. at Middleburg, 16 of December, 1585. Recommending a Gentlemen (Mr. Edward Norris?) to his Favor, who commanded in Flushing till his Arrival there, with universal applause. That he is desirous of being employed in her Majesties Service, and especially in Horse. 169.

70. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. at Delph, 26 Decemb. 1585. shewing how much Her Majestie is praised & honor'd by the Dutch, who now doubt not but to beat the Spaniards out of their Countreys. Desires that Seburo the Spanish Prisoner may be exchanged for the Son of Jacob Muys van Holy, now cruelly used by the Spaniards, in consideration of his Fathers Services. He enlarges upon the honorable entertainment, he found in the great Towns of Holland; and adds, that as her Majestie has made this people Hers, by Countenancing them, at this juncture; so she had lost them for ever, if she had forsaken them in their distress. He desires that a Pursuivant at Arms may be sent to him, Mr. Segar having made twenty excuses. Complains that neither Sir William Pelham, nor Mr. Killigrew are sent to assist him; he having none but Mr. Davyson, who though he have good will, & a pretty Scholars wytt, is not a match for the Dutch, as heavy as Her Majesty supposes 'em to be: and wishes She had but one or two such as the worst of half a score of them. And concludes with the characters of some of them in particular. 171.

Num. 285.

71. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from Leyden, 3 Januarie, 1585. 174.

72. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from Leyden, 11 Januarie, 1585. shewing in what manner, and for what reasons the States had offered to make him absolute Governor both of Warre and Peace, over all their Provinces; in what manner he declined the same; but is of opinion that if her Majestie will not suffer him to take this office & trust upon him, all will be lost. He adds that the States have laid before him a true state of their Countrey, Forces, &c. and have thereby made it appear, that they are able to go through with the war. And that if her Majesty had accepted their Soveraignty, they should have paid her constantly, 30000 l. P. month, besides other advantages. Gives a character of some Princes of the House of Nassaw, Count Hollock, &c. 176.

73. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. 15 January, 1585. desiring that about 70000 l. being her Majesties Arrears may be remitted over to him, there being great want of Money. That they are forced still to keep 4000 Foot, & 1500 Horse, to face the Spaniards, who still keep the field, and have lately endangered many important places. And hopes for good success to a certain enterprize, which he intends to putt in execution. 180.

74. Original Letter from the Earl of Leycester to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from the Hague 22 of January, 1585. Writes earnestly for the money due from her Majestie, or part of it; though he knows how difficult a matter it is, to get money from her. That if he had not come when he did, these Provinces had been ruined, and that the next day of his arrival, the Wind had changed, & so continued ever since, till now; which is 42 days; in all which time he has never heard one word from England. That the Souldiers suffer dayly for want of Pay, but still trust to his Promises, and continue to resist the attempts of the Enemy; who, (if her Majestie had not taken up the cause) had before now conquered & taken the whole countrey. Gives a great character of Mr. Davyson, and of the service he has done to her Majesty in those parts; and therefore desires he may be sent back to him, and with farther Credit. That his nephew Sir Philip Sidney, is very much esteemed there, and as he thinks, in a few months will be able to do her Majestie a notable piece of service. That the Prince of Parma called a Council upon the news of his arrival, and of what passed therein. Shews the necessity of encamping the Army, and continuing masters of the Field. Desires leave for some Gentlemen to come over & raise Recruits, without charge to her Majestie, or the Countrey. And that he may raise 500 more, among his own Tenants; those he brought with him proving so brave Men. Also that 2000 more Volunteirs may be sent to him. Shewing what service he can perform by Easter, with 2000 Horse, & 5000 Foot. Concerning Prince Maurice, and the possibility of his being drawn to a reconciliation with

Spain;

Num. 285.

Spain; and the active fidelity of Count Hollock, to whom he wishes Her Majestie would rather grant a Pension, than to any other German Prince; and that the Lord North might have some Charge, under him. 182.

75. Original Letter from the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. ult. Januarij, 1585. that Mr. Davyson now goes to acquaint her Majestie with what has been done in Holland since his arrival, and desires he may be sent back as soon as possible (he understanding the Place, & Persons better than any other English man) and if it might be, with more countenance & credit from her Majesty. He seems to dispair of Sir William Pelham's, or the Lord Grey's coming over to assist him. Desires that the Arrears due to the Souldiers may be sent; and that he would acquaint the Lord Treasurer (who had written to him to know what number of Ships & Marryners were there) that there were so many, and to be sett out at a short warning, as would be sufficient to beat the King of Spain & all his Friends. 188.

76. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from the Haghe the first of Febr. 1585. Desiring, if her Majestie means to continue him in service there, that Mr. Daniel Rogers (whose help he wants) may be sent to him. 190.

77. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Franics Walsingham, Dat. from the Haghe, 3d of February, 1585. Concerning 1000 Pioneers, whom he desires to be raised for him, & to be ready in London by the midst of May. That all the Moneys is gone, &c. 192.

78. Original Letter of the Earl of Leicester to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. 4 Febr. 1585. Earnestly desiring that a supply of Men & Money may be sent to him. 194.

79. A Memoriall of the tymes of Treaties with the Estates of the Lowe-Countreys, since the begynynge of the Requests of their Aydes, (i. e. of their Requests for Aid) with divers other useful Notes. 196.

80. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from the Haghe, 6 February, 1585. to further a matter, about which he wrote at large to the Lord Admiral, &c. 198.

81. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. 7th February, 1585. Shewing his grief that her Majestie would not let him have the Irish Souldiers he wanted. That the Reports raised by the Prince of Parma do much hurt, vizt. that her Majestie desires Peace. In which case the Dutch would be sure to secure themselves; and that her Majestie should have no Peace but on shameful conditions. Where as if she will but prosecute the war, he will be content to lose her Favor, if they do not seek Peace of her, the next Somer. He hears that her Majesty misliketh the title of Excellency which is given to him. He says that the same title was given to him in England, ever since she made him an Earl, and that he had the place of Master of her Majesties Horse: And that he has here in Holland refused Higher Titles, which shews he desired none but what he might use with her Majesties Honor and good liking. 200.

82. A Letter written by the Earl of Leycester's Secretary, (if not by himself) & sealed with his Seal, but not subscribed with his Lordships hand. 'Tis directed to Sir Francis Walsingham; Dated from the Haghe, 8 Febr. 1585. being a private letter vindicating himself, for accepting the Government of the Low-Countreys; He says that all her Majestie can lay to his charge, is, Going a little furder than she gave him Commission for; wherin, the only benefit, & greatest Honour dothe growe to her Majesties selfe every waye. How lothe her Majestie would be that any man, not her subject, should be placed in that Station. Desires that her Majestie would speedily send one to supply his Place, that he may go lyve in some obscure corner of the Earthe, where he will ende these grievous dayes in true prayer to God for her. 202.

83. A Letter written by the same hand as the former; sealed with the Earl of Leycesters seal, but not subcribed by his Hand. 'Tis dated from the Haghe, the 8th of February, 1585. and directed, to the Lord High Treasurour of England, the Lord Chamberlayne, Mr. Vice-chamberlayne, & Mr. Secretarie Walsingham, in answer to a Letter sent by the Queens Majesties commandment from Committee of the Councell, the 25th of January, 1585. shewing her Majesties great mislyke of his acceptance of the Government of the Dutch Netherlands. Containing his Apologie for so doing, and his Resolution to withdrawe into some out-corner of the Worlde, where he will languish out the rest of his Feare? to many dayes, praying ever for her Majesties longe & prosperous Lyfe, &c. 205.

84. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from the Haghe, 14 February, 1585. Recommending Sir Robert Jarmine to him; as also the Petition of Monsr. de Meux High-Bayliff of Dort, for Her Majesties favor in the release of his Son taken by the Spaniard. 207.

85. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from the Haghe, 15 of February, 1585. to forbear, at present, to impart the Contents of certain Letters, to her Majestie, containing some doubtful Answers from the King of Denmark, till her pleasure shall be fully known touching the matter of those Countreys. Wherin if she shall proceed, she will not want friends. 209.

86. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from the Hage, 18 Febr. 1585. Shewing the desire of the Dutch, to have the English Merchants settle in some of their Towns, for the sale of their Clothes. His Lordship commends most, Enchuysen in Holland, & Middleburgh in Zealand, as apt places. Also, that the States do offer some Place, or Places for the Wooll of England, with which, if her Majestie will furnish them, they will use no wooll of France, or Spain. 211.

87. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. 21 Febr. 1585. shewing, that the Lord Willoughby has acquainted him that the King of Denmark is so well affected towards her Majestie, as to offer to make War, when or where her Majestie pleases; and to send 2000 of his best Horse, to the assistance of his Lordship & the Low Countries. That the Duke of Saxony, &c. have declared to the French King, that they will assist the King of Navarre, unless he desist from persecuting him. That the Count of Embden, the Town of Hamburgh, &c. are in the Spanish interest; and that Paul Buys is a very villain. 214.

88. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester, to Mr. Secretarie Walsingham, Dat. at the Hage, 22 Febr. 1585. signifying that tho' he knows not whether he shall be continued in the Service or not, he is levying an Army in order to act offensively against the Enemy, it being the only way to secure the Countrey, & annoy the Enemy. He advises that her Majestie would send a Gentleman to complement the Duke of Saxony, upon his Marriage with the young Princesse of Hainault, which he thinks may produce a good effect. 215.

89. Original Letter of the Earl of Leycester to Mr. Secretarie Walsingham, Dat. at the Hage, 24 Febr. 1585. that the Funds are agreed upon for the next Summers service, and relates what other measures are taking: He adds, that he hath learned to be of a good nature, synce he came hither: for he hopes to sett the French King, & the K. of Spaine together by the eares, (as well well as they live) or this day month, and coſt her Majeſtie never a Grote. Deſires Sir William Pelham & Mr. Bingham may be ſent to him, the Dutch not having ſuch commanders as them, or thoſe he brought with him. 217.

90. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. 27 Feb. 1585. relating the Conference between him, and one of the States, concerning a rumor'd Inclination of her Majeſtie to make Peace with the King of Spain. 219.

91. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at the Hage, 27 Febr. 1585. advertiſing that Coll. Shenks had taken Werle, a City of Weſtphalia belonging to the Elector of Cologne, but garriſon'd by the Spaniard, & which had done much harm. And that the Count de Meurs had (through a Letter ſent unto him by his Lordſhip) prevented the Burghers of Deventer, from delivering up that Town to the Spaniards; and deſires that her Majeſtie may ſend each of them a Letter of Acknowledgment. That the Dutch, ſince his arrival amongſt them, encreaſe in the ſhew & practiſe of the true Religion. Shews his deſire to be appriſed of her Majeſties reſolution, whether he ſhall continue there or not; and that the Enemy give out that he ſhall be uſed as the Prince of Orange was; i. e. aſſaſſinated. 221.

92. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Harlem, 3 Marche, 1585. advertiſing that the Prince of Parma has ſent one Hyman, late Penſioner of Bruges, into England, to execute ſome matter of great importance and ſecreſie; and deſiring that he may be found out, & clapped up. 223.

93. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Harlem, 9 Marche, 1585. concerning his falling under her Majeſties diſpleaſure, by accepting of the Government of the United Provinces, without deſiring her Majeſties leave, or acquainting her therwith: the blame of which action he layes upon Mr. Davyſon, vowing that he did ſo, only through his Perſuaſions. Setts forth the extraordinary Charges he has been putt to, by this Expedition, having for her Majeſties ſervice laid out above 11000 l. in 3 Months. Beſides the raiſing, furniſhing, & paying 550 footmen, & 350 Horſemen, at his own charge. He ſtomacks Sir Thomas Henneage's Commiſſion. Deſires that the poor Souldiers may be better paid, and that Sir William Pelham may command them. Laſtly, that the Enemy having beſieged Werle, Coll. Shenks who commanded therein, iſſued out & routed the Enemies Army, kill'd 2500, & took moſt of their Commanders, &c. 225.

94. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter, to the Lordes of her Majeſties Privye Counſaille. Dat. at Harlem, 9th Marche, 1585. Excuſing his acceptance of the Government of the Dutch Provinces, at the preſſing inſtances of Mr. Davyſon & others. He owns his fault in yielding to them, but averrs that he did it faithfully, & to do her Majeſtie ſervice, and not contemptuouſly, or ells God pluck out both his Hart & Bowells with utter ſhame. And finally ſubmits himſelf to her Majeſtie, but ſtill inſinuating that his holding that Place, would be all for her Majeſties advantage, and nothing to her dammage. 228.

95. Original Letter of the Earl of Leyceſter to Mr. Davyſon, Dat. at Harlem, 10 Marche 1585. expoſtulating with him for not ſufficiently ſetting forth to her Majeſtie the reaſons which induced his Lordſhip (and likewiſe Mr. Daviſons own arguments & perſwaſions) to accept of the Government of the United Provinces. On the margin of this Letter, Mr. Davyſon has written his own remarks, & defence, againſt his Lordſhips Charge. 230.

88. Original Letter of Wy. Waad to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. from Paris, 4 April, 1587. giving his opinion that her Majestie ought, in good policie, embrace the present opportunitie of delivering & giving audience to De Trappes the French Minister, which she might do with all honor to her self: or else that matters were likely to fall out in such sort as might turn to her displeasure. 170.

Num. 288.

89. Original Letter (partly in Cyfre) of Sir Edward Stafforde? Colleague with Mr. Waad & her Majesties Resident in France, who was kept as a prisoner by the French King in reprisal for De Trappes. Desiring that De Trappes might be sett at liberty, or otherwise the French King would putt some scorn upon her Majestie; that no Catholick Prince would for the future have any Minister Resident with her; and that he must surely suffer for it, which could not but tend to her Majesties Dishonor. 171.

90. Copie of the former Letter in a common hand. 172.

91. Original Letter (in French) Superscribed A Monsieur, Mr. l'Ambassadeur, Intercepted, 14 April, 1587. being written by a spie & advertising divers occurrences concerning Q. Eliz. & her Court. Especially advising the French to hinder the Peace concluding between Spain & England; to pursue the murder (ce graunde meurtre) of the Q. of Scottes, upon those who advised it; and to encourage and assist the young K. of Scotland. 174.

92. Original Letter of Charles Paget, to Monsieur Ligon, Dat. from Paris, 10 May, 1587. touching some of the Scots Kings affairs; and the Judgement given against Mr. Davison in the Star-Chamber. He also exclaims against the Act of Parliament whereby himself, the Lord Paget his brother, Sir Francis Englefield, & others are attainted of High Treason, & their estates given to the Queen. Which Proceeding nevertheless, he declares, is a good precedent, if the Whele chance to turn. 176.

93. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford, to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. at Paris, 8 April, 1588. concerning a villanous Libel against her Majestie printed at Rheims, & published at Paris; & shewing his intentions to complain of the same. 178.

94. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford to Sir Francis Walsingham; Dat. at Paris, 15 April, 1588. that the Libel last mentioned is dispersed by Scotts, and that the chief promoter of it is the Bishop of Glasco. That, as yet, no English Catholic in Paris knows any thing of it, nor do the French Bookfellers sell it. He therefore does not meane to complaine of it immediately, lest he himself should thereby publish that which is now a secret. 180.

95. Some Paragraphs relating to French Affairs; which seem to be written in common hand perhaps by the Lord Treasurer Burleigh, from Cyfre. 181.

96. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafforde to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. at Paris, 17 April, concerning the state of the French Kings affairs; that young Mr. Devereux & Sir Roger Williams are gone over to the King of Navarre. And that the Ducheffe of Lenox desires her Majesties passeport, for sending two of her daughters by Sea into Scotland. 183.

97. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford to Sir Francis Walsingham, Dat. at Paris, 17 April, 1588. wherin he relates the discourse he had with Monsr. Reaux, who had indiscreetly boasted of the assistance Her Majestie intended to give the King of Navarre his Master. 185.

98. 101. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 29 April, 1588. advertiſing that the Q. Mother was the raiſer of the late alarms & fears with an intent to have Monſr. de Eſpernon recalled from Normandie. That the late advice which Q. Elizabeth ſent to the Fr. King, was received by him with Joy; that he will follow the ſame, and that it is univerſally applauded by every body, even by the Queen Mother herſelf. And that the French Ambaſſador in his letters from England, diſparages the Naval preparations making againſt the Spaniard. 192.

102. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford, to Sir Francis Walſingh;m, Dat. at Paris 21 May, & written moſtly, in Cyfre, and all upon the French Kings Affairs. 194.

103. Original Letter of Sir Edmund Stafford, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 21 May, ſhewing the fatal diviſions grown up in France, upon occaſion of the League. With a large account of the conſtancy & behaviour of 12 young proteſtant Women, executed there for their religion. 196.

104. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 6 June, 1588. thanking him for the kindneſs he ſhewed to his ſon. 198.

105. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford to Sir Francis Walſingham (part of it written in Cyfre) Dat. at Paris, 13 June, 1588. opening the deſigns of thoſe of the League, who delay the finiſhing of the Treaty of Peace as much as they can; being aſſured by Mendoza, that if the Spaniſh Army going for England ſhould fail there, it ſhould for their aſſiſtance deſcend upon the Coaſt of Britaigne. 200.

106. Original Letter of R. H. to Mr. Jacquelin, dated from Paris, 16 June, 1588. containing many important advices, concerning the Turmoyles between the French King, & the Duke of Guyſe, &c. about the League. As alſo, ſome other particulars relating to the Queen of Englands ſending Mr. Bodley to aſſure the French King of ſuccor, againſt the Princes of the League; and how narrowly he miſſed being taken by that Duke. 202.

107. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 18 June, 1588. written partly in Cyfre, deſiring the Queen would ſuccour the French King againſt the Duke of Guyſe, with whom, he believes he will never make any ſincere Peace. And this proceeding, he thinks, will not at all hurt the King of Navarre. That he has found means to offer ſupplies of victualls &c. (in her Majeſties name) to the Officer who ſtill keeps Bulloigne for the King. That the French fearing the Spaniſh Navy, he had aſſured them, that the Engliſh (in caſe the Spaniards ſhould come near France) would make no diſtinction, whether they come for England or France. 204.

108. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 18 June, 1588. that the Treatie between the French King & thoſe of the League, is almoſt agreed upon: but that his Majeſtie is not as yet induced by them to break the old Leagues with England; nor even the laſt, whereby he is bound to aſſiſt England if invaded upon the account of Religion. Nor to break with the Queen of England about the Execution of the Queen of Scotts. That thoſe of the League will not make any of their private demands to the King in writing, leſt ſuch Writing ſhould be ſhewn to thoſe of their own faction. That the Spaniſh Ambaſſador, throws out divers opinions concerning the Spaniſh Armada, & privately tells thoſe of the League that tis bound for France, & to aſſiſt them. That he has taken care to acquaint the King, that the Queen his Miſtreſs will help him againſt the League, with what reaſonable ſuccors he ſhall deſire. That the good diſpoſition of the Young King of Scotts is very unacceptable to thoſe of the League; and that he does not like the Earl of Moreton's joyning with the Earl of Huntley, which he thinks not ſo good for England. 206.

109. Original Letter of . . . . to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Rouen, 22 June, 1588. advertiſing that the faction of the League is now likely to rule all; ſo great an alteration has happen'd within 20 days. Together with divers particulars about the Spaniſh Armada, and the uſe the Spaniards would make of the Engliſh Catholick fugitives, by ſpreading falſe reports in England, &c. 208.

110. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford (partly in Cyfre) to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 28 June, 1588. that the Treatie between the French King & thoſe of the League is not yet concluded. That the King cannot now do what he would; though he has cauſed the Goods of the Engliſh Merchants which were ſeized at Roan upon Letters of Mart, to be reſtored. That the Queen-Mother has lately taken up 20000 Crowns at large intereſt, & upon great Gages; and that & the Poor of Paris mightily deſire to plunder the Rich. 210.

111. An Original Paper of Mr. Richard Hakluyt, (written, as it ſeems) to Sir Francis Walſingham, July, 1588. containing an overture made from France for her Majeſties aſſiſting the French King, againſt the League with 5000 Men, & paying the ſame for 6 Months. With the Anſwer of the Popes Nuncio to the King upon the offer made him from Q. Eliz. by Mr. Bodley. As, how cunningly the League would perſuade the King to abandon the League with England, & the protection of Geneva, & of Sedan. 212.

112. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford (partly written in Cyfre) to Sir Francis Walſingham, & Dated at Paris, 6 July, 1588. advertiſing that thoſe of the League being in deſpair of being aſſiſted by the Spaniſh Armada, & ſeeing the Lorrainers recalled by their Duke, had ſigned a Treatie with the King; the Articles whereof they would not have printed, but the King would. That the Queen Mother, & the Duke of Guyſe (as fearing the Kings reſentment) weep & lament in private. And that the King as ſoon as he has diſpoſed of the Arſenal & of the Baſtille, & received the Obedience of the Pariſians, will go to Bloys. 214.

213. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 7 July, 1588. complaining of the prodigious ſcarcitie of money in France, and therefore intreating him to give him Credit there for 1000 or 1200 Crownes, at this time, when he is to follow the French King to Bloys; & his Lady to go over to England, and ſollicite his Returne. 216.

115. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford (partly written in Cyfre) to Sir Francis Walſingham, & Dat. at Paris 15 July, 1588. concerning the ſigning the Treatie with thoſe of the League; divers of the Articles whereof being very diſhonourable to the French King, it was thought he would keep only the reſt. Of a Counterleague headed by the Dukes of Longueville, Nevers, &c. (as was to be hoped) under the K. of Navarre if he would become Catholic; with other matters touching the League; and of the Commiſſion of

of the Popes Nuntio to draw the King of Navarre off from his faith. 220.

116. Original Letter of Sir Edward Stafford (partly in Cyfre) to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 20 July, 1588. advertiſing that the League was never ſo hated at Court as now; that the Duke de Guyſe was hated about the Q. Mothers Court; and that the King was far from a reconciliation with her. That had it not been for a fear of falling under the tyranny of the Duke d'Eſpernon, the Duke de Guyſe had been rotten ere now. 222.

117. Original Letter (partly in Cifre) to Sir Francis Walſingham, by Sir Edward Stafford, Dat. at Paris. . . July, 1588. ſhewing that the Queen-Mother is in great perplexitie, upon this Peace, and in private bemoans the ſinking of her Credit, fearing that ſhe ſhall never return to Paris again; and alſo the effects of the Counter-league, which ſhe thinks was made by the Kings conſent. But Sir Edward thinks it was not, becauſe the Abbot d'Albeni, whom (the King had publickly baniſhed from the Court, upon pain of being beaten with cudgells) is one of the chief actors in it. 224.

118. Original Letter, in French, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Signed. 8. D. 8 & dated at Rochelle, 19 Auguſt, 1588. for giving credence to the bearer Monſr. de la Grotiere; and (if I underſtand this dark Letter aright) it points out the meaſures for keeping the King of Navarre conſtant to the Proteſtant party. 226.

119. Original Letter (partly in Cifre) of Sir Edward Stafford, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Paris, 19 Auguſt, 1588. That there is a great Broyle at Court, upon Monſr. de Nevers ſtill refuſing the conducting of the Arraye, & ſome demands of the Princes of the Bloud. That there is a likelyhood of the French Kings being obliged to deſire the Pope to ſend him a Diſpenſation for his oath to obſerve the League made with the Queen of England; though when it comes, Affairs may be ſo altered as that he need not make uſe of it. That the King of Navarre's partie is grown very ſtrong and ſtill encreaſes, as the others bring hatred upon themſelves. And that endeavors are uſed to breake the Amitie between Q. Eliz. & the French King. 227.

120. A Collection of the laſte wordes, which the late & moſt noble Prince, the Lorde Fraunces of Lorraine, Duke of Guyſe, Knight of the Order, Pere of Fraunce, & Lieutenante-General for the Kinge, ſpake & uttered a little before his death, to my Lady the Ducheſſe his wife, my Lorde his ſonne, my Lordes the Cardinalles his brethren, and to manye other being preſente at the hower of his death. 229.

121. Original Letter of Captain Barney (an Intelligencer) to the Lord Cobham, Dat. at Paris (or Calles?) 27 October, 1588. advertiſing that the Spaniards are much enraged againſt the Duke of Parma, not only for beleagering Bergues againſt the advice of the Council of War (upon which occaſion, they ſay that wiſe men build upon Reaſon, fools upon Fortune) but alſo, upon his not aſſiſting the Invaſion of England ſo far as was expected from him. That great Jealouſies ariſe in the breaſts of the Italian Princes, of the King of Spain, &c. 234.

122. A Brief of ſuch Exactions as the Merchants of London have been burdened with att Bourdeaulx & in the Ryver of Sherrant, ſince the Year 1589 (amounting to the Sum of 168219 l. 6 s. 8 d. Sterling) 236.

Num. 295.

Here follow Copies of many Letters witten by John? Bourgchier, Lord Berners, &c Embaſſadors of K. Henry VIII. to the Emperor Charles V. King of Spain, the ſame yeare that Eleanor Siſter of Charles V. was married to Emanuel King of Portugal. i.e. 1518 viz.

42. Part of a Letter to the King relating that the French Ambaſſador had demanded 3 things of the Catholick King. 1. That the Marriage between . . . . . ſhould be fulfilled on his behalf. 2. Reſtitution to be made of Navar, to the Kings ſon that was. 3. That the Damage done to the Frenchmen by the loſſe of Naples ſhould be made good; with his Anſwer. Of the Declaration he made to the French Ambaſſador, of reſiſting his Maſter, or aſſiſting the King of England, in caſe he ſhould make war with either of them. 108.

43. Letter to the Kings Grace, written at Saragoza, the 12th of May, 1518. deſcribing in what good order the Catholick King obſerved the Feaſt of St. George, in the Robes of the Order of the Garter. What paſſed at the Communication had with divers of the Spaniſh Miniſters; as in what thankful part that Embaſſy was accepted, the ſcope of it being to advance the Amitie of the two Kings to the greateſt perfection, and ſtraitneſs. (This ſeems to be part of another Letter, fol. 110.) what Declarations had been made to the French Ambaſſador in caſe his Maſter ſhould offer to make war, with either of them. What methods the French King had taken to cauſe himſelf to be elected Emperor, & what was done to pevent it. That they refuſed the overture of the French King for an Enterview to be had between himſelf, the Emperor, & his Catholic Majeſtie. That the Marriage of the Lady Eleanor with the King of Portugal was declared. And that the Pope had, by Bull, approved the Amitie & Confederation made between His Majeſty (K. Henr. VIII.) the Emperor & the King of Spain. 109.

*43. Letter to the Lord Cardinall Wolſey, Dat. from Saragoſſa, the 12th of May, 1518. advertiſing him amongſt other things, what anſwer they made to the Lord Shevers & the Chancellor of Burgundie, who told them, they had ſure knowledge out of France, that the French Kyng & his Counſelle reputed themſellfe firme & faſte of diverſe Nobles in Inglande. That the Lord Shevers had ſtopped the King of Spaines Grant of a Penſion to him (the Cardinal) as it came to be ſigned & ſealed. And adviſes that the King may ſend ſome preſent to thoſe two Lords, &c. 114.

44. Letter to the Lord Cardinal Wolſey, written the 13th day of May, 1518. recommending the bearer Thomas Batcocke to his favor; who had done them many & great ſervices in Spaine. 116.

45. Letter to the Lord Cardinal Wolſey, written at Saragoza, the 14th day of June, 1518. relating the Anſwer they made to the Lord Shyvers, who mervailed that Mr. Secretarie (Pace?) was not gone to Switzerland, as was promiſed. That the Chancellor of Burgundie is dead, & the other Flemings die apace, and in proceſs of time will be all worne out, though, at preſent, few beſides them come much about the King. He is in a dear Countrey, where he may well commaunde, but they do as they luſt. 116. b.

46. Letter to the Lord Cardinall, Dat. from Saragoza, 21 day of June, 1518. that the Diſpenſation for the Lady Eleanors Marriage is coming, & then ſhe goes for Portugall: that the Lord Schevers (a Fleming) is true to his Majeſties intereſts, & deſerves to be looked upon. That the King has taken the Oath to the Realme & for obſerving the Privileges of the People, which are exceeding many; but none among them for his Honor or Profit. and that they are not as yet ſworne to him. Deſires him to ſend him ſome Cramp-Rings, & promiſes to beſtow them well. 117. b.

47. Letter to the Kings Grace, from Saragoza, the 2d day of July, 1518. deſcribing the Triumphs lately made in Spain, with Pageants, &c. That on Corpus Chriſti-day, the King with 24 Noblemen, bare the Canopie over the Sacrament, throughout the Towne. That the Sunday following, in the Market-place, the King preſent, upon Scaffolds, there were 4 Pageants, repreſenting, The Decollation of St John Baptiſt; The Auctoryte of the Churche by Cryſt commytted to his Apoſtells; the Aſcencyone; And the daie of Judgement. 119. b.

48. Part of a Letter to Cardinal Wolſey, advertiſing, that in Spain they look for a breach with France: That about 200 Turkes had landed in Naples, & took, among 100 Priſoners, a Nobleman & his Wife coming from their Marriage. That the King prepares a great Armie for Barbary. He alſo again deſires that the Cramp-Rings may be ſent. 121.
(N B. The form of conſecrating the Cramp-Ring, is in Bibl. Cotton.)

49. Letter to the Kings Grace, from Saragoza, 12th daie of July, 1518. Shewing what the King of Spaine requeſts now from him; among other things, to have Tournay entirely to himſelf; and that he would ſo effectually labour with the Emperor & the Electors aſſembled now at Oſebroughe (Oſnabroughe) as that the French King may not obtain his purpoſe of being choſen King of the Romans. That the French King is much diſpleaſed in that the Catholic King declines the deſired enterview with him. And that the Lady Elianour ſhall be eſpouſed to morow to the King of Portugale, by deputie. And, laſtly deſires ſome of his Majeſties hallowed Rings. 121. b.

50. Letter to the Lord Cardynall Wolſey's Grace, Dat. from Saragoza, the 25 of July, 1518. ſetting forth the extreme ſcarcitie & dearneſs of all neceſſaries for Horſe & Man; That the Kingdom of Aragon is not yet ſworn to the King, who exerciſes himſelf & his Nobles with the Barres, Juſts, &c. That the Spaniards are extremely fearful leſt the French King ſhould become Emperor; & deſire war with France upon the account of not reſtoring Navarre. And ſtill deſires ſome Cramp-Rings. 122. b.

51. Letter to the Kings Grace, Dat. from Saragoza, the 16th daie of Auguſt, 1518. advertiſing with what words the King of Spaine deſired the continuance & Augmentation of His Majeſties Amitie. That the French King has with his own hand, written into Spain touching the delivery of Tournay, and of the marriage intended to be between the Dolphin, & the Princeſſe Mary? of England. That the Ambaſſadors of the Prince of Navarre are diſpatched away with an Anſwer to this effect, that ſince the Realme of Navarre is annexed to the crowne of Caſtile, he cannot, make any reſolute Anſwer touching the reſtitution of it, 'till he ſhall have conſulted the States of Caſtile thereupon. That many bickerings have happened upon the borders of Navarre between the French & Spaniards; and that the K. of Spain deſired him to let his Majeſtie know that, whatever ſhall happen, his only truſt is in him. Laſtly he beſeeches the Kings Grace to ſend him ſome of his hallowed Rings, which be very ſore deſyred of them. 123.

52. Letter to the Kings Grace, Dat. from Saragoza, the 17th of Septembre, 1518. concerning the heartie profeſſions made of the greateſt Amitie to his Majeſtie by the Catholic King. Who deſires to ſee all the Articles of the marriage to be between the Dolphin & the Princeſſe Marie, when concluded; and alſo all the Articles touching the delivery of Tourney to the French. That his Catholic Majeſtie was ſorry for the delivering of it up, but that he ſeemed to be ſatisfied with this Anſwer, that no Univerſal Peace could be, if it remained either in the Power of England or Spaine. That the King of Spaine thanked the Lord Cardinal (Wolſey) for his loving letter, & good advice, which he was reſolved to follow. 124. b.

Num. 295.

53. Letter to the Kings Grace from Saragoza, Dat. 8th daie of Octobre, 1518. advertiſing that the K. of Spaine went a daies journey with his ſiſter the new Queen of Portugal, toward that Countrey; and that the Portugueſe Ambaſſador in his maſters name, had deſired them to aſſure his Majeſtie (K. Henry VIII.) that he would in all things be at his will and deſire. That an Ambaſſade is come thither from the Rhodes, being a Lorde of Fraunce & Sir Thomas Shefelde, for the reforming of their Religion in thoſe parts. That the Kings ſtay in Arragon is uncertain, through the pride & obſtinacy of the States & Rulers of the ſame: who are likewiſe equalled by thoſe of Valentia & Catalonia. 126. Imperf.

54. Latter Part of a Letter, touching the French Kings intrigues with the Switzers. 127.

55. Letter to the Lord Cardinal Wolſey, from Saragoza the 18th daie of September, 1518. that the King of Spain was much moved when he received his Graces Letters, thanked him for them, & ſaid he would ſubſtantially provide for the Contents in the ſame. That he does not ſeem well content with the delivery of Tournay; as being in doubte of a breach with France, for which reaſon they fortefie Navarre. And that they ſtill harp upon the French King's hiring 6000 Switzers, to be in continual readineſs. Alſo, that the Spaniards not being called to Council, but when more than ordinary occaſion requires, Jealouſies and Diſcontents begin to ariſe between them & the Burgundians. 127.

56. Mr. Doctor Edward Lee's Letter from Spaine to Cardinal Wolſey; it is all about the Emperors new Offers of Penſions to the Cardinal, and about giving the ſatisfaction deſired touching the Arrearages of the Old, written About A. D. 1523. 128.

57. Original Letter of Doctor Edward Lee to the Lord Legate (i. e. Cardinal Wolſey) Dat. at Granada the 12th of December. . . . . that at his laſt Audience he had in the Kings name exhorted him to promote peace & unitie among Chriſtian Princes; and that obtained, to carry their forces againſt the common enemy the Turke: with the Emperors anſwer made thereupon, full of gratitude to the King. That the King for his ſtudious Zeale and graciouſe Sollicitude of their publique Affaires, winneth highe Glorie. That Don Ferdinando the Emperors brother is received by the Bohemians for their King, & intendeth to beſiege Belgrade. 129.

58. Copie of a Letter to King Henry VIII. Dat. at Valedolet in Spain, 6 April, ſhewing that the Prelats had upon their knees made anſwer to the Emperors demand of Money; to this effect, that they requeſted him not to make war with the Pope; and that they would to the utmoſt of their power ſupply him againſt the Turke. That the Emperor had replied that his inclinations to Peace were ſufficiently known, though his releaſe of the French King had not been attended with the deſired effects. That he had rather live in peace with the Pope than with any other; but that the Pope had already, by proceſſe, given Sicily away from him, and made the Duke of Lorrain Vice-Roy thereof: and was about to take Naples & Milan from him alſo. That he could not beare theſe things, &c. And that ſeeing the Grandees held with the Clergy about the Taxes required, the Emperor had fallen ſick out of conceit. 131.

Num. 295.

59. Extract of Letters ſent to my Lorde Cardinal Wolſey, in Cifres, by Mr. (i. e. Sr. Thomas) Boleyne, & Mr. (Doctor Richard) Sampſon, dated at Valedolite the 8th day of Merche, 1523. (i. e. a Copie of a long Letter perhaps ſent in Cyfre) whereby he was advertiſed that the Emperor had aſſured them that he would obſerve all covenants made with K. Henry VIII. and that he therefore deſired that the King would invade France, as he was reſolved to do, by the latter end of May next, with 25000 Foot, & 4000 Light-Horſe. That the Emperor alſo inſiſted much upon invading France by ſea. That the Grandees, & Cities of Spain offer largely toward the warres, ſo that there will be no want of men. That beſides this, the Emperor intends to mortgage ſome of his Lands for 1300000 Ducats (to be applied to this war) and to redeem the ſame again, by the help of a Cruſado, which he hopes to obtain of the Pope. That the French King had found out the Duke of Bourbon's intrigues with the Emperor & his Majeſtie, and had hinted ſo much to him; and that that Duke was retired from the Court to the Country. That the Spaniſh Grandees, are now, at length, called to Councill; but that there is little love between them & the Flemings. That the Duke of Milains Ambaſſador ſhewed them that their maſter deſired his Majeſtie to contribute toward the defence of his Dominions, againſt the French. That the Emperor will ſend no Naval force into the Channel, as was deſired by the King, but will leave the ſame to be ſecured by his Majeſtie; but as to his own territories he will provide ſufficiently for the defence of the ſame by Sea & Land. That the Emperors Councill objected that the King having 105000 Men in Arms, employed them all againſt the Scots, for his particular profit; but that they anſwered that beſides theſe, his Majeſtie has another armie, to be ſent beyond the ſeas, to joyn with that of the Emperor. That ſome expreſſions which his Grace (the Cardinal) had lett fall touching the Emperor, are not well taken there. And ſince both Monſieur de Naſſaw & the Great Maſter have ſhewn ſpecial affection to the King, & to his affairs; they deſire that a Letter of Thanks may be written to them, &c. 133.

60. Extract of a Letter in Cifres ſent unto the Kings Highneſs from (Sir Tho. Boleyne & Dr. Sampſon?) the Ambaſſadors beyng with th'Emperor, in Spayne of the 14 of January, & 6th of Febr. 1523. (the ſecond Letter is wanting, if it be not the Poſtcript to the firſt) But by the former they advertiſe his Majeſtie, that the Emperor will uſe his beſt diligence, with his Majeſties helpe, to bring not only the Venetians, but even the Switzers, unto his intereſts. Of the Emperors willingneſs to comply with the requeſts made by the Duke of Bourbon, viz. that he, & the K. of England ſhould pay the 10000 Foot, and 500 Speares raiſed by the ſaid Duke. But that as to the other requeſt of that Duke for marriage with his ſiſter, he would take good deliberation. That the Emperor had intelligence, out of France, by his ſpies that the French King is ſure of 20000 Switzers, and meaneth to paſs into Italy: but before he goes, he would compound things with the Duke of Bourbon, by ſtaying the proceſs againſt him, and granting him Madam Renée his Queen's ſiſter in marriage. By the Poſtſcript they write, that of the 3 Ambaſſadors which the Emperor ſent lately to the Switzers, 2 of them, with about 26 other perſons, periſhed in their Voyage. That there were Reports, that the King of Portugal is in love with the Queen of Portugal his Fathers widow. That ſeeing the preſent King was at firſt deſigned to be married to her, his father would not ſuffer him to ſpeake to her, or come into her preſence; and that now ſhe is ſaid to be with child. That thro' the ſollicitations of the French King (made by one of the Emperors own Councellors, and alſo of the Pope's Nuncio) the Emperor ſhews more inclination to Peace, than War. That Fontarabia is

86. Original Letter of an Intelligencer, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at St. Lucar, 8 Junij, 1588. He writes that the Armada has ſett ſaill for the Groyne, there to remain 'till further advice be taken. That 13 Pinnaces which were ſaid to go along with the Armada, are order'd to ſail to Carthagena, to bring home the Kings treaſure, and adviſes that ſome light & nimble Ships may be ſett out to intercept them. In order to prevent any Suſpicion of his giving Intelligence, he deſires Licence to export a ſhip load of Wheate, & a laſt of Powder to Spain, whereby he thinks he ſhall much pleaſe that people. 97.

87. Original Letter of the ſame Intelligencer, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at St. Lucar, 22 October, 1588. advertiſing that the Duke of Medina Sidonia was returned with the ſhattered remains of the Armada, and was ordered by the King to viſit his familie before he came to Court. That the King had revived an old Statute, whereby all Mourning Apparel is forbidden. That he had removed Antonio de Gacevarra from the place of Proveditore-Generall in the Army, becauſe the Biſcuit being made of Meal mingled with Aſhes & Lime, had killed a great Number of the Soulders. That He had called an Aſſembly of the Cortes of his Kingdom, & demanded 50000 Men of them, to be paid for one year. That the Pinnaces mentioned in his former Letter (No. 86.) had brought an immenſe Treaſure to St. Lucar, whereupon the Contractation-houſe of Seville had taken off the Imbargo laid upon all Shipping, as fearing Pirates. 199.

10. Nuove di Roma. 30.

Here follow Tranſcripts of divers Inſtructions, Letters, &c. written in the time of King Henr. VIII. viz.

11. Letter of King Henry VIII, to his Ambaſſador at Rome (Sr. Francis Brian?) concerning the Appeale which the King intended to make from the Pope; which he would not have him produce while the Emperor ſtayes in Italy. Inſtructs him how to anſwer to the Pope's Bulls, limiting the Council of Nice, about Appeals; and ſends him a grant of the Biſhoprick of Ely, for ſome old man or other. 31.

12. A Speech ſpoken in Parliament, temp. H. 8. for granting the King money, inveighing bitterly againſt Cardinal Pole, the Pope & his Religion. ibid.

13. Inſtructions given by the Kings Highenes, K. Hen. VIII. to . . . . . ſent into Germany to reſide as his Agents in the Courts of the Elector of Saxony, & of the Duke of Bavaria: but the main part of their Commiſſion was to informe themſelves of all occurrences in Germany, and to advertiſe his Majeſtie thereof from time to time, with all ſpeed. 32. b.

15. Litteræ Henri VIII. R. Angl. ad Dñm Canell. ejuſdem Argumenti. 33. b.

16. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to the Kings Ambaſſadors at Rome, Stephen Gardiner, Sir Gregorie de Caſſalis, Sr. Francis Bryan, & Mr. Peter Vannes, advertiſing them, that ſince the Pope does ſo abſolutely depend upon the Emperor, as that he dares not diſpleaſe him; and that in this weighty Cauſe (of the Kings Divorce) he hath declared himſelf, as it were, a Partie: the King ſeeing that no good can be done there, will proceede in the Decyſyon of the ſame here by vertue of the Comyſſion allredye graunted vnto him & the Lorde Legate Campegius. And to that end does now recall Mr. Stevyns (i. e. Gardiner) & Sr. Francis, from thence; that ſo Gardiner might form the Proceſs, and aſſiſt at other matters relating to the Triall. But directing them before their Departure, to procure the Pope to enlarge his ſaid Commiſſion; as alſo to gett a new Pollicitation (which if well managed may be as uſefull to the King, as the Commiſſion Decretal) by pretending that the former, which was much limited, tooke the wett in the Voyage to England, & thereby became illegible, and in the drawing up a New one, Gardiner to ſlip in ſuch words & expreſſions, as ſhould be moſt to the Kings purpoſe. Touching a Brief ſent from Rome, material in this Cauſe, which is thought by Reaſon of the Date to be a Counterfeit. For in the Court of Rome, the uſage of computing the Year of our Lord, in Bulls, & Briefs is different. In Bulls beginning at the Incarnation of our Lord, & in Briefs, at the Nativitie. So that the Forger, who thought both were alike, in dating the Brief A. D. 1503. Pontificatus Julij anno primo (and to make both Bull and Brief bear date of the ſame day) has dated his Brief before Pope Julye was Pope. But, to be certain, directs them to enquire whether the Year in Breeves, does change upon Chriſtmaſs-day, or New-yeares day. That after the Departure of Mr. Stevyns & Sr. Francis Brian, Sr. Gregory & Mr. Peter Vannes "muſt have a Vigelent Ie, ſpecyally regarding & harken-"inge to provyde ſtoppe & lett, that no Advocation of "the Cauſe, Revocation of the 2 Legates Comiſſyon, "Inhibycyon, Recuſation, Appeilation, or other Acte, "which may in any thynge empeache, diſturbe, protracte, "or delaye the Kings Cauſe, be at the Courte of Rome "admitted, paſſed, or conſented, att any th'Emperors, "the Quenes, or theire Agents Requiſitions, Porſute, "or Inſtance, made, or to be made there." Finally ordering Sir Francis & Dr. Gardiner to haſt home with all convenient ſpeede, bringing with them all "ſoch Bolles "& Expeditions, as they have in charge to impetrate "there, eyther for the Kings Colledges or His." ibid.

*16. Inſtructions given by the Kinges Hyghenes to his truſtye & welbeloued Servants . . . gd,. Becket gentellman huiſher of his Graces Chamber, & John Wrathe Sewer of the ſame, whome his Hyghenes nowe ſendeth into the partes of Cornewalle, commanding them to apprehend William Kendall, if not already taken into Cuſtody; as alſo Sir William Courteney, Sir Thomas Denys, & Thomas Arundelle Eſq; &c. to enquire into Kendall's late behaviour, as alſo into that of the Lord Marquis (perhaps Henry Pole Marquis Montacute) and whether he or his ſervants gave it out that he was Heir Apparent to the Crowne, &c. This was upon the Rebellion in the Weſt, temp. H. 8. 36. b.

17. Letter of K. Henry VIII. to Sir Francis Brian & Mr. . . . Fox, who had been his Miniſters at Rome, & now reſided in France, thanking them for their dexteritie uſed in obtaining the Subſcriptions of the Men there & at Orleans learned in the Law, concerning the Queſtions moved unto them, concerning the Injuries done unto him by the Pope; and directing the ſame to be procured at Tholouſe. And for as much as Overtures had been made to them on the part of the French King, who was now in great want of Money, that his Majeſtie would beare with his delay of the 100000 Crownes due in November next. His Majeſtie commands them to ſignify that he is willing to bear with the delay of the payment of part, but not of all that ſum. Concerning the Approbation of the Univerſity of Paris to the book written in the Kings behalf by the Dolphins Confeſſor. And laſtly requires him to deſire the French King to give his Conſent to Edmund Wolſey factor to Riſhard Greſham, his exportation of 50 Great Cables. 37.

18. Letter of Sir Francis Bryan to K. Henr. VIII. Dat. at Bloys, 21 of November, 15 . . ſhewing that according to the Kings laſt letters, he had ſpoken to the Great Maſter, and afterwards had had an Audience of the French King, to whom he had, in general terms

That the King of France did promiſe to ſuffer no Order of the Pope to be proclaimed within his Dominions againſt him; and that he would not have any Interview with the Emperor, or agree to any Generall Council, without his Conſent. Alſo of the ſmart reply he made to the Venetian Ambaſſador who ſollicited him to write to his Majeſtie, & dehort him from proceeding any farther in that matter of Q. Katherine. 38.

20. Original Letter of William Hay, Dat. at Venis 1 April, 1587. as it ſeems, to Sir Francis Walſingham, ſhewing that he was determined to wait for anſwer to this Letter, before he would begin to ſend him any Advertiſements: leſt the Letter which he had received & which deſired his Correſpondence, ſhould not be of his ſending. 41.

21. Original Letter of the Capitanio Jacoppo da Piſa, written from Milan, 3 May, 1587. partly in Cifre, but tranſcribed in common hand, on the ſame page; deſcribing two Engliſhmen that came from Rome in their way to Rhemes, whoſe Names he hopes to advertiſe hereafter. That there are orders for ſending ſome Horſe to the Duke of Lorrayne, & thinks they will raiſe ſome Foot. 42.

22. Original Letter of Pompeio Pellegrini, if this be not a feigned Name, to Giacopo Mannucci, i. e. perhaps Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. at Florence 3 July, 1587. That it was thought the Spaniſh Fleet would not ſail from Liſbon untill they were joyned by another ſtrong Fleet from Italy, which was actually ſailed. That the attempts of Sir Francis Drake upon the Spaniſh Coaſts make thoſe people tremble, where if upon his entering the Port of Cales, he had immediately landed, he might certainly have plundered that rich Town; though as it was, the Miſchief he did them came to 1000000 of Crowns. That the King of Spain levies great ſums every where. That a Captain is arrived there to raiſe 600 Horſe in Italy, as pretended, for the Duke of Lorrayne; but that his Commiſſions are ſigned by the Duke of Parma. Laſtly that his Intelligencer poſitively aſſures him, that the next year, & not this, they will undoubtedly invade England. 44.

23. Original Letter of B. C. i. e. Pompeio Pellegrini to Jacopo Mannucci (i. e. as upon the backſide of this Letter Mr. Standen) Dat. 28 Auguſt, NS. partly written in Cifre, & advertiſing that whereas he had ſent one to Sicily to obſerve the Levies there, upon advices he had recd from Palermo, he had recalled his Meſſenger who had proceeded as far as Leghorne. That the Gr. Duke of Tuſcany does not like the pillaging of the Spaniſh Flotas, wherin his Subjects have great Intereſt. And that if Drake ſhould intercept that from Peru, it would go hard with the Engliſh in his Dominions; againſt whom his Subjects by reaſon of ſuch their loſſes have lately entertained a great averſion. That the City of Raguſa has promiſed to furniſh the K. of Spaine with 80 Ships & 4000 Mariners the next Spring. That the King of Spain's Enterpriſe upon England, proceeds not ſo much out of his Inclination, as from the Neceſſitie he lies under of preſerving the Indian Navigation, being the faireſt flower in his Garland. That the Pope is far from intending to raiſe any new Stirs in Italy as was reported, but rather bends his whole thoughts upon the Invaſion of England. And though the Caſtle of St. Angelo be already furniſhed with 2800000 Crowns, he is ſtill raking up more Money. That the laſt advices import that the Pope, & the Kings of France & Spain are united againſt England. 46.

Num. 296.

24. Original Letter of Stephen Powell, perhaps to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. from Venice, 7 November, 1587. That one Michaele Giraldi a Bergomaſe, has ſett Sail for England, pretending to be a Merchant, as it was thought (for ſeveral Reaſons) to poiſon her Majeſtie, by the Inſtigation of the Pope; and gives hints at the Ship wherein he ſailed. That the Pope under pretence of ſupporting the War againſt the Hereticks, & for performing ſome great Enterpriſe, has enriched himſelf exceedingly. Communicates the News from various places. 48.

25. Original Letter of Capt. Tho. Moffet, to Sir Francis Walſingham, Dat. from Rouen (not from Rome, as it has been underſtood) 18 October, 1588. That there has ſome great Deſigne been lately broached at Rome which is kept very cloſe. Relates a merry ſtory of a Spaniard who had ſold all he had to furniſh out a Ship in the Spaniſh Armada, & then fell ſick. Upon his Recovery, he ſailed in a Pinnace for England (which he thought was already conquered by the help of his Ship) with a Placart of the Kings to be made Governor of Dover. But that his Intereſt therein, might be bought for a few Maravedies. That there are Braggs of the Spaniſh intereſt in Scotland; and that the K. of Spaine will either plant the Catholick Religion in England, or loſe his own. And that to this end he makes greater preparations than ever.

26. Original Letter, in Italian, to Mr. Peter Wroth, Dat. 24 October, 1589. in anſwer to a Letter received; wherein he gives a ſhort Account of ſome Computations of Time, viz. of the Olympiads, & from the building of Rome, thoſe uſed by the Old Greeks, & this by the Antient Romans. From the Beginning of the World uſed by the modern Greeks; from the Incarnation of Chriſt, uſed by other Chriſtians; and finally of the Hegjra of the Mahometans. 52.

27. Original Letter of Richarde Willoughby, to Doctor Hawkins; Dated at Padoa, 24 May, 1594. concerning the Popes Intrigues againſt Henry IV. elected King of France: whom, nevertheleſs, the Venetians have reſolved to ſend an Ambaſſage to. That the Emperor has craved an Aſſiſtance, in Money, of the Pope & Italian Princes. That the Duke of Mantua was promiſed by the Pope to be General of the Italian Forces in Hungary; but now excuſes himſelf from taking that charge upon him, as being afraid of the King of Spains great preparations in Italy, which are, yet, given out to be againſt the French King. That the Germans are more fortunate in obtaining of great Victories againſt the Turks, than diligent in well uſing them when gained. That the Turks take great pains in maintaining the Amitie of the Venetians, at this juncture; though the Turkiſh Pirates do at the ſame time comit great Inſolencies upon them 54.

28 The Conclave of Pope-Gregory 14. A. D. 1591. wherein are recounted diſtinctly & orderly, all the Actions that happened in the ſame. 55.

A Book in fol. containing a Collection of Papers, for the moſt part relating to matters of State, in the time of the Kings Hen. VII. and Henry VIII; tranſcribed by the Hand of Mr. Ralf Starkey, or of his Amanuenſis: and now bound up in the order following, viz.

1. Fragment of the Acts of Council of K. Henry VII. including only thoſe done in July the 10th, 11th, 14th, and 16th. in the firſt yeare of his Reigne. 1.

2. The Will of K. Henry VIIth. Dat. at Canterbury the 10 of April, an. Regni 24. i. e. A.D. 1509. 8.

3. An Eſtimat for the Charge for the making of a Tombe for K. Henry VII. to be erected in his Chapell in Weſtminſter; which Plott was afterward diſliked by K. Henry VIII. and altered according as it now ſtandes. 28.

4. Inſtructiones given by the Kinges Majeſtie Hen. VIII? to his Highnes truſtie & welbeloved Councellors Mr. Doctor Wotton Deane of Canterbury & Yorke; Sir William Pickeringe Knight, His Majeſties Ambaſſadore-Reſident with the Frenche Kinge; & Sir Thomas Chalenor Knight: ſent to offer the French King his Majeſties mediation for Peace between the Emperor & him. 31.

5. A Memorial given by the Kings Majeſtie (Edw. VI.) to his Highnes truſtie & right welbeloved Counſellors, the Rt. Reverend Father in God . . . . . Biſhop of . . . . Sir Robt. Bowes; Sr. Leonard Beckwithe, & Sr. Tho. Challenor Knights, whom his Majeſtie appointed his Commiſſioners to treat with the Frenche Kinges Ambaſſadors? concerning the limits between England and Scotland, the debateable Ground, & the Fiſhing in the River Tweede. 36.

6. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Mr. Richard Sampſon Deane of the Kings Chappell, & Sr. Richard Gernyngham Kt. the Kings Ambaſſadours to the Emperour in Spaine, Dat. at Grenewiche, 24th January, 152.. Inſtructing them how to demean themſelves in ſuch manner, as that (ſince the Emperor ſeems not able to continue the War with France, in ſuch a ſort as he had promiſed) an honorable Peace may be offered to his Majeſtie; or in default of that, a Truce for a ſufficient Time; and this to be done by the French King. But in caſe the French King ſhall not deſire either Peace or Truce; his Majeſtie propoſes that the Emperor ſhould applie the 100000 Crownes promiſed, on his part, to the Duke of Bourbon, toward the paying of 3000 Burgundians Horſemen, with 3000 Lance-Knights, footmen, and a good number of Guns to be ſent to his Majeſtie, who will be at all charges in rendering the ſaid Guns uſeful, and will beſides furniſh out an Army of 20000 Men, to be (with the Emperors 6000 abovementioned) put under the Command of the Duke of Bourbon; and with which he may go to Paris, and not only oblige the French King to reſtore him to his former State, but to other reaſonable Conditions of Peace. And if the Emperor will not conſent to this, they are inſtructed how to make other propoſals. 39.

7. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Mr. Doctor Sampſon Deane of the Kings Chappell, & his Graces Ambaſſador to the Emperor, Dat. at his Place beſides Weſtminſter, 5 Decemb. 152 . . deſiring him to make his Complements to Mr. John L'Allemande (the Emperors Secretary) and to deliver to him, the Proxie ſent herewith, which empowers him to receive the Penſions which the Emperor has given him, the Cardinal, out of two Biſhopricks. Out of which he deſires Mr. J. L'Allemand to accept of & deduct 200 Ducats yearly as his Gift. Alſo, to lett him know in how thankful part the King takes his good Offices, which he will alſo reward with a Penſion, &c. 50.

Num. 297.

8. Inſtructions giuen by the Kings Highnes to his truſty & right wel-beloued Counſailours Sir Thomas Boleyn Threaſurour of his houſhould, & Dr. Sampſon Deane of his Chapell; contayninge ſuche matters & ouvertures as on the Kings behalfe they ſhall declare & make to the Emperour. i. e. To thank him for communicating to him the French Kings practiſes for obtaining Peace, and for the anſwer he made to the ſame. To ſhewe the Emperor that the French have made like Offers to him, and received like Anſwer. To reflect upon the French Kings melting the Plate, garniſhing the Corps of St. Martin, the Images of the 12 Apoſtles, &c. as ſacrilegious, and as what would provoke Gods indignation againſt him. To praiſe him upon his moſt Chriſtian Reſolutions taken, of ſuccouring the Rhodes againſt the Turkes. To Congratulate him upon the ſubmiſſion of his rebellious Subjects. As alſo, how joyful his Majeſtie is that he will be ready to invade France by the time appointed. Touching the Ambaſſage coming from Portugal to the Emperor, to offer him that King's ſiſter in Marriage, & to extoll the Anſwer which the Emperor intends to make to that Ouverture. Alſo to declare to him, that the Duke of Bourbon being diſcontented with the French Kings inordinate & ſenſual Government, is diſpoſed to redreſs the ſame, with the Inſolent Demeanours of that King & of ſuch his indiſcreet Councellors as have induced him into ſuch Folly & Danger as he now ſtands in, by the loſs of his Dominions out of France, & the impoveriſhment of his Subjects within. In order to which, he is not only willing to crave the Emperors Alliance by Marriage with his ſiſter, but to joyn with him & his Majeſtie, at ſuch time as they ſhall make actual War in France. That the Duke of Bourbon propoſed to bring into the Field 500 Men at Armes, with 8 or 10000 Men; and if theſe Propoſals might be accepted, to ſend his Chancellor to ſome appointed Place in Savoy, there to treate with their Miniſters. And to ſhew the Emperor what Advantages may accrue to their common Cauſe by ſuch an Acceſſion of Strength. To have an Eie upon the Emperors Conduct with relation to the King of Portugal's ſiſter in caſe ſhe comes into Spain. To acquaint him that the Switzers have agreed to aſſiſt the French King in the recovery of the Duchie of Milan: and that the Venetians are like to joyn with them therein, unleſs taken off by good Offers: wherein as he has already begun, he will continue to do what he can. To advertiſe him of the falſeneſs of the Duke of Albany & the other Scots Noblemen, who when they found the Kings Army in readineſs to give them Battle, deſired the Qu. of Scottes, the Kings ſiſter, to mediate a Truce for them, and promiſing to ſend an Ambaſſage of noble perſons to him, to aſk a Peace. That this Truce being granted at that Queens requeſt, & the Kings Army withdrawn, the Duke of Albany & the reſt would neither continue the Truce, nor ſend any Ambaſſador, unleſs his Majeſtie would comprize the French King in the Peace, which he would not do. To ſett forth the damages which the Kings Army did, this laſt Campaigne, to the French in Picardy; together with the uſeleſſneſs of the Spaniſh Fleet. Laſtly, ſince by the deceaſe of Sir Thomas Spinelli his Majeſties late Ambaſſador in Spaine, the Cipher he uſed is come into the hands of divers perſons; his Majeſtie herewith ſends a new one. 51.

9. Inſtructions given to Mr. Doctor Nicholas Wootton ſent towards the Emperor to remaine there as Ambaſſador Leger, in the place of Edmund Boner? the Biſhope of London, & Sir Francis Brian. Firſt to take his Audience of Leave of the Queen of Hungary Regent in the Low Countreys, with whom he was reſident, and to ſhew her that his place would be ſupplied by Dr. Leighton Dean of Yorke. Then to repaire to the Emperor, & to acquaint him that his Majeſtie has ſent him thither to remaine with him as his Ambaſſador Reſident, &c. To procure the Emperor to declare throughout his Dominions that all Scotts are his enemies, except ſuch as are his Majeſties friends. To deſire the Emperor & Granvela to conſider of a proper method for the invading of France the next Summer by them both, according to their Agreement. To learne how they proceeded upon the Ouverture made to the Emperor by the Duke of Lorrayne for Peace with France; ſince the King would not hearken to that made by the French Ambaſſador to him, becauſe it was not communicated to the Emperors Ambaſſador. That ſince the Emperor has not ſent out ſuch a Navie, & ſo furniſhed as he was obliged to do by the Treatie, though his Majeſtie performed to the full of his part, he ſhall ſollicit this matter with the Emperor, & Grandvela his Miniſter, unleſs the remonſtrances to be made by the Bp. of London & Sir Francis Brian, will prevail in that behalf. 60.

10. Inſtructions for Sir William Pagett Knight of the Order, and Comptroller of the Kings Houſehold, ſent to the Emperoure, to procure the temporall Peace to be made perpetuall; and to declare the Portion & Conditions for the Marrriage of the Lady Mary Princeſſe, to the Infant of Portugall; as alſo to adviſe touchinge the Treatie then beinge with Fraunce: to procure him to inhibit his ſubjects from trafficking into Scotland; to know the ſentiments of the Emperor & his Miniſters, with regard to a Peace between England & France.

These Inſtructions were drawn up in the time of K. Edw. VI. and it was deſired that the perpetual League might be confirmed by the States of the Low-Countreys, and Decrees thereof to be made in their Courts; as in England the King would ratifie it, and that the Parliament would confirm it, and the Court of Chancerie, Kings Bench, & Common Pleas make Decrees thereof. 63.

11. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to John Clarke Biſhop of Bathe, Ambaſſador from K. Henry VIII. to the Court of Rome, concerning the furniſhing the Army in Milain, under the command of the Duke of Bourbon, with a ſum of Money, at this juncture of time that the Emperor has not paid them the 200000 Ducats as he ought to have done, and that the French by taking the Paſſages ſo that Money cannot come to them from the Emperor, think to ſtarve 'em & conſume 'em without fighting. 66.

12. Letter of K. Henry VIII. to the Biſhop of . . . . his Orator at the Court of Rome, written A. D. 1517. complaining exceedingly of a certain Bull which the late Biſhop of Tournay had procured of the Pope, for reinſtating him in the ſaid See, (though before given by the ſame Pope to Cardinal Wolſey) fulminating all the Cenſures of the Church againſt any perſon (without exception) that ſhould hinder him from taking poſſeſſion of the ſame; and authorizing him to require the help of the Secular Arm, i. e. (of the French King) to reinſtate him in the ſame, and conſequently to raiſe a freſh war between both Crowns, &c. All this, after ſo many kindneſſes as the King had ſhewed to the ſaid Pope, at his very great expence; and without ever conſulting him, or the Cardinall thereupon. The King blames him much for his negligence in ſuffering ſuch a Bull to paſſe, without his Notice & Advertiſement; and commands him to procure the ſame to be recalled, (in ſuch manner as he ſhould be directed by the Cardinal's Letters) or he would recall him, & ſend ſome fitter perſon to take care of his Affairs there. 69.

13. A Memoriall by way of Inſtructions, of ſuch things as Sir John Ruſſell Knight hath, to be ſaid & done with the Duke of Bourbon, on the Kings i. e. K. H. VIII's) behalfe. A.D. 1523. Herein he is commanded to enter into a Treaty with the Duke of Bourbon, (for the Kings Miniſter Dr. Knight could not be preſent, through the badneſs of the ways, & other dangers, when the Treatie was concluded with the Duke by the Emperors Miniſter Mr. de Beaurain;) to procure him to acknowledge his Majeſtie, as King of France for his Soveraign & Liege Lord; and to enter into meaſures for his beginning the War in France, & for the payment of that Army. As his Majeſtie would invade Picardie with another fine Army, by the latter end of this Month. And, (with the Kings & Lord Legate's Letters) to communicate all matters to the Lady Margaret Regent of the Lowe-Countreys. 74.

14. The Effect of the Inſtructions given by the Emperor to Monſieur de Beaurayn, touching ſuch matters as are be to be treated with Monſr. de Bourbon. Dat. at Valedolite, 28 May, 1523. 78.

15. The Effect of the Inſtructions of Monſr. Beawrayn, for ſuch things as he hath to do in England. Dated at Valedolite, 28 May, 1523. about ſupporting the Duke of Bourbon, and the invading of France this Somer. 79.

16. Inſtructiones giuen by the Kings Highnes to his truſty Clerke & Counſaillor Mr. William Knight Doctor of the Lawe, the Kings Ambaſſadour with the Lady Margaret, touching certain matters to be treated & done with the Duke of Bourbon. 80.

17. Letter of Sir Richard Jerningham & Dr. Sampſon Ambaſſadors from K. Henry VIII. to the Emperor Charles V. then in Spaine, written to Cardinal Wolſey 3 July, 1523. Advertiſing that that they had complemented the Queen of Portugal, (the Emperors Siſter) both on the Kings behalf & his; as alſo what paſsed at the ſeveral Audiences they had of the Emperor, and at the Conferences with his Council, touching the joynt Invaſion of France, now concluded to commence in Auguſt. 89.

18. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey, to Dr. Sampſon & Sr. Richard Jernyngham Knight, the Kings Counſellors, & Ambaſſadors with the Emperor. Dat. at his Place beſide Weſtminſter, 3 July, 1523. containing many particulars relating to the Duke of Bourbon, & the Invaſion of France. As alſo, advertiſing him of the King of Denmarks arrival in England, he having fled out of his Kingdom with his Queen (the Emperor's Siſter) and their Children. That he had been royally entertained at the Kings charge, ſince he came to Calais, more out of his conſideration of his Alliance with the Emperor, than for any kindneſs he had ever ſhewn to England. That his buſineſs is to crave the King's Advice & Aſſiſtance againſt the Duke of Holſtein his Unkle, & the Daniſh Nobility, who had taxed him with the Breach of Convention agreed upon by all parties at their electing him to be King, upon the requeſt of his Father the late King. But that he (the Cardinal had adviſed him to repaire with all ſpeed to ſuch of his Countreys as ſtill retain their Affection & Obedience to him, (of which he has ſeveral) and endeavour by the help of his loving Subjects there, to regain what he has thus loſt. In order to which, it might be expedient for the Emperor, & the King, to ſend their Embaſſadors, & to try what might be effected for him by way of Mediation. That if this Courſe fail, then by the aſſiſtance of the Pope, & of the Princes of Germany their Confederates, to reinſtate him in his Throne per force. That the King of Denmarke approves this method exceedingly, and will ſet out for Flanders within 4 or 5 days. And that they having communicated this Matter, at large, to the Emperor, are to advertiſe his Opinion touching the ſame. That upon the Attachment of Cardinal Sodorino at Rome, the French King has revoked his Miniſters from thence; and that they ought to take this Opportunitie of working the Pope into a League defenſive, with them, againſt France, for to act offenſively, he poſitively refuſeth. Finally to think of making for the future, ſorer War with France than hitherto has been done; which has coſt them both much, & given the French but little diſturbance. To which end it may be neceſſary to invade France with their Forces, & in both their proper Perſons. That though the French King had pretended to be Maſter of the narrow Seas, but that his Majeſtie had fitted out ſuch a Navy as the French King could not look in the face, and therefore only deſired the Emperor to take care of his own Coaſts, &c. 96.

19. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Dr. Sampſon & Sir Richard Jernyngham Knight, the Kings Ambaſſadors to the Emperors Majeſtie, Dat. at his Place beſides Weſtm. 10 Auguſt, 1523. wondering that he has heard nothing of them ſince the receipt of their laſt Letters (abovementioned, at N°. 17.) that Dr. Knight who was ordered to treat with the Duke of Bourbon, joyntly with Monſr. de Beaurayne, could not get into France, by reaſon of the reigning diſtemper: and that his Majeſtie, confiding in the ſincerity of the Emperor, was ſending a puiſſant Armie into France, which would be at Calais, by the 19th Inſtant. 104.

20. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Dr. Sampſon & Sir Richard Jernyngham, Knight, the Kings Ambaſſadors to the Emperor, Dat. at Hampton-Court, the penultime day of Auguſt, A. D. 1523. that the King, though he was not appriſed of the late Treaty concluded by them with the Emperor's Miniſters, he had ſent out as fine an Army, as had paſſed out of this Realme at any time theſe hundred years, under the command of the Duke of Suffolk; to be joyned upon the Marches of Calais with 6000 men from the Lady Margaret Regent of the Lowe-Countreys, and ſo to beſiege Boleyne. And that he hopes the Emperor has, ere this, ſett out his Army under the command of the Duke of Bourbon, to attack the French on the ſide of Guyen. That the French King having made preparations to ſend the Duke of Albany with a good army into Scotland; the King had raiſed the power of the North-parts, headed by the Earl of Surrey to repell them. And that beſides, he had fitted out ſeveral great Fleets to guard the Seas, which had already much damaged the French, eſpecially at Treaport under the conduct of Sir William Fitz-Williams. That they had hindered the Duke of Albany from taking Shipping for Scotland, & thus he having diſappointed the Scotts, by tarrying after the affixed time of his return, his party dwindled there apace. That in caſe he ſhould gett into Scotland, the Earl of Surrey was ready to give him Battaile, who had already ſo devaſted & deſtroyed all Tivedale, & the Marſh, that there is left neither Houſe, Fortreſſe, Village, Tree, Cattel, Corne, or other ſuccour for Man. Inſomuch as ſome of the People which fled from the ſame, and afterward retourned, finding no ſuſtentation, were compelled to come into England, begging bread; which oftentimes, when they eate they die Incontinently, for the Hunger paſſed; and with no impriſonment, cutting of their Eares, burning them in the Face, or otherwiſe, can be kept away. 106.

Num. 297.

at Westminster, the 6th day of November, 1523. Giving answer to the proposals made by the Emperor touching the method for pushing on the War against France with vigor, and relating what the King had done for his part, both with the Duke of Bourbon whose Army he had kept from ruin; & toward Scotland where he had an Army of 50000 Men commanded by the Earl of Surrey, besides 5000 Lords & Gentlemen. That Sir John Russel has concluded a Treaty with the Duke of Bourbon, in all points according as was projected; saving that the Article touching the Dukes recognising his Majestie for his Soveraigne, is left to the decision of the Emperor. That the French Army in Italy had received a great overthrow, & lost 22000 men. That the Duke of Bourbon was advancing farther toward the Enemy. And that the Switzers had given the French King 6000 men to attend upon him for the safeguard of his Person. 112.

22. Letter of Cardinal Wolsey, to the Bishop of Bathe, Mr. Secretary Pace, & Mr. Hanyball, the Kings Ambassadors at Rome, Dat. . . . . December, 1523. Concerning the Election of the Cardinal de Medicis to be Pope, who has taken the Name of Clement the VIIth. and instructing them with what compliments they should deliver the Kings & his Letters Congratulatory. To shew him of the great successes of the Kings Army in France (which after taking many strong Townes there to the Kings use, as parcel of his Inheritance of his Realme of France) was marched farther in the bowels of the same Countrey to joyne the Duke of Bourbon. But that the Weather being so extremely rigorous, the Armies were fain to march back again, for their own safety, & the preservation of their horses, &c. To declare to the Pope the present weakness of the French King, in many particulars; and to know what his Majestie is to trust to from the Pope, in relation to these Warres, which through the Emperors remissness have been chiefly supported by his Majestie. To desire the Pope to persuade the Duke of Bourbon, to come into England, & to concert matters there, for the better carrying on the War. Though if that Duke should refuse to take that Journey, his Majestie is not minded further to charge himself than he hath done, for any assistance to be given unto the said Duke. Rehearses the Arguments they should use to the Pope, in dehorting him from shewing any favor or inclination toward the French, in case they cannot bring him into the League against France. 117.

23. Letter of Cardinal Wolsey, to Dr. Sampson, & Sir Richard Jernyngham Kt. the Kings Counsailours, and Ambassadors to the Emperor: Dat. at his Place besides Westminster, the 4th day of December, 1523. Advertising them that, the Lady Margaret had refused to supply the Burgundians, who were in Company with the Duke of Suffolk, with Money & Victualls; that the 10000 Lance knights under Count Felix, having taken the Kings money, and a great bootie, had treacherously went out of the Field, & gone home; and that the Duke of Bourbon was resolved to passe to the Emperor, by the way of Genoa. That therefore the Duke of Suffolk was retired to Valenciennes. That they much sett forth these things at large to the Emperor, & that the Burgundians, to the hindrance of the Service, came not so soon, so numerous, nor so furnished as had been promised; and that this has been the only occasion of the Armies coming back. Of the Duke of Albanies great Army of Scotts & French; and of the wonderful Defence of 100 English Men in Garrison in the Castle of Werke, against that Army, who besieged the place, & were forced to fly away from thence, by the Earl of Surrey the English General. That the Scotts Proposal for a Peace, & comprehending the French in the same had been rejected. And shewing them what they are to remonstrate to the Duke of Bourbon, upon his arrival in Spaine, upon the disbanding of the Lance-Knights, and his retreat, at a time when they might have occasioned a Revolution in France. 127.

24. Secret Instructions contayning certaine Points & Articles, wherin it is the Kings pleasure that his Ambassadours shall diligently enquire and ascertaine his Hignes (K. Hen. VIII.) as they shall understand & know in the same. These Secret Instructions, seem to belong to those open Instructions, above mentioned, at No. 8. And to have been drawn up, about A. D. 1522. 135.

25. Letter of Cardinal Wolsey to Sr. Thomas Boleyn Kt. Treasurer of his Majesties Honble. Household; & Mr. Richard Sampson Deane of the Kings Chappell; his Graces Ambassadors to the Emperor, Dat. at his Place besides Westm. . . . day of January, A. D. 152½? appriising them of his Majesties pleasure to be declared to the Emperor in Answer to the 3 main points declared by his Ambassador. 1. that the French King desireth either Peace or Truce; Secondly, that the Portuguese Ambassador desireth the Emperors sister to be given in marriage to the King his Master, & offers that Kings sister to the Emperor. 3. As to the Enterprises to be made this year upon the French, & for the Preservation of the Dutchy of Milain. With proposals how to keep the Germans & Switzers from the service of the French King. And Orders to cause some Iron Ordnance to be made in Biscay, &c. & sent to Portesmouthe, for the use of the Fleet. 136.

26. A Booke of Orders for the Warre both by Sea & Land, written by Thomas Audeley, att the Command of King Herrie the VIII. 144.

27. Letter of Cardinal Wolsey to John Clarke Bp. of Bathe, Mr. Secretary Pace, & Mr. Hanyball, the Kings Ambassadors at Rome, Dat. 25 Marche, 1524. Instructing them to continue their effectual endeavours for entirely bringing the Pope off from the French side; and to induce the Pope to mediate a Peace between the King & the Emperor on the one side, & the French King on the other, upon honorable Terms. That one Overture may be this, the French King to marry his young Daughter (when fitt) or the Lady Renne his Queen's sister, to the Duke of Milain, upon whom, & upon the Issue of their Bodies lawfully begotten, that Dutchy to be settled, paying him yearly 100000 Ducats, during his life. And that in case of failure of such Issue, it should revert to the said French King & his Heires, to be always holden of the Emperor & his successors. 150.

28. Letter of Cardinal Wolsey, to the Bishop of Bathe, & Mr. Hanyball, Ambassadors from K. Hen. VIII. to the Court of Rome, Dat. . . . . May, 1524. concerning the good success of the Duke of Bourbon's Army in Milain, against the French; and the Popes Declaration, that he will adhere to the Emperor & his Majesty, in case the French King will not hearken to reasonable offers of Peace. Of the Popes sending the Arch Bp. of Capua to mediate a Peace of Truce, with the French, which that King refused. And that the Pope did privately advise the Emperor & K. Henry, not to cease pressing the Enemy, but upon profitable Conditions, first obtained. That K. Henry had drawn a Scheme for a Truce, when the Enemy shall be yet further reduced; especially by the Duke of Bourbon's Army, which the Emperor & his Majestie has agreed to maintain joyntly. For which end Sir John Russell is sent over, to pay the Kings money, & Mr. Richard Pace the Kings Secretary placed about him to treat farther with him, as shall be found necessary; and to advertise all occurrences. 158.

29. Letter of Cardinal Wolfey, to Dr. Sampſon, the King's Ambaſſador in Spaine, Dat. at his Place beſides Weſtminſter, 4 June, 1524. touching a Monk whom the French Kings mother had privately ſent to him, with Ouvertures of Peace. That in half an hours time, he diſpatched him back with this Anſwer, that the King his Maſter (Hen. VIII.) demanded the whole Realme & Crowne of France; with Normandy, Gaſcoigne, Guyen, & the Dependancies, being the Kings very juſt & rightfull Inheritance, wrongfully detayned from his Grace by the ſayd French King: the recovery whereof his Grace will not faile to proſecute with all his power, to the uttermoſt. That he muſt apprife the Emperor of all occurrences, happened both here, & at Rome, as about the Duke of Bourbon. To ſhew him, that the King intends to invade France, in perſon, the next yeare; in caſe the French King be not brought to Reaſon before that time. And that the King conſidering that the Emperor does not abound with money, is willing that the Emperor ſhould not furniſh ſo many Men, as was ſtipulated by the Treaty of Windſor, for the Army to go along with either of the Princes deſigning to invade France, in Perſon. 166.

30. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Mr. Sampſon, the Kings Ambaſſador to the Emperor, in Spaine, Dat. at the Court, 26th of Septemb. 1524. Shewing how much the King marvels at the Emperor's miniſters at Rome, are labouring to make a Truce with the French King, for 4 or 5 years, whenas the Duke of Bourbon has had ſuch great Succeſſes, being now ſett down before Marſeilles, after the gaining of almoſt all Provence. That he has now ſent Sir Gregorie de Caſſalis expreſſie into England, deſiring his Majeſtie to invade France forthwith, on this ſide, by which means he need not doubt of bringing about a total Revolution there, & conſequently to regain his antient patrimony & Inheritance. And that his Majeſtie was now raiſing an Army, in all haſt. That the Duke of Bourbon complains that if the Emperor had ſent his proportion of Men & Money, according to agreement, he ſhould e're this, have penetrated much farther into the Bowels & Heart of France. That the Emperors Agents at Rome have publiſhed what his reſolutions are in caſe of the Duke of Bourbons great, indifferent, or ſmall Succeſs. Complains of divers ſtrange Proceedings of the Emperors people in different places, and that the Emperors Indemnifying the King as to his Penſions heretofore received from France, is not regarded as it ought. That his Majeſtie therefore deſires to know what he may expect, for the future, and that the Emperor would better furniſh the Duke of Bourbon, both with men & money, or elſe all that Project would fall to nothing, to their vaſt prejudice, & to the great advantage of the common enemy. That John Joachym has been ſent hither by the French King's mother, to make Ouvertures of Peace, but has hitherto kept himſelf within ſuch generalities, that he rather comes to ſpie, than to treat; and therefore he has told him that if he does not in a little time come to Particulars, he will ſend him back. 172.

31. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Mr. Sampſon, the Kings Ambaſſador to the Emperor, in Spain.—October, 1524. whereof a great part, in the Original being written in Cyfre, is omitted in this Copie. In what here remains, the Cardinal writes, that through the great hindrance happening to the Duke of Bourbon, by not receiving the ſtipulated number of Horſe & Foot from the Vice-Roy of Naples; and the ſupplies of Money from the Emperor, the French King had had time to recover out of his bad condition, & to gather ſtrength, inſomuch as the Siege of Marſeilles was raiſed, and the French King with an Army gone into Italy, where he had regained moſt of the Dutchy of Milain, and was now conſulting about the conqueſt of Naples. Inſtructs him how to ſatisfie the ſuſpicions conceived by the Emperor, upon the continuance of Joachym in England; who ſtill continues in Generalities, and when he bids him be gone, craves liberty to tarry for the next Letters, & for better Inſtructions, &c. But that the Emperor may aſſure himſelf, that nothing will be done here without his knowledge & participation. 180.

32. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to the Biſhop of Bathe, the Kings Ambaſſador at Rome, written about the End of December, A. D. 1524. That it is ſaid that the French King was ſending the Duke of Albany, & other Generals with a ſufficient Army to reduce the Kingdome of Naples. And that there had been a Treatie lately, & privately concluded between the ſaid French King, & the Pope, notwithſtanding the many & great proteſtations, & aſſurances given by his Holineſs, to continue of the ſide of the Emperor & his Majeſtie. And therefore directs him, to remonſtate to the Pope, in his Name, how much his Majeſtie has all along had at heart, the Peace of Chriſtendome, as well in regard of the Turke, as of the damnable Hereſies ſuſcitate & brought up by the frier Martyn Luther; againſt both whom there can be no effectual proceeding, without univerſal Peace in Chriſtendome. That his favouring the French King, who has been the common Diſturber, will hinder ſuch Peace, & be the occaſion of many other calamities. For the King & the Emperor, will never ſuffer the French to poſſeſs Milain & Naples. For if the French King can keep them, the Pope to be ſure will be uſed by him as his Chaplain; and he will alſo, by degrees gett the remaining parts of Italie; and then attempt the Empire of Rome. That the Popes intention of erecting Tuſcany into a Kingdom, and ſettling it on his family (of Medicis) may as 'tis eaſy to be foreſeen, be attended by the Revolt of Germany from the obedience of the Holy See, & perhaps of Spaine, & other Countreys alſo. He would have the Pope to intende, with all effect, unto ſuch ways & meanes as ſhall tend to th'encreaſe of Chriſt's Religion. For he cannot ſee how it may ſtand with the Law & Pleaſure of Almightie God, that the Heads of the Church ſhould thus involve & inmix themſelves & their State, by their conjunction unto Temporal Princes, in the Wars. And ſuppoſes, that ſince theſe Leagues offenſive or defenſive, or both, have been uſed to be made, in the Name of any Pope; God hath ſtricken & ſent Affliction unto the whole Church and Generalitie of Chriſtendome for the ſame. And theſe Contracts & Conventions uſed for enhauncing of particular Families & Countries have not hitherto proved either to endure, or do good & furtherance to the Papal Dignity: But all that one Pope hath gone about in ſuch affaires, with much Travaile, Labour, Coſt, & Difficultie, hath, either in his owne tyme, or ſoone after, beene diſappointed. And always with the detriment & domage of the See Apoſtolicke. Which hath been of the chiefe Cauſes to provoke ſuch damnable Sects againſt the Popes Authority, as hath of late daies been raiſed in ſundry partes of Chriſtendome. He propoſes ſeveral ways of fruſtrating the French Kings deſigns upon Naples, eſpecially by the Popes aſſiſtance, though given under hand. And ſhews that the Pope & Venetians muſt not only be exhorted to aſſiſt the Emperor, but to be putt in hopes, that when the Inveſtiture of the Duchy of Milain ſhall be conferred upon the Duke of that Name, they will be rid of both Spaniards & French, at once. And to let the Pope be aſſured, that notwithſtanding any French rumors of a Treaty concluding in England by a Servant of the French Kings Mother (John Joachym) nothing ſhall be done without the Emperors conſent, & his Holyneſſes privity. 184.

to the Emperor, in Spaine: Dat. at his Mannor of Hampton-Court, 14 of January, 1523. NB. the Original (as it ſeems) being damaged in ſome places (if not written in Cyfre) this Copie is not compleat. Concerning the diſſolving of the Army in France under the Duke of Suffolke, &the Count de Buren (vid. ſupra, No. 23.) with propoſals by his Majeſtie for raiſing another Army between the Emperor & him, to be put under the command of the Duke of Bourbon, who thereby may be enabled to cauſe a thorough Revolution in France. 195.

34. Letter to Cardinal Wolſey (from the Bp. of Bath) written at Rome, 26 January, 1525. touching the League concluded between the Pope, the French King, the Florentines, the Duke of Ferrara, & the Marquis of Mantua; with the practiſes of the Pope to draw the Venetians into the ſame, who has yet hold out, & ſupply the Emperors Army. That the Popes town of Placentia had ſupplied the French with Proviſions, who without them could not have continued there. That the Duke of Bourbon was gone to the relief of Pavia; and that he had refuſed, upon the Popes meſſages, to yield to the French King the poſſeſſion of the Dutchy of Milain, as being reſolved to fight. 201.

35. Letter from the Biſhop of Bathe, Mr. Pace & Mr. Hanyball? to Cardinal Wolſey, Dat. from Rome, 24 Febr. 1523. Advertiſing him, that the Pope had given them freſh aſſurances that he would never forſake the King, though the Frenchmen ſhould have power to drive him out of Rome. And that he promiſed to aſſiſt the Emperor with a ſum of Money in theſe wars with the French. 203.

36. Letter from the Bp. of Bathe? to . . . . Rome, 26 January, 1525. advertiſing that the Duke of Bourbon being within 10 Miles of the French King, was advancing forwards to fight with him. 205.

37. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Cuthburt Tonſtall? Bp. of London & Lord Privie Seale, & Mr. Richard Wingfield Kt. of the Order, the Kings Ambaſſadors to the Emperor, Dat. at his Place beſides Weſtminſter, the 3 day of Aprill, 1525. concerning the Emperors offers, & the Kings deſires with relation to the Armies neceſſary for Invading France, and for ſupport of the Duke of Bourbon. And touching an Emerald which the Lady Mary (the Kings daughter) had ſent to the Emperor (to whom, it had been long before agreed ſhe ſhould be married) as a Token of her Love. 206.

38. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey, to the Biſhop of London, & Sr. Richard Wingfield Knight, the Kings Ambaſſadors to the Emperor, in Spaine, Dat. at his Place beſides Weſtminſter, the 7th of April, 1525. advertiſing them that the Pope is now minded to enter into a League offenſive & defenſive with the Emperor & his Majeſtie. And would have the Realme of France deminiſhed of certaine greate Portions thereof; and the French Kings eldeſt ſon to be admitted unto the Crowne thereof. He is ſuſpicious of the Emperors playing his own game, without reſpect had to the profit of his Majeſtie, and therefore directs them to acquaint him with the great offers made to his Majeſtie by the Princes & States in Italy, to give his daughter to the French Kings eldeſt ſon, in order thereby to keep the Emperor from aſpiring to an Univerſal Monarch, which deſign would be much facilitated by his marrying his Majeſties daughter; But that his Majeſtie has refuſed theſe Offers. Concerning an Invaſion of France, by the Duke of (Suff?) Norfolke, and by his Majeſtie. That his Majeſtie had likewiſe refuſed the great Offers of the Scots Ambaſſadors, who came to demand the Princeſs his daughter in Marriage, for their young King. And therefore has good reaſon to hope, that the Emperor will make no agreement with the French, without his knowledge & conſent. 208.

39. Letter of King Henry VIII. to the Bp. of London, Sir Richard Wingfield, & Mr. Sampſon, his Ambaſſadors, to the Emperor, in Spaine, Dat. at Stony-Stratforde, the 8th day of September, 1525. ſetting forth the Reaſons moving him to make Peace with the French King, upon the 30th day of Auguſt laſt (wherein he had comprehended the Emperor and the Duke of Bourbon) in like maner as he is advertiſed that the Emperor has concluded, or is upon the point of concluding the like Peace there; and that one is going to Rome for the Popes Diſpenſation with the Emperors Marriage to the ſiſter of Portugall. Commands them to ſhew how neceſſary it is for him to releaſe the French King, his Priſoner for a convenient Ranſome, and without preſſing him to depart with any great Lands or Countreys now remaining in his poſſeſſion, To diſſwade the Emperor from marrying his Siſter the Lady Eleanor to the French King, ſince upon her, next to Don Fernando, depends all his Inheritance, and may putt the French King upon conſpiring their Deſtruction, in hopes of coming at laſt to their Inheritance, & to the Empire. As alſo ſhews with what Arguments they ſhall diſſuade the French King, or his ſiſter the Ducheſs Dowager of Alençon from the ſame. NB. that though this Letter ſeems by the ſtile to have been drawn up by Cardinal Wolſey, yet he is not mentioned therein, amongſt others of the Kings Councillors who perſuaded him to the Peace with France, nor in any other part of the Letter. 211.

40. Letter of Cardinal Wolſey to Mr. Sampſon Dean of his Majeſties Chappell, & his Majeſties Ambaſſador to the Emperor, in Spain.—13 February, 1525. (1524.) ſetting forth his Majeſties great Love to the Emperor, & diligence uſed in bringing his affairs with regard to France into a better poſture. Tranſlation of that deſcription of it in Saxon verſe, which has been mentioned by many of the eminent Anglo-Saxoniſts, and honoured with the Verſions of divers of them. I think it begins thus, "Iſ beopꝛ bpome," &c. Another note is taken from the Acts of the Biſhops of Durham, wherein it is aſſerted, that Univerſity College in Oxford was built, A.D. 1084. by William Biſhop of Durham. 11.

9. Chriſtopher Ridley to the right worſhipful Mr. Will. Claxton of Winyard: giving an Account of the Pictes wall. 13.

10. Mr. Thomas Hatcher to John Stowe, dat. from Carbye in Lincolnſhire, 18 Jan. 1580. concerning John Blackman's Treatiſe of K. Henry the VI. And of the Hiſtory of King's College in Cambridge, of which the Doctor had gathered two Volumes of Collections: deſires Mr. Stowe to publiſh Lelands Commentaries, or whatever he has of Leland, either in Latin or Engliſh. putts him again in mind of ſetting forth his manifold Antiquities, under the title of Stowes Storehouſe: deſires him to ſpeake to Mr. Camden the Uſher of Weſtminſter, about printing the Hiſtory of Tobit in Latin verſe, which (from a friend) had been putt into his Hands: intends a Diſcourſe about the Authors cited by Stowe in his Chronicle, wherein he deſires his aſſiſtance, and alſo the ſight of Leland de Scriptoribus: and deſires to know who penned or compoſed the Book de Epiſcopis Cantuarienſibus, with the Regiſter of Cambridge at the end, which (Mathew Parker) the late Arch. Bp. of Canterburie cauſed to be printed. 14.

11. Doctor John Dee, to John Stowe; 4 December. That the two Earls had received his (Stowes) Books, and took them very thankfully, but mentioned nothing of any reward. Gives him directions as touching the Cinq Ports. Thinks Mr. Stowes Copie of Aſſerius, not to be of the beſt, or perfecteſt; and deſires to borrow Floriacenſis (leg. Florentius) Wigornienſis. (Upon the backſide of this Letter J. Stowe wrote ſome Hiſtorical notes, relating (chiefly) to the Benefactors of St. Albans Monaſtery.) 15.

12. . . . . to Mr. Stowe, reſtoring a booke borrowed; and acquainting him of one he has in ſtore for him, being the Life of K. Edw. the Confeſſor by Haildare (Ælredus) Ryvallenſis, with a Chronicle of England which ſeems to be that of Geffrey of Monmouth. 16.

13. Joan Foſter to her father Mr. John Stowe, dat. from Warwicke, 3 December. Deſiring him to ſeek out for the Foundation of the Hoſpital of Warwicke by the Earls of the ſame; for Mr. Oliver Brooke her friend the owner (or Maſter?) thereof. At the bottom, Mr. Stowe has putt down ſome ſmall Notes touching the ſame. 17.

14. Daniel Dun (Doctor of Lawes, and Advocate of the Arches) his Account of the Life and Poſterity of his father in Law William Aubrey Doctor of Lawes, one of the Maſters of Requeſts, &c. 18.

15. Note of Enquiries to be made of Mr. Claxton, touching the Pict's wall; the ſcituation of Bremenium a Towne mentioned by Ptolemy; and other Antiquities, Coins, and Inſcriptions, found in the North parts of England. Written by Mr. Camden. 20 b.

16. Mr. Will. Claxton to John Stowe, dat. from Wynyard 10 April, 1594. That he returns his book of the Life of St. Edward: and deſires a Copie of his Book of foundations (perhaps of Cathedral and Monaſtical Churches) which Mr. Stowe has written that he had lately augmented. 21.

17. Mr. Henry Ferrers (of Tamworth Caſtle?) to Mr. Stowe; returns his books borrowed; and deſires the loane of his Bede, and the Pedegree of Kings. (Here Mr. Stowe has written ſome old ſtanzas, perhaps out of the Book entituled the Ship of Fooles. 22.

18. Thomas Martyn to Mr. Stowe praiſes his Chronicle, but thinks three Stories therein are not ſufficiently

24. Thomas Cecyll Earl of Exeter, to Hugh Allington Eſq; dat. from London, 13 November 1605. acquainting him, that ſome had called his brother the Earl of Saliſbury, THE GRANDSON OF A SIEVE-MAKER, which expreſſion likewiſe, he thought a reflection upon himſelf. He deſires therefore, Mr. Alington to ſearch among his Evidences at Burghley-houſe, for certain Writts, wherein his grandfather is ſtiled Eſquire (A ſtile, then given to none but Gentlemen of note) and for others wherein it is ſhewed that he was High Sheriffe either of Lincolnſhire, or of Northamptonſhire. and alſo, if he has any like Records of his own, to communicate the ſame. That his father the Lord Treaſurer's writing his name Cecyll, whereas his Grandfather wrote it Syſſell has made ſome to doubt whether they be rightly deſcended of the howſe of Walles, becauſe they write their Names Sitſelt: Tho' his Lordſhip left his Pedegree very well ſett out. Upon the backſide of this Letter are putt down authorities, whereby it appears, that David Cecill was ſtiled Armiger, A. D. 1523. That David Cecill Armiger was High-Sheriffe of Northamptonſhire An. 23 & 24 Hen. 8. That Humphrey Lhoyd & Dr. Powell call him grandfather to Sr. William Cecill Kt. Lord Burleigh. And that Richard Cecill the ſon of this David, was High Sheriffe of Rutlandſhire, A. D. 1539 & 1540. 32.

25. Copie of the Brief or Bull of Pope Pius, dat. 10 Kal. Octob. A. D. 1606. dehorting the Engliſh Catholicks from taking the Oath of Allegiance to the King, and from being preſent at the ſervice of the Church of England; perſuading them rather, to continue, to ſuffer all torments, & martyrdome its ſelf for the Truth's ſake, &c. 34.

77. Mr. Abraham Wheelock, at Cambridge, 26 January 1639. to Sir Simonds D'Ewes. wiſhes that ſome Scholers would undertake to compile a Body of Divinity, of our Doctrine, out of the Saxon and Britiſh Writers, who in many things agree with thoſe of the Eaſtern Churches. That as to the ſlaughter of the Monks of Bangor which (Alexander) Eſſebienſis & others, ſay was occaſioned by Auguſtine of Canterbury, 3 Latin MSS. (of Bedes Eccleſ. Hiſtory?) agree that Auguſtine was dead before it hapned, and 3 others in Saxon, omitt the Paſſage. That as to the Ælfric in Trinity College Library, he thinks he can procure it for him for a fortnight, & is ſure he can cauſe what he pleaſes to be tranſcribed from thence. That Sir Thomas Cotton is moſt obligingly communicative of his rarities, and wonders more do not come to tranſcribe them. 139.

78. Mr. Abraham Wheelock, at Cambridge, 2 Febr. 1639. to Sir Simonds D'Ewes; that he found difficulties in accommodating Sir Henry & Sir John Spelman (with the Saxon Pſalter, in the Univerſitie Library) out of which place if he muſte have the MS. No. 247 (containing the works of Gildas, Nennius, Giraldus Cambrenſis, & other Hiſtorians?) it muſt be through a Note under his hand. That as to the Ælfric's Grammar he would borrow from thence he can lend it, ſince he himſelf retrieved it from out of the hands of Purloyners. That he finds it difficult to diſcharge the Saxon Lecture ſettled on him by Sir Henry Spelman; but more hard to go through with his intended edition of Bedes Eccleſ. Hiſtory. Gives his opinion about bowing before Images. That he honors the memorie of the late Cyril (Lucaris Patriarch of) Conſtantinople; yet will not excuſe him and all that Church, for ſenſeleſſe Ceremonies. 141.

79. Mr. Abraham Wheelocke at Cambridge, 9 Febr. 1639. to Sir Simonds D'Ewes: ſhewing that many places in the Saxon books, teach doctrines oppoſite to thoſe of the Church of Rome. Gives a place out of one of the Saxon Homilies explaining the Decalogue, concerning the keeping holy the Sabbath day (perhaps he might then reflect upon the Book of Sports) And complains of the reviving of old hereſies. 143.

80. Mr. Richard D'Ewes, at London, 14 Febr. 1639. to Sir Simonds, concerning the Book which Monſr. du Cheſne has ſent him. 145.

81.—Thomas D'Oyley at Wickin, 6 Febr. 1639. to Sir Simonds D'Ewes, deſiring a tranſcript of the Inquiſition taken after the death of his grandfather Mr. Robert Aſhfeild. 146.

82. Mr. William Dugdale Blanch-Lyon, at London, 27 Febr. 1639. to Sir Simonds D'Ewes, concerning the borrowing & reſtoring of divers old books & writings. That Sir Henry Spelman having given him a Saxon Pſalter (lately printed) he would ſpend ſome time in the ſtudie of that Language. Is glad that Sir Simonds is inclined to print his Saxon Dictionary, with the Engliſh, which bears so much consonancy to it. And promises to send him the Match of Basset with Arderne. Also, that Sir William le Neve, desires him to send him what Notices he can of the familie of Cavendish. 148.

Num. 374.

83. Part of a Letter of Mr. Abraham Wheelocke, to Arch-bishop Usher? concerning a place in the MS. History of Joannes Tinemuthensis in Bennet-College Library, about the Children of K. Edgar. Mr. Wheelock gives the place, as desired; with his Opinion thereof. 150.

84. Part of a Letter from Sir William Dugdale to Sir Simonds D'Ewes shewing how glad he is in that Sir Simonds has gotten so good materials for his book of Coines, which he hopes will come out, after he shall have printed the Saxon Lexicon, & Saxon Laws. Codex Chartaceus et tenuis, in 4to, a D. Petro le Neve' cum alijs redemptus; in quo habentur, Annotationes in eam partem Itinerarij Antonini quæ ad Brittanniam pertinet. f. per Henricum Talbotum, temp. Henr. VIII. Cujus prima pars videtur ſcripta manu doctiſſimi viri Joannis Joſſelini.

398.

A Book in 4to, (bought of Mr. le Neve) formerly belonging to Sir Chriſtopher Hatton Lord Chancellor of England, and ſo much eſteemed by him, as that he wrote his name therein at both ends; and alſo at both ends without, on the Cover, with the following words under that at the beginning,

"Divers Orations and Speaches of the Lord Keeper," i. e. of Sir Nicholas Bacon. they are,

1. An Oration made by the L. Keeper to the Queenes Majeſtie in her Gallerie at Weſtminſter, exhorting her to Mariage. 1.

2. An Anſwere gyven by the ſaide L. Keeper in the Q. Preſence, to the Lord Mayor when he was preſented. 3.

3. A Speache vſed by the ſaide Lord Keeper to a Serjeant at Lawe called to be a Judge. ibid.

4. The Effect of the Speaches vſed by the ſaid Lord-Keeper vnto the Q. Majeſtie at ſuche tyme as her Highnes firſt caulled him to ſerve. 3. b.

5. A Speache vſed by the ſaid Lord-Keeper amonge the Lordes of the Starre Chamber, 1586. 4.

This Speech is upon matter of Religion; and, as I believe, ſtrikes cloſe to Edmund Grindall Arch-biſhop of Canterbury, who was under the Queen's diſpleaſure. And therefore I take the date in the Title above, to be a miſtake; as there ſeems to be another in the Text itſelf, where (as I think) 3 Speeches are hudled together, as if they were but one. But as to this, the preſent Copie is not alone in the fault; I having obſerved the ſame, in ſome other books.

Num. 398.

6. Sir Nicholas Bacon's Speech in the Houſe of Lords, ſhewing her Majeſties approbation of the Commons choice of Sir Thomas Gargrave to be their Speaker. A. D. 1588. 7. lin. 17.

23. Two fragments of the Life of a French Prieſt, whoſe opinions (as it ſeems) approached towards thoſe of the Proteſtants. He lived A. D. 1500. 64.

An Imperfect Tract containing divers Letters of State, viz.

24. Letter to Cardinal Wolſey, written from France by Dr. Taylor Maſter of the Rolls Ambaſſador to the French King; & Stephen Gardiner & Edward Fox the Kings Ambaſſadors to Rome, in their way thither. It wants the former part. What remains ſhews the French Kings good diſpoſition towards the Pope, & K. Henry VIII. and his reſolution to take (by way of repriſal) as many Ships as he could from the Emperors ſubjects: delivering to the Engliſh what goods of theirs ſhould be found therein. 68.

25. Letter of Stephen Gardyner, & Edward Fox to Cardinal Wolſey; ſhewing how well they had been entertained by Dr. Taylor, & by Dr. Clerke Deane of Welles. And deſire farther Inſtructions, in caſe the French Kings promyſe to be made to the Pope, ſhould be different from that which they were carrying from King Henry. 68. b.

26. Letter of the ſame to King Henry VIII. ſhewing the honourable entertainment they mett with at Genoa, & Lucca, in their way to the Pope. 70.

27. Letter of the ſame to Cardinal Wolſey; giving the reaſon why they had not as yet had an Audience of the Pope, though offered to them; and giving an honourable character & teſtimony of Mr. Gregorye, i. e. Sir Gregory de Caſſalis, to whom they were to diſcover the ſecrets of their Commiſſion, and whom they think better able to ſerve his Majeſtie with the Pope, than any other perſon. 71.

28. Letter of the ſame to Cardinal Wolſey: giving a doleful account of their Arrival at Orvieto where the Pope reſided, as in liberty, though his return to Rome was ſhut up by thoſe of Viterbo, who took part with the Spaniards againſt him: They deſcribe the dearth, & peſtilent Air of that old & ruinous City. As alſo the ruinous Palace wherein the Pope & his few ſervants were lodged; affirming that the furniture of the Pope's Bedchamber there, bed & all, was not worth twenty nobles. 72.

29. Letter of the ſame to K. Henry VIII. ſhewing that they would write a large account of their Proceedings with the Pope, in cyfre, to the Cardinal; that Dr. Fox would ſoon return with his Diſpatches (i. e. the Commiſſion for trying the cauſe of Matrimony, between his Majeſtie & Q. Catherine) They much commend Sir Gregory de Caſſalis his Majeſties Orator to the Pope, & affirm that by his great credit with Pope & Cardinals, no man is ſo able to ſerve his Majeſtie there, as he. 73. b.

30. A long Letter, written to Cardinal Wolſey, by Sir Gregory de Caſſalis, Dr. Gardiner, & Dr. Fox, the Kings Ambaſſadors to the Pope, at Orvieto. Shewing at length, all the Communication they had with his Holineſs, & ſeveral Cardinals, at divers times. That the Pope & the ſaid Cardinalls own the great obligations they have received from his Majeſty, & particularly that of their liberty: but being yet in fear of the Emperor, and ſince the war of Naples between French & Spaniard is not brought to a concluſion, they make many difficulties of granting ſuch a Commiſſion for trying the Kings great Cauſe in England, as was now deſired, upon pretence of its being contrary to the ſtyle now uſed in that Court. That the Pope being ſhewed the Book written by the King againſt the legality of his Marriage (inſcribed to Cardinal Wolſey, and which had been communicated to the Biſhops, who likewiſe had given their opinion of it) ſeemed reſolved to read it over. That they had certified him, that the Queen had ſhewed her ſelf content to ſtand to the Judgement of the Church in this important affair. That they have hope of getting a Commiſſion, according to their Inſtructions for Redemption of the Firſt Fruits, with which project the Pope ſeemed much pleaſed; as he did with the Cardinals & founding & building of Chriſt-church in Oxford, as to the ſtate of which he made particular Inquiry. That they had procured his Holineſs to ſhew his minde to the Cardinal Sanctorum Quatuor, for degradation of Prieſts, &c. 75.

31. Letter of Dr. Stephen Gardiner & Sir Gregory de Caſſalis to Cardinal Wolſey, ſhewing at length the Diſputes they had with the Pope & Cardinals, concerning the ſpecial Commiſſion for trying the King's marriage; which was at laſt utterly refuſed. How the Pope & the ſaid Cardinals prevaricated about the general Commiſſion, which when obtained at laſt, was not entirely according to their mind. That Gardiner would go to Rome to confer with Cardinal Campegius, who was deſired to be ſent as Legate into England to try the Cauſe; and thinks that beſides him, there is no other Cardinal meet to be ſent. That as to the Canonization of K. Henry the Sixth, the Pope is willing to diſpatch it with all ſpeed, after that the Arch Bp. of Canterbury & Biſhop of Wincheſter (Richard Foxe) who have examined the matter in partibus ſhall have ſent the proceſs thither, as their Commiſſion required. That as to the Pardon to be granted to Windſor-College, they can do nothing at preſent, for want of the Name of that College, & how it is incorporate. That as to the Cardinals College of Chriſt-Church, the Pope will do all that can be reaſonably deſired. dat. at Orvieto. 92. b.

32. Letter of the ſame to Cardinal Wolſey, concerning the ſtreights the Pope finds himſelf in between the Emperor & the French King. That the French have not been ſo good as their word, in cauſing (by concert with the King of England) the Venetians to reſtore the Cities taken from his Holineſs. And they would have him declare himſelf a member of the League againſt the Emperor, & to proceed forthwith to deprive him both of the Empire & of the Kingdom of Naples. Wherein, the Pope thinks many precautions ought to be uſed. That he throws himſelf upon King Henry's protection, and will ſend a Nuncio into England, as ſoon as he ſhall know who, or what ſort of perſon will be acceptable. 101.

33. Letter of Dr. Edward Foxe, to Dr. Stephen Gardiner, & Sir Gregory de Caſſalis; ſhewing the audience he had of the King at his return, in Mrs. Anne Boleyns chamber, & how much he & ſhe were rejoyced at the good ſucceſs in procuring the Commiſſion and Diſpenſation from the Pope. That Cardinal Wolſey was the ſame. But ſtill deſired that they would ſollicit the Pope for a Commiſſion Decretal, in this Cauſe, which ſhould not be ſeen but in caſe of neceſſity; to which ſollicitations the King would have them add certain threatening expreſſions to the Pope, if they could not get it by fair words. The Cardinal directs Gardiner to conſult the moſt learned men, & practiſed lawyers, upon certain points in this Cauſe, touching the methods which the Queen might, or would guide her ſelf by; and as to the guiding of his own Conſcience & Judgement. For though like a grateful man, he owned to his Majeſtie the great benefits he had received of him; yet he declared that he would rather incurre his high Indignation, & loſe his life than do any thing in this Cauſe otherwyſe than as Juſtice requireth. 103.

Sum of the Account given of the MS. 432. by Mr. Thomas O Sullevane a very learned Gentleman, & the beſt ſkilled in the Iriſh Antiquities of any man I ever knew. Who ſaith, that

The work is an antient Tranſcript of two Tracts, whoſe text is ſo very antient as to be coeval with the times they relate to, and not now to be thoroughly underſtood but by ſuch (if there be now any ſuch) as have made the old muncipal Laws of Ireland their ſtudy. And that the Comments are now grown ſo obſcured by age and time, as to need other Comments to explain themſelves. However, he can find herein,

1. The Trial of Eua brother to Legarius chief King of Ireland, for the murder of Orane chariot-driver to St. Patric, before Dubhthac the Kings chief Bard, and the ſentence paſſed thereupon; about A. D. 430.

2. The Great Sanction, New Law, or Conſtitution of Nine, made in favour of Chriſtianity in Ireland, A. D. 439. by the three Kings Loere or Legarius; Core, & Feris or Fergus; three Biſhops, Patric, Corneach, & Benene or Benignus; and three Sages, Dubhthach, Daire, and Roſſa.
